THE 1961 YEARBOOK encloses many remembrances never to be forgotten. This book will keep alive the feelings that were aroused throughout the school year.

THE 1961

LATROBEAN

FOREWORD

In September of 1960 freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors entered the halls of Latrobe High School. The freshmen came with an atmosphere of expectation enveloping them. Students from the three other classes also shared a medium of anticipation. Throughout the year these pupils attained achievement in class, in extra-curricular activities and in sporting events.

Seniors puzzled the solution of world difficulties in their Problems of Democracy classes. Pounding out 60 words a minute on their machines was an achievement for junior typists. By reading the book, "The Tale of Two Cities," sophomores became familiar with the life of Charles Dickens. Freshmen were introduced to the history of Pennsylvania in Civics classes.

Every pupil hoped to attain honor roll grades. However, the extra-curricular activities of dramatics, forensics, clubs and sports also gained student attention. Freshmen had their first opportunity to display individual acting abilities by participating in the All Class play. Other students were engaged in work and play committees. The eleventh and twelfth graders presented the Junior and Senior Class plays, respectively, during the second semester.

Two representatives from each class delivered speeches on the topic of the "New Frontier" during the finals of the annual Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. A school winner and an individual winner from each class were chosen. Seniors wrote about subjects from atomic weapons to labor unions to segregation in their speeches for the Rotary Oratorical Contest.

Participation in the division of the of the Women's Club Contest requires a student to memorize a poem, a declamation of a noted personality or a selection from Shakespeare. Pupils from all classes were eligible to enter these divisions. Students engaged in competition for forensics developed speaking qualities useful to them in their future careers.

Forming a long line and remembering the correct construction of words were the requirements for the homeroom spelling bee eliminations. Winners came in contact with more difficult competition until only eight finalists remained. A spell-down in assembly resulted in the final winner of the school contest.

From the first football game, students' interest in sports gained momentum. Loud cheers resounded from the student section at the athletic field. With the conclusion of football season, basketball games and wrestling matches were conducted in the gym. With the ringing of a buzzer, students streamed onto the floor. Each month produced more constructive extra-curricular activities for pupils.

ADMINISTRATION

Together with the co-operation of the school board, Mr. David A. Snyder, superintendent of La-trobe public schools, strived to improve the local system of education.

Mr. Snyder's daily tasks included the supervision of local, elementary and secondary grades and making decisions for the welfare of the community. As a result of effort and determination on the part of the administration, this school year has been most successful.

Directors Offer Helpful Guidance To Aid Teachers, Students, Visitors

With the aid of his capable staff, Principal Robert M. Crawford led another successful year at Latrobe High School.

Mr. Crawford gave references of students for available jobs by relating their scholastic attainment and extra-curricular activities, approved assemblies and supervised the school curriculum.

Another valuable administrator was the Assistant Principal William E. Yates. With the aid of Miss Barbara Kuhns, he performed the tasks of keeping state attendance records, checking on absentees regularly, guiding the scheduling programs and making out schedules during the summer months.

Along with their usual responsibilities, Mr. Crawford and Mr. Yates combined their forces to make the term more enjoyable for the students and faculty.

PRINCIPAL ROBERT Crawford's chief objective is the making of a successful school year.

SUPERVISING SCHOOL functions, Mr. William E. Yates performs such tasks as clarifying attendance records.

MISS BARBARA Kuhn and Mrs. Betsy Tillman compile schedules, type reports and keep students' permanent record cards in order.

MISS GRACE Schrack aids in completing the administrative duties during the year.

KEEPING THE school records up to date is the responsibility of Miss Hedi McFeaters.

MISS RUTH HIMLER serves the school board while working at the administration building.

FACULTY

In addition to their roles as instructors, the members of the Latrobe High School faculty conducted extra-curricular activities supporting the policy, to develop the whole person.

Teaching subjects concerning the languages, mathematics and science influence the formation of organizations connected with them. The teachers of such subjects offered their time and experience in the field to inspire students to seek for their knowledge.

Through such organizations as the publications and advertising groups, the service organizations, in athletics, through musical groups, plays and assemblies teachers gave of their time to educate students in areas beyond the confines of the classroom.

Mr. Robert Luxner aided students in solving problems in General and Business Mathematics classes. He also participated on the Prom Committee to plan the decorations.

Having completed his initial year as a member of the faculty, Mr. James Rowles conducted Basic and Business Mathematics classes and Algebra I classes. Supplementary to his regular activities, Mr. Rowles was an assistant football coach.

Assistant football coach Mr. George Fabry tutored students in Spanish I and freshman Civics classes. Aside from these duties Mr. Fabry served on the Guidance Committee.

Constituting the History Department, eight teachers intensified the knowledge of students in social science class with the governmental systems and cultural backgrounds of these United States and world countries.

Problems of Democracy instructor Mr. James R. Beatty impressed on the minds of senior students problems confronting our government today. Mr. Beatty advised the Student Council, the National Honor Society and was in charge of the annual art show. Mr. Charles Findley conducted Problems of Democracy and Guidance I, II classes. Throughout the year adjunct to his curricular duties, Mr. Findley performed the duties of head football coach and also the balcony supervisor. American History teacher Mr. George Rise heightened the knowledge of junior students concerning the history of our country.

Mr. John Monchak guided students in American History classes and General Science. Apart from these class room duties, Mr. Monchak coached the junior varsity squad and was assistant coach to the varsity team. Tutoring students in American History and World History classes was Mr. Wiley Hartman. He also acted as co-adviser to the cheer-leading squad.

Adviser of the annual Ruth Robb debates, Mrs. Eleanor Gadd familiarized sophomore students enrolled in World History classes with both ancient and modern government systems and peoples. Mrs. Gadd also assisted with moving-up day exercises.

Mr. Creed Westfall acquainted freshman students with operation of our government on both the local and the national levels during Civics classes. Mr. Westfall also coached the wrestling squad as part of his exterior duties.

Nine members of the faculty of Latrobe High School comprised the English Department. They instructed students in the fundamentals of English grammar and proper speaking and writing habits.

Miss Irene Mertz instructed students studying English IV and coached the eight senior oration finalists. Miss Mertz was also in charge of the speakers for the commencement exercises.

Teaching the English III and IV classes, Miss Martha Osborne also acted as adviser to the Senior Class. Miss Osborne coached the Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contest and served as a member of the Prom Committee. Mrs. Patricia Findley substitute for Mr. Michael Rizzo, instructed Trade English I, II, III, IV students the first semester. During the second semester Mrs. Findley replaced Mrs. Norma Calhoun as English II instructor. Mr. James Liddle took the place of Mrs. Findley.

Acting as adviser for the publication of the High Post and Latrobean, Mr. William Couchenour taught English III and instructed students interested in Journalism I and II. He was also a member of the Guidance Committee. Mr. Harry Craig enlightened English II and III students with a knowledge of literature, grammar and speaking and writing ability. Mr. Craig, serving as head of the Dramatics Department, was faculty adviser for the Junior, Senior and All-Class plays. The assistant coach of football and track, Mr. William West taught English I and II to the students of freshmen and sophomore classes.

The Science Department was an important branch of Latrobe High's curriculum. This section trained the enrolled students in biology, physics, general science and chemistry. By conducting an educational science fair, this division furthered the interests of these pupils.

Miss Catherine Netzlof enlightened students in the field of physics and physical science. By doing so she conducted laboratory periods held on Tuesday and Thursday every week. Miss Netzlof also sponsored the Ushers' Club and aided with the commencement day activities.

Along with his activities of being the Junior Class adviser, Mr. Harold Bitner endeavored to teach chemistry to Latrobe High pupils. During these daily periods he supervised many interesting laboratory periods to those scientific learners.

Sponsor of the Biology Club was Miss Virginia Daniels, a faculty member of the guidance committee. Miss Daniels taught Biology as well as serving as Sophomore Class adviser. Giving enrolled students instructions in the business field and office work were the five faculty members who directed the Commercial Department. In this division typing, shorthand and other secretarial subjects were taught.

Adviser to the Future Teachers of America and the Commercial Club was Miss Florence Gill, who taught Typing I, Shorthand I, and Writing and Spelling. In addition to these tasks, she was in charge of the Office Practice Class. Mr. Mitchell Barron imparted knowledge to students in Sales, Business Math and Junior Business Training. Mr. Barron assisted with the Junior-Senior Prom Committee plans.

Miss Blanche Quick, a faculty member at Latrobe High, added to her activities with the Junior-Senior Prom Committee and commencement activities. She instructed Shorthand II, Typing I and Commercial Arithmetic. In addition, Miss Quick helped to advise the Commercial Club. Mr. Robert Cook instructed Bookkeeping I and II. Besides, he was in charge of the Fire Patrol and coached the Latrobe High Golf Team. Mr. Cook sponsored the Dixieland Band and was the activities treasurer.

Miss Margaret Smith co-advised the cheerleading squad. As well as serving on the Junior-Senior Prom Committee, Miss Smith instructed Typing I, Commercial Law, Geography and Shorthand I and II.

Girls who plan to start homes and get married after graduation took the important Home Economics Course. Instructors taught these pupils family relations, cooking and other domestic subjects. Daily classes were held for these pupils all for this purpose. Being in charge of the Home Economics Department, Mrs. Katherine Stumbaugh instructed Related Arts and Homemaking IV classes. Helping on the Junior-Senior Prom Committee was another of her services.

MEDICS

With persevering efforts, nine doctors and one nurse attempted to safeguard the physical health of the entire student body by administering physical examinations.

