GREATER LATROBE

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

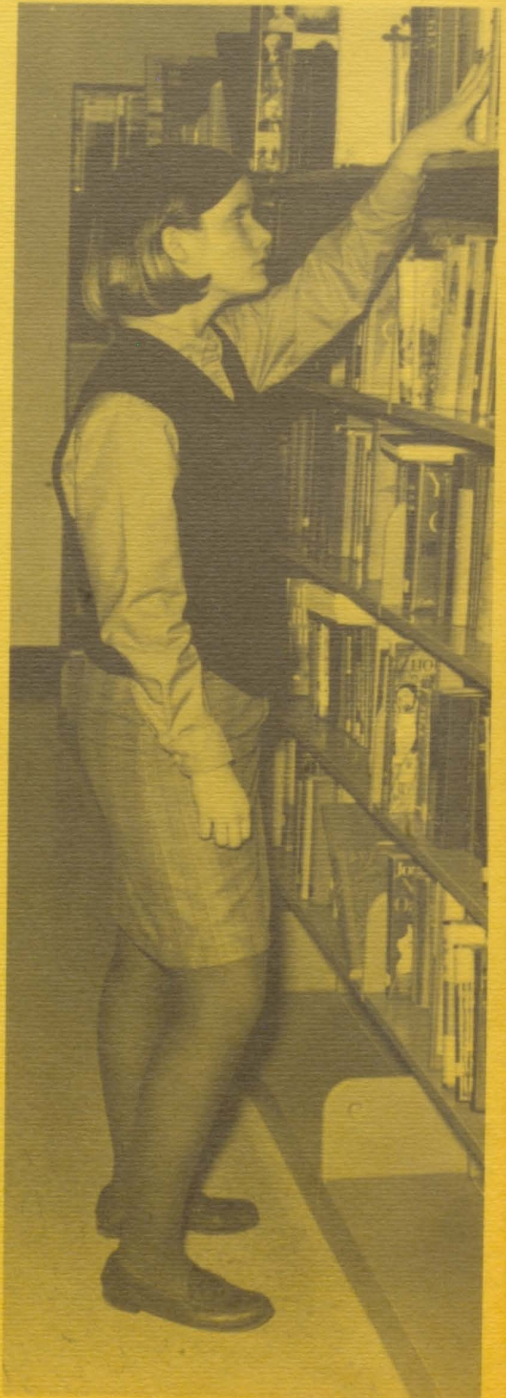