Dr. J. Wiley Hartman, head school physician, directed the physicals. His assistants included Dr. Gerald Huber, Dr. F. Clay Gibson, Dr. G. F. Nealon, Dr. Walter Berberich, Dr. Paul Mankovich, Dr. Raymond Sarver and Dr. Thomas Sprock. Dr. M. A. Showalter supervised the dental examinations for this year.

Freshmen and juniors received physical examinations during the morning sessions of the first semester of the year. Doctors administered the check-ups at the school clinic in the Second Ward School. This school is the location for physical examinations in the Latrobe district. Mrs. Florence Young, the nurse for Latrobe schools, aided the doctors. Mrs. Young organized the schedule for the students' physicals. Assistant principal William Yates supervised the sending of the pupils to the clinic.

During the examinations, the heart, chest, feet and blood pressure were checked by the doctors. Mrs. Young administered the eye and ear tests of the students. The audiometer was the instrument used in determining hearing impairments.

Following the examinations of all ninth and eleventh graders, parents received notification of any physical defects found. The school nurse suggested that the students have impairments checked by their family physicians or eye doctors. Thus the examinations gave an opportunity for students to learn about and correct physical defects.

DOCTORS J. WILEY Hartman, Gerald N. Huber, Thomas M. Sprock and Ray Sarver aid in the process of administering annual physical examinations.

HEALTH ROOM attendants Susan Riley and Mary Ann Stepanic offer medical aid to student Patrick Salandro.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Young, the health room, with eight girls as attendants, functioned successfully throughout the school year. The primary reason for the health room was to aid students becoming ill in their classes. The health room has provided this convenience to pupils for many years.

Girls serving as attendants were usually anticipating future work in a nursing career. These students received valuable information to aid them in their future occupations. Girls serving in the capacity of attendants gave their services voluntarily. Marceline Butala, Sue Riley, Linda Droske and Sandra Erb were in charge of the health room during the morning sessions. Performing the duties in the afternoon were Margaret Stouffer, Judith Byers and Mary Ann Stepanic.

In the performing of their duties the girls bandaged cuts and bruises. They applied liniment for the treatment of mild burns and other inflammations. A cot in the health room enabled ill students to rest. The girls, however, were not permitted to administer internal medication.

Besides assisting with the physical examinations, Mrs. Young carried out other duties in her capacity as the Latrobe district school nurse. She performed services for the elementary schools as well as the high school. Health room attendants received information pertaining to medical care from her.

Visiting the high school often throughout the school year, Mrs. Young counseled students concerning physical impairments. Her advice was centered on diseases such as chronic rashes, contagious ailments, allergies and other minor infirmities. Aiding in the chest x-rays for the Latrobe public schools was also under the supervision of Mrs. Young.

Students Work Diligently To Obtain Knowledge By Faculty In Classes

UNDERCLASSMEN discuss with Mr. George Klim, Latrobe High's art instructor, the proper perspective in drawing. "What amazing things you can create!" exclaims Cynthia Silvis.

Latrobe High's curriculum included six courses of study from which students could select the one to prepare for their future. To give pupils the best education in subject fields that will aid them was the primary objective of the classroom instruction.

Regardless of the year in school all students were subject to English. This course found pupils recalling many experiences of the past, speaking about current events, reading world literature and writing sentences, paragraphs, or compositions in the classroom procedure.

Taking the spotlight in the senior class were orations, while all classes shared in the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. The Woman's Club Contest and several essay contests were also conducted through the English classes. Sophomores wrote their autobiographies as the main undertaking of the year, while all classes enjoyed writing short stories, plays, poems, and essays. These groups studied such classics as modern poetry, short stories, Browning's poetry and several of Shakespeare's plays and essays by English and American writers.

Among the many subjects were four distinct history courses. The background, government and some of the other geographical facts of the state of Pennsylvania were studied by the freshmen in Civic classes. Sophomores learned more of the history of the early world and important information about the founding of the nation during their study of World History.

In the eleventh grade, juniors strove to learn in American History class about the past of the country in which we are now living. Problems of Democracy proved interesting to the seniors as they learned more about the government of the United States. Included in each of these studies were many activities. Projects, such as maps, drawings, buildings and interesting collections, were exhibited by many of the students.

Basic material was provided in general science class for those students planning to continue in this field. Physics and chemistry proved exciting during laboratory experiments performed by the students themselves. Biology students shared tense moments as each of the class members worked with microscopes. These students also completed the annual requirement of making projects for display.

Throughout the year many students spent hours contemplating the difficult problems which they encountered in business mathematics, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. Those enrolled in the commercial course worked diligently to perfect their shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping skills to prepare for their future secretarial work.

Students possessing speaking ability displayed their talents in the four annual forensic contests.

Judith Cardelli won first prize in the Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Rotary Club. Her oration was entitled "An American Paradise." Placing second was Andrew DelSordo whose speech was "The Road Ahead." Kathie Green captured third place with her speech, "Do You Plead Guilty?" David Tranquilla received honorable mention for his oration, "What So Proudly We Hail."

This year's winners of the Ruth Robb Debate were Joseph Doherty and William Lemmon. They represented the negative team. This topic was "Resolved: That the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." The opposing affirmative team was Thomas Haswell and Fred Fletcher.

"New Frontiers" was the topic of discussion in the annual Kiawns Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. The grand prize was awarded to Robert Pochet, junior, for his presentation. Winners in each class were Mary Ann Konkoly, senior; Russell Walker, sophomore, and Virginia Dovey, freshman. Other semi-finalist participants in the contest were Kathleen Laposky, Sandra Baumann, Thomas Haswell and Judith Givens.

In reference to the whirl of sewing machines, students enrolled in the homemaking course learned the basic elements of both cooking and sewing. Such activities as the annual Fashion Show and other displays of this type provided a means for the girls to exhibit their work. Meal planning, table manners and the correct usage of foods were the bases of study for those girls who completed the semester in cooking classes. These activities and studies prepared the students for their work as future homemakers.

The sparks from a machine were a common sight to those boys in vocational training. All those in the trade course took two years of general shop. The next four semesters, each student worked in one of four specialized fields.

Electric, drafting, wood and machine were the specific training shops. The woodworkers made such products as bookcases, end tables, desks and coffee tables. Those in the machine shop were taught the proper use of such equipment as shapers, tools, cutters, grinders and saws. In many cases, these students were able to fulfill many odd jobs around the school. Milling machines, armatures, blueprinting machines and electric saws helped the members in preparing for jobs as members of industrial crews.

To create more interest in this field the local Kiwanis Club sponsored a competitive contest in which students submitted projects prepared by them in the shop classes. The industrial course provided a foundation for future employment as efficient workers in many different types of fields and careers.

Each of the extra-curricular activities had a purpose and aided the student body by publicizing school events and bringing entertainment to all.

Each Year Students Display Ambition, Determination, Ability In Classroom

During the year the trophy case was used as a means of display for the many efforts of the students. Several times during the year, handmade jewelry and clothing ensembles were displayed by the homemaking classes and related art students. Latin, Spanish, and French students also displayed projects as oil paintings, the Roman dress, drawings and collections. Not only the regular assignments of classes were exhibited but when extra work was completed by students it was also placed in the trophy case.

Although the projects of the shops were generally too large to be displayed in the trophy case, many awards were won by the trade members for their outstanding work done in the course. In shop classes the boys produced finished products as automobile accessories and different types of motors. Here they received an education that will be profitable to them after graduation.

In addition to the courses of endeavor, College Preparatory A and C, Commercial, General, Homemaking, and Trade many students challenged elective subjects as music theory, journalism, broadcasting, art, chorus, and band which brought out their undeveloped talents. In these activities the participants had an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to go beyond their regular classwork.

Whether it be a whirl of sewing machines, a clicking of a typewriter, tongue-twisting Spanish verbs, or the sparks from a machine, all of these illustrate the many courses of study open to the students of Latrobe High.

THE SENIORS

Foundations In Scholastic Endeavor

Mold Futures Of Youthful Citizens

Thomas Bleehash was elected president of the Senior Class; James Vicente, vice-president; Michelle Roof, secretary; Carolyn Meininger, treasurer, and Regina Bulebush, Student Council representative.

In reflecting upon memories from their final year, seniors remembered the day their class rings arrived. Small groups assembled in the corridors. "I'll wear it forever," was the comment of one excited senior.

The seniors exhibited exceptional ability in public speaking. Members of the graduating class entered the Woman's Club Contest, Kiwanis Club Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, orations and the Ruth Robb debates. The experience and fun gained from these endeavors provided enjoyment for all.

Musical presentations claimed the interest of many students. Seniors served in the band, orchestra, Girls' Chorus II, Boys' Chorus II and Mixed Chorus. While the band marched at the football games, the majorettes, which included six seniors, led them with their highstepping dance techniques. Providing melodious harmony to the opening exercises of the assemblies was the Octet with its senior members.

Four years have passed since the class of 1961 entered the halls of Latrobe High. As freshmen, these students were eager and ready to commence years of accomplishment and achievements.

They carried through with these ideas in their sophomore, junior and senior years. Twelfth graders now remember the night work preparations, the moments of tension before semester examinations and countless humorous incidents.

Extra-Curricular Activities Develop Opportunity To Display Talents

For their laudable efforts in sporting events, senior boys received recognition. Those engaged in track, varsity football, basketball, wrestling, cross-country, tennis and golf accepted letters for their accomplishments. After viewing a football game this year one enthusiastic spectator remarked, "The boys exhibited teamwork and spirit. They were really great."

School dances won the interest of seniors, who attended these events in large numbers. In the annual shirt frolic of the year, the Sadie Hawkins, the girls asked the boys. Climaxing the year was the Junior-Senior prom and post-prom party. At this gala affair girls danced in chiffon dresses to dreamy music. The juniors hosted the seniors at this event.

Dramatically gifted seniors had an opportunity to display their talents in assemblies and theatrical presentations. Twelfth graders presented the annual Problems of Democracy Christmas play in assembly for the enjoyment of the entire student body. The play this year was the old classic, "A Christmas Carol." Seniors also held leading roles in the All Class play and Senior Class play. In the final dramatic production of the year, the Class of 1961 presented a humorous skit on Moving-up day.

According to tradition, each class wears its respective colors on Moving-up day. Blue and white were those chosen by the Senior Class with a white carnation as the class flower. In accordance with their own ideas, seniors selected as their motto, "Faith is Power." This proverb was placed on a white background with a blue border for the senior flag.

EXHIBITING TALENT with the clarinet, Kevin Downs impresses other musical aspirants Denise Zappone and Janet Stickel.

Four years of hurrying to home room and classes, rushing to finish notebooks and projects on time, memorizing talks and doing numerous assignments nightly have now terminated for the graduating class of 1961 at Latrobe High School.

English IV was a mixture of classics, grammar and composition—all are vital necessities to the students planning to enter college in the fall and others who will enter many fields of business. Composition occupied many hours for it included the writing of paragraphs, essays, an oration and a research theme. The time spent by many on their oration was rewarded by being chosen for the preliminaries, which for some lead to finals.

For some seniors the speaking of Spanish and French proved interesting. In these classes they learned by means of tapes, movies, records and textbooks the correct pronunciation and grammar of both languages.

College-bound students also studied Problems of Democracy, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Physics and Biology.

The business classes of Salesmanship, Commercial Law, Commercial Geography, Office Practice and Business Math were the polishing courses the commercial students planning to enter the field for their life work.

The objective of the homemaking classes was to teach the senior girls how to turn out a fine, balanced meal and a homemade wardrobe that would help in the future when the girls set up housekeeping. Trade classes were also taught trades that would now and in the future earn their living.

Students having the abilities and interest for writing and public speaking enjoyed the extra courses of journalism and broadcasting. In Journalism II class seniors learned from editing the school yearbook and newspaper, the merits of leadership and responsibility as well as the basis of newspaper work. The organization of the bi-weekly broadcasts and the Christmas Play were the objectives of class work in Broadcasting II.

Finally were the senior health and gym classes. The basic study in health was first aid. Volleyball, basketball and exercises were the gym class activities.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Senior Class Selects Top Students

With Initiative, Ambitious Traits

Prominent seniors displaying traits for future citizenship and to represent the aims of student graduates were voted outstanding in their respective fields by fellow classmates.

ANDREW DeLSORDO distinguished himself in the field of scholarship by directing the activities of the National Honor Society, participating in Science Night and as a member of the Modern Language Club. Leadership was characteristic of DAVID TRANQUILLA. Serving as captain of the tennis squad, president of the Mu Alpha Theta and a recipient of the Harvard Book Award gained him this honor.

MARY ANN KONKOLY, Junior Guard of Honor, extemporaneous contest winner and active in class play productions, was outstanding in all phases of the business education field. Dramatics winner MARILYN EWING was engaged in three All Class plays and the Junior Class play which captured for her this award. Displaying her ability in forensics,

Talented Classmates Show Incentive To Help Students Attain Their Goals

SENIORS, CHOSEN by their classmates as capable leaders, discuss the activities of industrial training, music, journalism, athletics, forensics and homemaking.

JUDITH CARDELLI received recognition as first-place oration winner and as a declamation finalist.

Musical talent was demonstrated by JAMES VICENTE. He served as the president of the band and orchestra, attended district orchestra and was a member of the Dixieland Band and Teen Tones orchestra. Latrobean editor and president of the local chapter of Quill and Scroll, SANDRA STAHL achieved the goal as outstanding in the journalistic category. Sandra also received the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award and History Award.

Excelling in athletics was THOMAS BLEEHASH. As captain of the football team, first string on all-state, county and conference teams, back-of-the-year in Foothills and a two-year track letterman, he displayed his accomplishments to cop the laurels.

Participating in the Lions Club contest for two years and competing in the industrial classification, ADDISON ERRETT surpassed others to receive this recognition. Attaining the achievement of being named this year's Latrobe Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, JUDITH HARSELL was acclaimed as the outstanding homemaking student from the senior class.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS, college and jobs are the subjects of discussion as the outstanding seniors state their future plans after graduation.

JUNIORS

Junior Leaders Procure Knowledge By Bearing School Responsibilities

the Student Council was Rose Revitsky. Mr. Harold Bitner supervised the class undertakings.

Many juniors participated in activities supplementary to their academic work. Those showing dramatic ability engaged in the Junior Class play and the All Class play, "Love is in the Air."

The Ruth Robb debate sponsored by the Women's Club, along with the extemporaneous speaking contest sponsored by the Rotary Club, provided an outlet for juniors interested in forensics.

Outstanding performances by junior boys in athletic events aided L.H.S. in accomplishing victories. The girls of the class also participated in intramural basketball and volleyball. Students displaying musical talent entered the band, orchestra and choruses. Many of them also took part in district and county festivals in the surrounding areas.

Eleventh graders were members of Broadcasting II and Journalism II. Students demonstrating worthiness were initiated into the National Honor Society and the Quill and Scroll.

Moving-up Day held an unwarranted place in the memoirs of the upcoming seniors. On this day the Senior Class president presented the Key to the Junior Class president.

Upon completing their third year in high school, the Class of 1962 prepared to assume the responsibilities attributed to the members of the Senior Class.

Directing the juniors were Gary Mueseler, president, and Bruce Robbins, vice-president. Recording the minutes of business meeting was Patricia Gapen, secretary. Mary Lou Bucciarelli attended to the financial problems. Representing the class on the capacity of secretary was Lynne Vechter while Myra Lynch was in charge of collecting annual class dues. Sophomores were represented by Michael Lechman at Student Council meetings and the office of vice-president was held by Joseph Stynchula.

SOPHOMORES

Friendship, Ability Continue To Aid In Development Of Sound Character

This class prepared for their future by adding to the knowledge they had gained in previous years. Commercial students learned more of shorthand, typing and bookkeeping while vocational students participated in industrial classes.

Sophomores displayed acting ability in the All Class Play, "Love Is In The Air." During forensic season speakers received many opportunities to fulfill their aims. They proved to be "worth their salt" in vocal music, band and orchestra.

From the clicking of chalk on blackboards in Algebra II classes to the murmur of voices studying Julius Caesar in Latin II rooms sophomores displayed a high level of intelligence. The list of honor and high honor students included a large majority of pupils not to mention the names on perfect attendance.

Extra-curricular activities were also participated in by the Sophomore Class. At every gathering the students could be seen making get-togethers a success and taking advantages of all opportunities which pass to make their futures more complete.

At the conclusion of another year of hard work the Sophomore Class plan their duties as upper classmen, not forgetting pleasant memories which have come prior to this high point in their high school career.

With George Rise as presiding officer the graduating class of 1963 reached new heights. Filling of president was David Downs with Logan Harr assisting in the duties of vice-president.

The ninth grades named Joyce Frederick as secretary. Kathleen Steele, treasurer, collected class dues. Wesley McFeaters represented the class as the Student Council Representative. Mr. William Franks acted as adviser to the freshman students.

In addition to many hours spent in class, the freshmen participated in extra-curricular activities and sports. Beginning in the fall, the freshman dance offered to the students an opportunity to become acquainted with all classmates. The first year high school students were members of band and orchestra. Others composed the membership of Girls' and Boys' Choruses.

Dramatically-minded freshmen demonstrated their skill in acting by obtaining roles in the All Class play, "Love Is In The Air." Newcomers found many opportunities for accomplishments during the forensic season. Ninth graders participated in debates, poetry, Shakespeare readings and declamations. Two students represented the Freshman Class in the finals of the extemporaneous speaking contest.

With the accomplishments of their first year behind them, the freshmen anticipate three more years of hard work, pleasure, extra activities, sports and friendships.

Upon reaching the conclusion of their first year of high school, the class of 1964 will always remember the first September days when classes began. These students encountered new experiences and made new friends.

Journalism Helps Encourage Many To Display Talents, Creativeness

Throughout the course of the year, members of the Journalism staff spent much time and effort toward the publication of the High Post and the Latrobean.

The many hours of writing and re-writing stories that were either too long or too short and the rushing to meet the deadline resulted in satisfaction when the writer first read his story as put in print.

Other difficulties that the writer often encountered were gathering the information and using the proverbial five w's in the lead paragraph to furnish the highlights of the story for the reader.

Those rules and regulations that a writer must know were taught to the students under the instruction of Mr. William R. Couchenour. Mr. Couchenour conducted a Journalism I class for the purpose of acquainting prospective journalists in that field.

Members of the training class were taught methods of gathering news and investigating their sources. Writing the news by certain rules of style was also essential.

Juniors of the Journalism II class prepared themselves for the field of work they wished to pursue by entering the writing staff, business or advertising department.

Throughout the course of the year, the 1960 Latrobean and High Post were recipients of many honors from scholastic competition. Among these were awards from Columbia Press Association, National Scholastic Press Association, and the Pennsylvania School Press Association.

Acting as editor-in-chief for the Latrobean was Sandra Stahl with Carol Marriott as literary editor.

Staff Associates Prepare Materials For School Newspaper, Yearbook

JUNIORS PAT Doherty and Howard Baybrook gather around as Francis Harvey, sports editor, explains the headline and story line-up to assistant Pat Szlandro.

CAST MEMBERS Pam Eslyn, John Buchan, Patricia Clarke, David Downs and Ed Reeping rehearse scene from "Love Is In The Air." In the play the children of the Curie family endeavor to arouse the love instinct in their parents.

DRAMATICS

Cast Receives Audience Recognition In Each Major Class Performance

"Lights, Camera, Action!" Nervous thespians prepared to enact their roles before the waiting audience. Everyone from star to extra received a glimpse of the world of the theater.

The dramatic season commenced with the production entitled "Love is in the Air" as the All Class play. Members of the cast and their character roles are as follows: Edward Reeping, Elmer Truitt; Patricia Clarke, Gert Truitt; Pamela Eslyn, Gladys Truitt; David Downs, Clarence Truitt; Joseph Moffa, Gramps; Paula Rudy, Maggie Truitt; John Buchan, Hugo Nogginocker; Carolyn Clemens, Jackie Summers; Howard Baybrook, Roscoe Blipp; Virginia Dovey, Poodles; Gene Paull, Banie; Ruth Gieseke, Anne Berkelbach and Mary Burns, "Three Lady Buffaloes."

The play evolved around a jet plane ride that Elmer Truitt, the father, had won in a contest. He tried to back out of the trip. The Truitt children all enjoyed their romances ranging from a girl scout wiener roast to a marriage proposal.

Overseeing the production were student directors William Potthoff and Virginia Kaczmarek.

As the curtain rose on the grease-painted faces, the eleventh grade players portrayed their respective parts in "The Inner Willy," the Junior Class play.

Footlights, Rehearsals Characterize Successful Dramatic Season Efforts

shall; Patricia Clarke, Janet Marshall, and Lynn Ann Dibert, Carol Martin.

The plot of the story is of the three domineering old aunts who have raised their nephew Wiloughby for nine years. Throughout these years, he has not had to make a decision for himself as his aunts have always done it for him.

Pamela Eslyn and Joanne Rose served as the student directors of this endeavor.

The Senior Class presented "The Ghoul Friend" as its dramatic production of the year. The cast was comprised of 20 players and two extras. David Bonaker and Elizabeth Bougher served as the student directors.

Members of the cast included: James Vicente, Dan Merrick; Frances Regula, Lolly; Linda Tornavacca, Mrs. Merrick; Joseph Moffa, Bongo; Marilyn Ewing, Daphne; Lynne Skatell, Marina; Richard Thomas, Professor Gaines; Margaret Butz, Cele Wallace; Edward Reeping, Vic Storm; Mary Burns, Mrs. Dunlap; Thomas Goldstein, Seymour; Michael Gregory, Mad Devlin; Henry Heinnickel, Mr. Spence; John Buchan, Sergeant Rollins; Denise Zappone, Bobbi; Janet Stickel, Deb; Carol Marriott, Elva; Donna Sue Sapolsky, Draculette; Donna Schirf, Graveyard Gracie; David Bonaker, Big Daddy Corpus; Poor Rollo, Wilmer Ottenberg, and the little monster, Paula Rudy.

Daphne, the superstitious maid, is the story teller at the resort. She reveals to the guests that she has seen the "monster," but everyone feels her imagination is overactive because she has been reading too many "Monster Magazines." The appearance of Marina at the lodge soaking wet and unable to recall her name seems to rekindle a hint of doubt and excitement into the guests.

Directing the production was Mr. Harry Craig, English III instructor. Assisting him were committees of business, scenery and publicity.

MEMBERS OF the cast Francis Regula, Denise Zappone and Joseph Moffa assist Lynne Skatell in memorizing her lines.

HOWARD BAYBROOK, as Willy, listens to the warning of his three maiden aunts portrayed by Margaret Shrum, Kathleen Kuhns and Lee Anne Goodman.

LEONARD CAROTA, Ruth Ann Gieseke and Michael Rizzo chat informally during a brief pause at the dress rehearsal of the Junior Class play.

RICHARD THOMAS, Thomas Goldstein, Carol Marriott, James Vicente, Marilyn Ewing, Mary Burns, Edward Reeping and Janet Stickel enact an amusing scene from the Senior Class play, "The Ghoul Friend," the concluding theatrical production.

SERVICE GROUPS

STUDENT SERVICE—By keeping watch at their posts in the corridors, the members of the Student Service functioned as guides and guards for the student body.

As their president, these volunteers chose Lawrence Messich. Teresa Gall acted as vice-president while Cheryl Cribbs served as secretary and treasurer. Diane Atkinson represented the Student Service in the Student Council. Assistant Principal William E. Yates served as faculty adviser to the organization.

Checking the locks on students' lockers, closing the doors of the stairwells and finally, turning off the lights, the guards practiced the daily tasks during their forty-minute vigil. On occasion, the members escorted visitors on tour of the building. One worker operated the Lost and Found Department, while the guards in the corridors turned in books from unlocked lockers. In general they reported any actions that did not comply to the regular system of order.

In their monthly meeting the 65 workers discussed with Mr. Yates the possibilities of making needed adjustments and improvements in school maintenance. They suggested the purchasing of such articles as lamp shades and door stoppers. The goal of these students was to aid in maintaining a well-run school.

LAWRENCE MESSICH, Teresa Gall and Gerard Murphy spy a student without a hall pass while enforcing school laws.

POSTER CLUB—Pencils, paints, rulers and imagination comprised the tools of the Poster Club members. It was their duty to publicize the activities of school organizations.

At the time of a school dance, a class play, sports events and contests, students found new posters in their homerooms and in the corridors. The mem-local department store windows to arouse community interest in the school activities.

Letters were awarded to the students who earned nine points. Each large poster merited one point. The member earned one point by designing ten smaller posters. With the accumulation of points, many amateur artists receive their letters on Awards Day.

These members chose Donna Schirl president of their organization and Kathleen Novak as vice-president. Patricia Clarke served as secretary and treasurer, while Bertha Harshell acted as Student Council representative for the club. Mr. Lloyd Johnston instructed and advised the members of this publicity organization.

HIGH POST REPRESENTATIVES—With the arrival of the latest High Post editions, the representative gathered in 118 to obtain the school paper for the students in their home rooms. At dismissal 13 times during the year the representatives passed the publication onto the eager hands of their classmates.

"Although the High Post representatives do not receive recognition by the student body, the Journalism Department appreciated their contribution in distributing the paper and yearbook as well as in representing our publications," commented Mr. William Couchenour, journalism adviser.

During the election of home room officers, students elect one person to represent them as the representative. At the end of the year came their most laborious task — carrying approximately 30 yearbooks to their homerooms.

Each representative commences his year's work by promoting the yearbook and school paper.

REBECCA FOWLER and Donna Schirl admire the techniques of Kathy Novak as she prepares a poster which appeared in the corridors advertising the Latin Skating Party. The little boy sighs, "I wish I could go."

DIANE RESNICK and Virginia Thomas collect the High Post editions to distribute to the students in their respective home rooms. William Lees, High Post representative, carefully examines the issue.

FIRE PATROL

Kneeling: Lewis, Yoder, Ayers, Bleehash.

Students Engage In Daily Jobs During Fire Drills To Guard Lives Of Others

FIRE PATROL—At the sound of the fire alarm, students and faculty members hurried from the school building as a routine drill took place. The members of the fire patrol quickly went into action and performed their assigned duties as a safety precaution in the event of a real fire.

Roy Campbell, Tom Bleehash, Robert Shrum and John Zajdel performed the duties of fire fighters by assembling at the main entrance of the auditorium, locating the fire, finding the quickest route to extinguish it and engaging in their firefighting until the Latrobe Volunteer Fire Department arrived with the necessary equipment.

Inspecting rooms and halls for lights on, checking for open windows and the presence of unauthorized persons in the building and taking charge of the exit doors used by students and faculty were the main tasks of the service group. William Smitley, David Ayers, Jack Osborne, Thomas Baybrook, and William Lewis were assigned these duties.

This indispensable organization was formed in 1948 by Robert Cook, who is still the group's adviser. "It has been a pleasant opportunity to work with such a cooperative and dependable group of boys during the past year," stated Mr. Cook.

VIRGIL HOYLE, safety patrol member, points out the proper handling and care of the "Please Stop" flag to William Schlosser before his duty begins.

LIBRARIANS — Members of the student body seeking aid in preparing a Friday oral report or having difficulty in locating a particular book or periodical turn to those who are familiar with the library and its book shelves—the librarians.

As a result of the early election of officers by the 13 members of the library staff, Kathy Green was elected president; Helen Van Norden, vice-president, and Dianne De Flavio, secretary-treasurer. Six seniors, three juniors and four sophomores composed the entire organization.

Repairing old books, swishing the dust from the publications, tidying book shelves, keeping the card catalogue up to date and checking books in and out were the main duties performed by the librarians to help lessen the duties of Miss Carol Jenkins, head librarian.

"The library provided a valuable source of supplementary information for students' class work as well as offering recreational reading on various levels. I appreciated the voluntary assistance of the student librarians, who without their service, wouldn't have made the library what it was during the past year," remarked Miss Jenkins. Business meetings were held the first Monday of the month.

SERVICE GROUPS

SAFETY PATROL—A whistle blows, cars stop and a boy holding a red flag with large white letters saying "Please Stop" walks to the center of the road and gives the signal for pedestrians to cross the street. He is a member of the Safety Patrol making it possible for people to get home sooner and safer.

With no regard for the weather, the members of this organization under the leadership of co-captain William Schlosser and Vergil Hoyle reported to their assigned posts before the bell rang.

Besides protecting and guarding against traffic hazards with dependability and promptness four times a day, the patrol boys directed parking at football games.

Members of this organization were under the supervision of Mr. Frederick Halsall, adviser, and Mr. Lloyd Johnson, assistant adviser.

"We appreciated the loyalty, efficiency and devotion that these boys displayed in all kinds of weather throughout the school year. Participation in this activity is another characteristic of citizenship within the school," stated Mr. Frederick Halsall.

The volunteer efforts and services of the Safety Patrol members are rewarded each month by a free monthly movie pass awarded to them.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Devoted Student Council Members Voluntarily Give Time To Serve Others

With the termination of another school year at Latrobe High, the Student Council's attributes provided the students with entertainment and conveniences.

President Carl Myers directed the projects undertaken by the group. The members elected Edward Markiewicz as vice-president and Jane Blank treasurer. Diane Bumar recorded minutes as secretary. Mr. James R. Beatty, faculty adviser, guided these students and acted as councilor.

Fifty students comprised the membership of the council, a major service organization. The homerooms, clubs, service groups and the individual classes made their choices of students to represent them at council sessions.

Serving refreshments to customers at the football and basketball games and wrestling matches, the members dedicated many hours of their time aiding the council to earn money for the organization's projects. Because they enjoy doing things for others, the representatives volunteered to usher at Parents' Night and to assist at Freshman and Eighth Grade Days.

Who decorated the auditorium with festive Christmas ornaments? Why, of course, it was the Student Council! This year they used lanterns and greens to produce the Christmas spirit.

DISCUSSING PLANS for activities are officers of the Student Council including, Carl Myers, president; Edward Markiewicz, vice-president; Diane Bumar, secretary, and Jane Blank, treasurer.

STUDENT COUNCIL members instruct inquiring parents as to the proper direction of rooms for teacher-parent interviews during Parents' Night.

Students Clean Pictures, Decorate For Dances, Meet To Advance School

All the student body of Latrobe High School looked forward with great anticipation to the four dances in the gym that the Council organized. Among these was the annual girl-ask-boy dance, the Sadie Hawkins. Christmas Tree Ball and a spring dance highlighted the school's activities.

The Council provided an opportunity for the best spellers of the school to be recognized in the Spelling Bee held each year.

As a necessary part of everyone's school day, the Student Council members led devotions by reading the Bible and introduced speakers at every regular assembly Wednesday and Friday. The Council furnished the school with interesting programs conducted by professional entertainers at the special assemblies.

Working in the check room, the members accommodated the patrons by taking care of coats at the plays. As a refuge for misplaced articles, the "Lost and Found," attended by the representatives, collected money for the Council's activities.

Brightening the corridors of L.H.S. is the unique picture collection purchased by the Student Council. The precedent began in 1936 and has continued for 25 years. Student Council officers and Mr. Beatty selected pictures at the Carnegie Museum Art Gallery. The students then voted for the ones they preferred. This student-selected and purchased art collection is the only one of its kind.

To benefit the entire school, the Council bought a movie projector and also donated the public address system that provides unlimited conveniences.

"I believe that the Student Council is an excellent opportunity for a student to receive training in public relations and to learn the value of organization and team work," remarked Mr. Beatty.

FORENSICS

Students Gain Valuable Experience By Participation In Speaking Contest

Students possessing speaking ability displayed their talents in the four annual forensic contests held in school.

Judith Cardelli won first prize in the Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Rotary Club. Her oration was entitled "An American Paradise." Placing second was Andrew DelSordo, who's speech was "The Slave—Not His Master." Kathie Green captured third place with her speech, "Do You Plead Guilty?" David Tranquilla received honorable mention for his oration, "What So Proudly We Hail."

This year's winners of the Ruth Robb Debate were David Tranquilla and William Lemmon. They represented the negative team. This topic was "Resolved: That the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." The opposing affirmative team was Thomas Haswell and Fred Fletcher.

"New Frontiers" was the topic of discussion in the annual Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. The grand prize was awarded to Robert Pochet, junior, for his presentation. Winners in each class were Mary Ann Konkoly, senior; Russell Walker, sophomore, and Virginia Dovey, freshman. Other semi-finalist participants in the contest were Kathleen Laposky, Sandra Baumann, Thomas Haswell and Judith Givens.

FINALISTS IN this year's Rotary Oratorical Contest Judith Cardelli, Kathie Green, Andrew DelSordo, Roy Campbell, Joseph Doherty, David Tranquilla, Francis Harvey and Sandra Stahl meet to discuss their presentations, compare ideas and contemplate possible improvements to their orations.

CAMPUS SPEAKERS

In the poetry division of the twenty-fourth annual Women's Club Contest, Patricia Clarke with her presentation of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Sonnet XIV and "The Blessed Damazel," won over Monica Lopushansky, sophomore. Judith Cardelli took top honors in the declamation division with her speech, "Fire Bells in the Night" by Nathaniel Webster. Lee Anne Goodman was the other contestant in this division. With the familiar words of Act II, Scene I, and Act IV, Scene III, of "Romeo and Juliet," Marilyn Ewing captured first place in Shakespeare reading. Her opponent was Diane DeFlavio.

These contests sponsored during the month of March provide an outlet for students desiring to express opinions or further their dramatic skills. They are open to members of all classes. Students who have participated in the contests for a year or two are more apt to hold a prize winning position.

The four major contests held are sponsored by the local service organizations to promote an interest in public speaking.

THE MANY reference books and news magazines found in the library prove valuable to William Lemmon, Thomas Haswell, Joseph Doherty and Fred Fletcher in gathering material for debates.

QUILL AND SCROLL—Truth, the keynote of all endeavor, is the guiding light of those who strive for the advancement of mankind. The Quill and Scroll member, taking truth as a watchword, must fearlessly tell the truth—uncolored by his opinion, and let the world judge its value.

Initiative, Opportunity, Leadership, Loyalty, Enlightenment, Friendship and Truth were the characteristic qualities that qualified journalism students for club entrance.

Sandra Stahl and Lois Jean Goodman presided over the local chapter of the national honorary journalistic club as president and vice-president, respectively. Patricia Blank served as secretary; Carol Marriott, project chairman; Winifred Noel, program chairman.

A display in the front hall trophy case was undertaken by the project committee previous to the annual initiation ceremony, when qualified student journalists were accepted as new members of the organization. The exhibit explained the steps in publishing a yearbook and a newspaper.

To gain admission, the student must be a junior or senior, ranking in the upper third of his class. A candidate must have had published three hundred column inches of copy.

QUILL AND SCROLL officers Sandra Stahl and Lois Jean Goodman glance through the new yearbook layout.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY — Demonstrating initiative in classroom activities, holding offices in organizations and student body, showing a wholesome influence on fellow students and displaying good sportsmanship and honesty weighed heavily in the choosing of candidates for the National Honor Society.

Students Maintain High Standards Of School While Aiding Daily Activities

The officers of the society were Andrew DelSordo, president; Roy Campbell, vice-president; Marilyn Ewing, secretary, and Joseph Doherty, treasurer. Other members were David Tranquilla, Patricia Blank, Francis Harvey, William Lemmon and Eric Givens.

From the Senior Class 15 per cent of the high-standing students were eligible, while five per cent of the Junior Class qualified for admission. Members of the faculty elected the junior and senior candidates for membership.

Mr. James R. Beatty, Problems of Democracy instructor and Student Council adviser, acted as counselor to the group and supervised the initiation assembly.

The initiation ceremony is conducted in a special assembly period during which the parents of the members may attend.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA — In what field of the teaching profession should I train? What are the proper methods in conducting classroom activities? How should a misbehaved student be punished? These are some of the many questions that FTA members wanted answered.

"The FTA was organized to enable prospective teachers to explore the different aspects of the teaching field. An attempt was made to provide monthly meetings that were of value to the group and present the opportunity to determine the grade level and subject in which they might be interested in instructing," stated Miss Florence Gill, club adviser.

As a result of the election of officers early in October Winifred Noel became president; Denise Zappone, vice-president; Priscilla Hall, secretary; Marge Butz, treasurer; Yvonne Kosker, historian.

Ushers Provide Many Valuable Services At Plays, Concerts, Football Games

USHERS—"Row B—right this way, please." This was the accommodating phrase of the girls belonging to the Ushers Club. Their services were offered at the numerous scholastic, athletic and social events during the year. Twenty-five members willingly served at the plays, concerts, forensic contests and football games.

Miss Catherine Netzlof, adviser, summed up her thoughts with these words, "I feel the Ushers Club is a service organization, which depends solely on the promptness of the girls. It renders a useful service to the school and public."

Rosemary Camarote, head usher for the year, supervised the main floor. Assistant Charlotte Kikel was in charge of the balcony.

At the close of the year, any of the members who met specific qualifications received a letter on Awards' Day. The qualifications included promptness, good service rendered and not having more than two absences for each of two years of service.

In the spring of the year, girls who are interested in ushering for the next year's service signed a list. Class advisers chose from this list girls with good character and scholastic standing to replace the graduating senior members.

COMMERCIAL CLUB—The establishment of a Commercial Club provided the opportunity for students to become better acquainted with the office procedures that will be encountered.

To amplify classroom instruction in the proper office procedure was the aim and purpose of the newly organized club. Another goal for the group was to help students make the necessary adjustment from the classroom to the office.

Performing as president was Kathleen Kuhns. Mary Lou Bucciarelli acted as vice-president. Dianne DeFlavio served the group as secretary while Pamela Krinock held the office of treasurer. The duties of Student Council representative were performed by Anne Koski.

Early tasks on the organization's agenda was to compose a constitution and by-laws. After receiving the consent of the Student Council, the club was given a charter.

BROADCASTING—Every Monday and Thursday morning the familiar BCC chimes sounded in all home rooms as the Broadcasting II class brought the news to the students.

Twice weekly newscasts proved to be of great value. The broadcasters presented the latest news, sports and even advertisements to the pupils. Activities of the school used the broadcasts to announce important social and scholastic events.

Under the supervision of Miss Mary Louise McBride, math teacher, the news, script, and sports editors, head technician and production manager made these regular presentations ready. Their willing assistants were on hand to help with the endeavors.

Betsy Forsha, news editor; Paula Rudy, script editor; John Charlesworth and Richard Dailey, sports editors; Carl Myers, technician; and Francis Regula, production manager, aided by their assistants Marjorie Beaken, Sandra Nicely, Michelle Robinsky, Gertrude Stefanko, Diane DeFlavio, Mary Lou Morley, Patricia Gapen and Thomas Baybrook was this year's capable staff.

MUSIC

At Performances, Music Enthusiasts, Majorettes Show Off Their Talents

Through participation in community and school musical exhibitions, the Latrobe High School Wildcat Marching Band endeavored to bring honor and prestige to their school.

Notable among the achievements of this instrumental group under the direction of Mr. Ronald Shurie, head of the Music Department, was the attainment of an invitation to accept a position in the First Chair of America National Honorary Yearbook. This recognizes 200 superior bands in America.

Performance of the band was a highlight of the commencement exercises. In the Veterans' Day, Christmas and Halloween parades, the 102 members of the band displayed their ability in marching and musical skills. At each football game these band members manifested the spirit of each student in the half-time show.

James Vicente, president; Frank DePasquale, vice-president; Judith Cardelli, secretary, and Kevin Downs, publicity director, acted as officers of the band.

Under the supervision of Mr. Ernest Teichert, grade school music teacher, the 31 members of the high school orchestra played for assemblies and plays. Members of the orchestra included students of all classes. These students played in the Spring Concert with the band and choruses.

Serving the orchestra as officers were James Vicente, president; Priscilla Hall, vice-president; Carol Keys, secretary-treasurer, and Kevin Downs, historian.

VOCAL MUSIC

Providing students with musical training, the choruses represented a significant program in the high school curriculum.

Totaling 241 girls and boys, the chorus members represented all four grades. Music Director Ronald Shurie instructed the groups twice a week. They harmonized to popular and standard songs, while learning to follow the conductor.

With the objective of donning the black gowns and orange tie worn by members of Girls' Chorus II, the Girls' Chorus I met Monday and Tuesday. Piano accompanists were Judith Campbell and Sheryl Helfferich. These 95 freshman girls participated in an assembly and the Spring Concert.

Boys' Chorus I, comprised of 32 members, also contributed their talents to the Spring Concert and an annual assembly. The purpose of the Boys' Chorus was preparations for singing in an advanced group. Last spring, on Eighth Grade Day, they helped to orient the incoming ninth graders to the extra-curricular activities of high school by taking part in the assembly program. Harold Stover played the piano accompaniment for the group that met Tuesdays and Fridays.

Seventy-six sophomore, junior and senior girls composed Girls' Chorus II. Gathering in the auditorium Tuesdays and Thursdays, they were accompanied by the pianist, Joanne Rose. Highlighting the activities of this chorus was a trip to Aspinwall High School to participate in the annual exchange assembly. Singing through the halls of LHS, the chorus rendered Christmas carols during the yuletide season.

Composed of 38 members, Boys' Chorus II sang at the Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking contest and in an assembly. These sophomore, junior and senior boys met every Tuesday and Thursday. Myra Lynch was their accompanist during the year.

Chosen at the end of their junior year, 12 regulars and substitutes of Boys' Chorus II and Girls' Chorus II comprised the octet. At the termination of the year, Mr. Shurie held tryouts to determine its membership. This group opened every assembly by singing the hymns, "Holy Holy, Holy," and "Come Thou Almighty King." Members of the octet were Mary Ann Konkoly, Marilyn Ewing, Shirley Marcinko, Darlene Piper, Barbara King, Regina Bulebush, David Bonaker, Mike Antus, Patrick Dunlap, John Buchan, Harold Andrews and Richard Arbore.

Selected junior and senior girls from Chorus II plus the entire Boys' Chorus II, the 68 members of the mixed chorus met every Thursday. Myra Lynch was their accompanying pianist. They participated in the Christmas play and the Spring Concert.

Fourteen members of Girls' Chorus II and Boys' Chorus II were chosen to represent LHS in the County Chorus. This year it was held at St. Vincent. Many vocalists organized into smaller groups during the year.

"We hope to make Mixed Chorus the culmination of choral musical achievement at Latrobe," remarked Mr. Shurie.

STAGE CREW — "The experience of working with the boys and realizing the importance of our jobs has been a pleasure throughout the year to me," stated Ronald Harr, stage manager.

During the course of the past school year, it was the task of the stage crew members to set properties for assemblies and plays. The members of the service group also cleaned up after the productions and maintained proper settings for stage events.

With the dimming of the house lights, the All Class play, "Love is in the Air," began. The stage crew went into action executing the numerous duties necessary for a successful play.

Before the night of the play, members of the crew had the task of bringing the larger "flats" to the high school from the Fourth Ward School, where they were stored. If necessary, the "props" were painted and arranged to set the scene. After the production, the crew members cleared and cleaned the platform for the next event.

The hard-laboring team of boys worked under the direction of Ronald Harr who was appointed by Mr. William Yates, sponsor of the group. The boys were Dennis Carroll, Theodore Danko and David Peters. Also assisting these boys were junior members Charles Proden and Ronald Benford.

SANDRIA TRESSLER, Ellen Hamill, Pat Yasurek and Sandy Baumann, Readers Club officers, discuss pleasant memories they encountered while reading to patients at Latrobe Hospital.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB — As the school year ended, members of the Modern Language Club looked back over the activities of the past year with great pleasure and satisfaction. All students having Spanish or French in their curricula were eligible for membership when the group organized.

Students with similar interests were permitted to do the things they enjoyed doing as a group and this served as the aim and purpose of the club.

Reigning over the yearly Mardi Gras Costume Ball was a court consisting of a king, queen, prince, princess and beautifully attired ladies-in-waiting representing both the Junior and Senior Classes.

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Nancy Frye, consisted of approximately 150 upperclass language students.

READERS' CLUB — "The virtue of charity was practiced and enforced by every member of the Readers' Club," emphasized Miss Adeline Reeping, sponsor of the service group.

"Servire—to serve" was the guiding principle of the organization. Its yearly activities included reading to many of the younger patients at the La-trobe Hospital, as well as visiting and sending cards to the elders without family or friends.

In addition to the hour and thirty minutes spent at the hospital each Saturday morning, the members put forth more time in helping with the muscular dystrophy drive and the collecting of presents for needy children during the Christmas season.

Karen Massena, president, led the 102 members during the year. Other officers included Patricia Clarke, vice-president; Sandria Tressler, secretary; and Ellen Hamill, Student Council representative.

Looking into the history of the organization it was found that the club was first known as the "Ars Medica," composed of girls who wished to become nurses. Today it serves as a valuable prerequisite to the nursing profession.

Cheerleaders Rouse Students, Urge Teams To Victory At Games, Matches

CHEERLEADERS—The cheerleaders of Latrobe High aroused the school spirit of the student body by displaying vitality at pep meetings and many athletic events.

Lynne Skatell, head, Kay Brant, co-head, Jane Johnston, Frances Regula, Connie Ashley, Dianne DeFlavio, Adrea Herrholtz and Elaine O'Rourke comprised the list of varsity cheerleaders. Miss Margaret Smith and Mr. Wiley Hartman were advisers to the group.

To brighten the appearance of the squad, new ensembles were sported this year. Black wool jumpers, white blouses, bulky-knit white sweaters with orange monograms and orange and black pom pom shakers completed their outfits. Helping to lead cheers and adding to the appearance of the squad was the Latrobe Wildcat, Bob Friedline.

Cheering at all wrestling matches and the junior varsity and freshman games was the task of the junior varsity cheerleaders. Merrily Ryder, Mary Lou Atkinson, Karen Juhasz and Patricia Davis completed this group.

Developing their cheering skill and representing the Freshman Class were Jean DeFlavio, Joanne Ballash, Kate Sarp and Mary Lou Westfall.

CHEERING THE varsity and junior varsity basketball teams at home games were Robert Friedline, Latrobe Wildcat, and cheerleaders Andrea Herrholtz, Frances Regula and Kay Brant.

DIXIELAND AND DANCE BANDS—A-one! and a-two! With the downbeat, Latrobe High School's auditorium rocked with the muted trumpet, the chirping clarinet and the droning trombone blending their voices in the strains of "Bugle Call Rag" played by the Dixieland Band.

The band, with boys having a common love of the "big beat-New Orleans style," reached a level of achievement comparable to professional units with years of experience.

The personnel, all members of the Music Department, were James Vicente, trumpet; Thomas Robb, trombone; Frank DePasqual, clarinet; Gary Mitchell, drums; Daryl Powers, bass; and Martin

SERVICE GROUPS

MU ALPHA THETA—Mu Alpha Theta, a national high school and junior college mathematics club, was organized last year at LHS to stimulate an interest in math, the key to all creative sciences.

David Tranquilla and Joseph Doherty presided at meetings as president and vice-president. Margaret Butz was secretary-treasurer and Nancy Brauchler was the Student Council representative.

Patricia Blank, Eric Givens, Francis Harvey, William Lemmon and Paula Rudy completed the list of club members. New members were installed into the club during the year to take over the responsibilities of the graduating seniors. Miss Mary Louise McBride, Algebra I and II and Broadcasting I and II instructor, was adviser of the honorary math society.

At the first initiation ceremonies of the Mu Alpha Theta in Latrobe High, Derry Area High School club officers were called upon to install the charter.

Records of the math teachers and the scholastic standing of Latrobe High School were taken into consideration by the national officers and governors of the club before the chartering of the Latrobe chapter became official.

To be named a member, students must have a high scholastic record, good character, be in the college preparatory course and have at least two years of math.

Appearances at the Latrobe Country Club, the American Legion, Torrance State Hospital and on Channel 4, WTAE, regaled audiences with many songs typical of the dixieland style. "When The Saints Go Marchin' In," and the ever-famous "Beat 'Em, Bucs" were their most-requested numbers.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

Through educational trips, projects, and activities, many classic language enthusiasts learned to uphold a belief in acquaintance with the way of life and civilization of Greece and Rome with the Junior Classical League.

Miss Adeline Reeping, adviser of the group, planned many activities for the league with the aid of Barbara Kisick, consul; Monica Lopushansky, pro-consul; Patty Yasurek, scriba; and David Pohland, explorator. Alumni representatives for the group were Mary Burns and Karen Henderson with David Hornung assisting as quaestor. Official accompanists for the social gatherings were Myra Lynch and Weldon Sipe.

Patricia Clarke has charge of the scrapbook which included many pictures and a complete account of the activities for the term. This year's editors of "Torch," the JCL newspaper, were Cheryl Koslesky, editor and Julia Nicolazzo, co-editor.

Approximately 385 students were in attendance at the annual skating party held at the Latrobe Roller Garden late in November. Refreshments were provided for the group.

A production of the play "The Haunted House" was staged by a number of the Latineers. During the regular period of each Latin class the students received their classmates' performance of the play.

Students Sponsor Educational, Entertaining Activities To Promote Latin

Roman life and culture. At this time, a special sight-seeing trip to the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh was arranged. The annual Auxilium Latinum tests were taken in conjunction with the festival to give the students a chance to recognize their abilities.

Many Latineers attended the State Junior Classical League Convention at Montour High School, April 15. Several of the conventioners were state officers. Patricia Clarke served as state pro-consul with Ted Katana as state historian and Linda Frichtel as substitute-at-large.

In May, the National Latin Honor Society held their annual dinner. Latin II members were bid a farewell and the initiation of new members took place.

This summer, many JCL'ers will travel to the University of Indiana at Bloomington, Indiana, for the 1961 National JCL Convention.

A modern trend was employed more extensively by the group during the year. The Latin classes were aided in their study by the use of audio-visual aids such as slides, movies, tapes, records, and word study strips. Students viewed the movies, "Why Study Latin" and "Ceres and Proserpina" to gain a better understanding of the language.

Tapes on the Trojan War, colored slides on Rome, grammar records and word study guides were also used by the students. These aides acquainted them with ancient civilizations of Greece and Rome.

The insignia of the club is the torch, while royal purple and gold represent the organization's colors. Projects undertaken and displayed by many of the students during the year included research in Roman culture, myths, and legends, as well as other objects of interest.

Fans Realize Importance Of Drills As Gridders Garner Foothills Crown

In their first game of the year, the local eleven defeated Schenley High, 30-7. Against their backyard rivals Derry, the Wildcats were impressive as they defeated the Trojans, 34-0. The Latrobe defense was noteworthy, holding the Derry offense to zero yards rushing.

Penn Hills was Latrobe's first AA opponent. The team assumed a 13-0 first-quarter lead; however, Penn Hills came back with three touchdowns during the second and third quarters to defeat Latrobe, 21-13. The Wildcats quickly recovered from the setback and defeated the speedy Wilkinsburg squad, 18-6.

The gridders easily downed Jeannette, 21-0, for their second Conference victory. Connellsville, the only club to defeat the 1959 team, was revenged by Orange and Black of 41-18. This marked the Wildcats' highest-scoring game of the year.

Greensburg, undefeated in WPIAL competition at the time, was Latrobe's sixth foe. The game also was the deciding factor for the Foothills Conference lead. Latrobe romped to two quick touchdowns, but Greensburg came back with a tally in the second and in the third quarter to lead 14-13.

Late in the game the Lions fumbled a Wildcat punt, and Latrobe recovered it on the fifty-yard line. The strong Latrobe offense marched the ball in for the score and won the game, 20-13.

Latrobe traveled to Norwin in their fifth Foothills game. The Knights had a strong team, but

For the second consecutive football season, the Latrobe High grid team compiled an excellent eight-win, one-loss record.

Under the guidance of Coach Charles Findley and Line Coach George Fabry, the Wildcats were named the 1960-1961 Foothills Conference Champions and Westmoreland County AA Champs. This marked the second year in succession that Latrobe earned these honors.

they couldn't match the Wildcats, who won 21-0.

Hempfield was the last Wildcat encounter, which determined Latrobe's sole or co-champion honors in the Foothills Conference. The unusual occurred when Latrobe was not able to move the ball well in the first quarter. Hempfield scored to take a 6-0 lead. Latrobe came to life and led at halftime, 7-6.

In the second half the Wildcats scored a tally to lead, 13-6. Hempfield came back with a touch-down, but the extra point hit the goal post. Latrobe squeezed by, 13-12.

Letters were awarded to 24 seniors and juniors. Senior monogram winners were Joseph Androstic, Michael Antus, Donald Berenbrok, Thomas Bleehash, Roy Campbell, Addison Errett, James Giordan, Francis Harvey, George Hricik, John Kuhn, John Markiewicz, Ronald Ruffner, Joseph Rusnock, Ronald Seaman and Richard Thomas. Junior letter-winners were Domenic Camarate, Gerald Jim, Theodore Katana, Frank Moff, Gerard Murphy, Thomas O'Rourke, Bruce Robbins, Leonard Shamrock and Joseph Sprock.

A number of individual Wildcats received additional honors. Captain Thomas Bleehash was named first-string All-State fullback. Those receiving first string Foothills Conference and Westmoreland County berths were Roy Campbell, quarterback; James Giordan, guard; Thomas Bleehash, full-back, and Francis Harvey, tackle. The latter two were named outstanding back and lineman in the Foothills Conference, respectively. Both Bleehash and Harvey also were named to the WPIAL teams.

In addition, Michael Antus and Joseph Rusnock made second-team conference and county honorable mention. Gerard Murphy earned county honorable mention.

Wildcat Grid Team Compiles Outstanding Record During Victorious Season

WILDCAT HALFBACK Joseph Sprock, assisted by guard Dom Camarote, wrestle a Schenley runner to the gridiron.

LATROBE TACKLE Gerard Murphy and end Thomas O'Rourke smother a Greensburg ball carrier to the turf.

Although winless in five encounters, the Wildcat junior varsity football squad gained experience in preparation for next year's season.

Losing to Hempfield, 8-0, the reserves opened their grid campaign late in September. The little Spartans held the locals scoreless while scoring once in the second quarter and twice in the fourth canto.

East Huntingdon gained the advantage of the understudies' miscues to defeat them in their second outing, 18-6. The little Wildcats' lone touchdown came on a 48-yard pass from Robert Ruffner to Robert Katana.

Scoring all their points in the second half, the Greensburg Lions shut-out the local junior varsity, 20-0. The Lions' scores resulted from runs of 80, 40 and 20 yards.

The Wildcat reserves fell before the Jeannette jayvees, 21-0. The Latrobe team threatened only once as the Jayhawk juniors had complete command of the contest. Closing the unsuccessful season, the understudies lost a close game to Greensburg, 6-0.

Coaching the Wildcat junior varsity in the fundamentals of football were Mr. James Rowles and Mr. James Schumaker. This was the first year of coaching at Latrobe for both members.

A WILDCAT gang tackle is in the making as Gerard Murphy slows down the halfback and Francis Harvey, James Giordan and Michael Antus close-in.

THE DERRY ball carrier got away from one Wildcat tackler, but the shoulders of Thomas Bleehash and Joseph Sprock are in store for him.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

Freshmen Learn Fundamentals, Drills Throughout Initial Gridiron Season

In registering a subpar no-win and five-loss card, the Orange and Black football beginners of Latrobe High possessed the type of hustle and team spirit that will serve as a great asset to them in their ensuing years as L.H.S. gridmen.

Under the tutelage of Coach Ray V. Wild and his assistant, Mr. William West, the boys were in top condition for their initial game of the season in less than three and a half weeks.

Starting with 65 boys, the squad was cut down to 36 in two weeks. This group proved to be one of the better-conditioned freshmen teams of Latrobe in past years.

In their first encounter of the grid campaign at home, the little Wildcats were downed by arch rival Derry Area, 28-0. Following this defeat the freshmen suffered two consecutive losses on their opponents' gridirons. They were downed by East Huntingdon, in a close contest, 7-0, and Hempfield, 20-0.

Upon returning home the freshman eleven, in an attempt to get on the winning side of the ledger, was subdued by the little Lions of Greensburg-Salem, 7-0. A touchdown for Greensburg in the closing minutes of the fourth period was enough to provide the margin of victory.

Going into the last game of the season with a 0-4 card, the L.H.S. yearlings played host to the Jeannette freshmen. This game proved futile to the Cats as Jeannette garnered an easy 38-0 win.

TENNIS

In registering another highly successful tennis campaign, the netters of Coach Earl Karasack compiled an unblemished 6-0 record to win the section title.

The local courtmen twice downed sectional adversaries such as Connellsville, Greensburg and Norwin. At the conclusion of the season's play captain Dave Tranquilla and Fred Steele represented Latrobe in the doubles of the WPIAL.

Other members of the tennis team included Bruno Zenone, Chester Jaworski, Howard Baybrook, George Rise and Jack Townsend.

GOLF

With the finishing of third place in the Section IV play, the Wildcat linksmen posted another commendable season under the mentorship of Coach Robert Cook.

Captain Joseph Doherty and junior James Williams led the squad this year as they posted a 9 win, 3 loss record.

Senior members of the squad were Joseph Doherty and Bernard Yokopenic. James Williams, Bruce Immel, William Roberts and Joseph Sinkey made up the junior members of the team. Larry Campbell, John Jacobs, Ronald Nevin, Paul Repko and John Ridilla were the remaining linksmen.

GOLF

Seated: Sinkey, Kuhn, Palmer, Herrington.

BASKETBALL

Under the mentorship of Coach Ralph Forquer, the varsity cagers succeeded in recording a highly respectable 11-win 14-loss record.

In pre-season competition the Wildcats managed to play .500 percentage basketball as they tested adversaries such as Scottdale, 51-33; Somers, 69-26; Penn Joint, 62-39, and Sewickley Area, 63-49. Exhibition losses came at the hands of Ramsay, Har-Brack, Penn Hills and Wilkinsburg, all of which, excepting Penn Hills, won WPIAL section titles.

In the opener of Section II play the Cats went down to defeat as the Golden Lions of Greensburg-Salem scored a 52-49 victory. Unable to get on the winning side, the Orange and Black were upended by Derry Area, Norwin, and Hempfield, finally recording a win over Hurst, 79-49. The Cats also downed Jeannette, 66-53, before losing to Connellsville on the home court, 54-39.

In their return engagement with Greensburg in the second half of section play, the Cats avenged their earlier loss, defeating the Lions, via an overtime, 58-50. Derry Area once again beat the L.H.S. five the following week. This time the score was 79-58. Latrobe then upset a heavily favored Norwin team, 56-53. In their final four engagements the Cats bowed to Hempfield, Jeannette and Connellsville, while salvaging a win over Hurst, 75-57.

In the annual Westmoreland County Tournament the Cats advanced to the finals only to lose to Hempfield, 78-51. Enroute to the final game the L.H.S. hoopsters defeated Hurst and Greensburg.

JOHN MONCHAK, assistant coach; Ralph Forquer, head basketball coach, and Ray V. Wild, freshman coach, discuss this year's schedule.

The latter, of which, the Orange and Black hoopsters battled down to the finish, thus winning 56-53.

At the conclusion of the basketball campaign three seniors and three juniors received lettered monograms in an assembly program. Seniors receiving letters were Donald Berenbrok, Ronald Lazur and Roy Campbell, while juniors earning awards were Thomas O'Rourke, Gary Mueseler and Bruce Robbins.

JAYVEES

Latrobe High's junior varsity cagers compiled a highly commendable 15-7 overall season record under the able tutelage of Coach John Monchak.

The jayvees got their exhibition play off to a shaky start as they were downed by Scottdale, 36-35. But the Cats were not to be denied their winning ways as they rebounded to defeat Ramsay, 35-29. After dropping a 56-38 encounter to Har-Brack, the Wildcat reserves recorded successive victories over Penn Hills, Somerset, Penn Joint and Sewickley Area. In the finals of exhibition play the Cat quintet was downed by Wilkinsburg, 66-42.

In play against reserve teams of Section II, the reserves scored initial victories over Greensburg, Derry Area, Hempfield, Jeannette, Hurst and Connellsville.

FRESHMEN

Concerning their initial cage season at L.H.S., the freshman dribblers gained the necessary experience that will aid them in future competition.

Recording a season's record of 5 wins and 7 losses, it was necessary to cancel games with Harrold, Derry and Irwin throughout the course of the campaign due to inclement weather.

In their first encounter of the season, the Connellsville frosh quintet downed the locals, 29-28. But a week later the little Wildcats got on the winning side of the ledger by upending Scottdale, 35-34. Meeting the same Scottdale squad the following week, the frosh again won, 38-24. After defeating Connellsville and Harrold, the freshmen went down to two successive defeats. These came at the hands of Penn Joint and Jeannette.

By turning in a dual record of nine wins against three losses, the Wildcat matmen completed another successful season under the coaching of Mr. Creed Westfall.

Victories posted by the wrestlers in dual match competition were over Washington Township, Norwin, Hempfield, Jeannette, Kittanning, Greensburg-Salem, Wilkinsburg, Indiana and Uniontown. The local wrestlers bowed to Greensburg-Salem, Johnstown and Waynesburg.

Highlighting the season was the capture of the Westmoreland County title and the WPIAL Section II crown. The team won the county tournament by scoring 40 points, while Thomas Goldstein, Joseph Androscopic and Thomas Bell gained top berths in their respective weight divisions.

Three local grapplers led the team in winning the Section II title, as Thomas Goldstein, James Jioio and Joseph Androscopic copped individual crowns. The Wildcats' final score was 37. From section competition the three matmen advanced to the regional tournament where Thomas and Joseph received runner-up medals.

Seven seniors, seven juniors and one freshman earned letters for this year's campaign. The seniors were Thomas Goldstein, Joseph Androscopic, Lionel Frowen, James Jioio, Timothy Stumpf, John Kuhn and John Poerstel. Richard Ludwig, Dennis Carr, Theodore Katana, Richard Koski, Gerard Murphy, George Walters and Patrick Doherty composed the juniors. Thomas Bell represented the freshmen.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Local Harriers Post Another Victorious Season, Place Seventh In Section

Under the tutelage of Coach Richard Braun, the cross-country team posted another successful season last fall as they emerged victorious in six of their seven dual meets.

The first competition on the harriers' schedule was the Uniontown Invitational Meet. Latrobe's team finished in fifth place with a team score of 136. Dual meet competition started three days later as the thinclads whipped Ferndale, 17-38.

Penn Hills handed the Wildcats their only defeat of the season as they scored a 19-36 victory over the locals. However, a strong comeback was registered when the Cats shutout Kiski Prep on the latter's 2 1/10 mile course. Uniontown served as the next victim for the locals as they posted a 25-30 victory at Holiday Acres.

On October 11 the runners of Westmont Hilltop were defeated 21-34 on the losers' home course. A seventh-place team position was captured at the Central Catholic Invitational Meet in Pittsburgh.

Wilkesburg served as the prey on October 17 as the Orange and Black squad handed them a 19-36 defeat. Running in below-freezing weather against the highly regarded Connellsville team, the Cats finished their dual meet season with a 25-30 upset. In the annual WPIAL race at Aliquippa, the thinclads placed seventh in a field of 17 teams.

Receiving letter awards were seniors Robert Shrum, Terry Lee, Ronald Lazur, Richard Yanik, James Jioio, John Poerstel, Lawrence Kabana, Kenneth Enos, manager, and Thomas Grote. Juniors Pat Doherty and Ronald Burick and sophomore Charles Ronco were letter winners, also.

Twenty-six other boys comprised the squad.

TRACK

Thinclads Spend Long Hours In Practice To Capture Track, Field Laurels

Although the 1961 Latrobe High track squad of Coach Richard Braun did not capture the 39th annual Westmoreland County championship, the Orange and Black team registered a successful dual match record as well as some excellent individual performances.

The Wildcats finished second in the county tournament with Hempfield Area capturing the coveted title. Ronald Seaman, Latrobe senior, was high point man in the meet with 15 points. He established a new county and school record in the 440 yard run with the time of 51 seconds. Wildcat Charles Ronco won a first place in the mile run with a 4:45.3 effort. In all, seven Latrobe trackmen qualified for the WPIAL tournament.

In dual meet action the thinclads recorded a record of three wins as against three losses.

Early season rains hampered preparation for the track and field schedule. The Latrobe squad dropped the opening two meets to Penn Hills, 66-61, and Hempfield Area, 53-42, the latter in an abbreviated contest.

Rebounding, the Cat team downed Wilkesburg 71-56 before losing a one-point decision to strong Connellsville, 64-63.

In the final meets of the season, Coach Braun's squad downed Greensburg-Salem and Derry Area. The head mentor was assisted by Mr. John Charlesworth and Mr. William West. Mr. William Garrison acted as equipment manager for the squad.

BILL POTTHOFF hands the baton to Tom Bleeshash as the Wildcats are in the process of winning a relay.

MEMORIES

"My, how time flies," can sum up seniors' thoughts as they turn back the pages of school life and activities they encountered while progressing more and more every year until their goal was reached—cap, gown and diploma.

New routines, meeting teachers and friendly acquaintances, seeking the correct rooms and classes through a school with a "hidden elevator" were the first incidents experienced by today's seniors four years ago, as they entered the school.

As sophomores, the writing of autobiographies was a main point in that year's curriculum. A trip to the microscopic world of an amoeba and paramecium released biological secrets to the venturing minds of progressing students.

What to do after graduation was a predominant question in the minds of juniors and seniors as their educational and occupational plans took shape. They read college bulletins and attended guidance lectures to be sure of making the right decision.

As the school doors close once again for a well-deserved vacation for faculty and underclassmen, seniors will take their place in the world spread beyond them but always remembering . . . Dear old Latrobe High. . . .

THEODORE PISHKO, Margaret Jetter and Lee Ann Goodman recall past memories of the Modern Language Mirdi Gras.

Steelmaking is people

Every pound of our first quality tool and special steels represents the time and toil of many people.

People who are your neighbors and good citizens of the community, like the experienced melters, who blend the alloys together in the fiery furnaces; the forgers, who knead with thousands of pounds of pressure the white hot steel into billets; and the grinders, who scarf off surface scale, making the billets ready for the practiced art of the rollers, who accurately squeeze bars into true, useful shapes; and the sharp-eyed inspectors, charged with the maintenance of perfect quality.

Countless others play vital roles in our steelmaking . . . the metallurgists, chemists, electricians; the carpenters, who make the shipping boxes; the typists, who prepare the orders; the accountants, who post the bills; and many, many more people throughout our plants.

We believe our Vanadium-Alloys' steelmakers are the world's finest. For that reason, we sell our steel throughout America with confidence that it is the very best to be obtained.
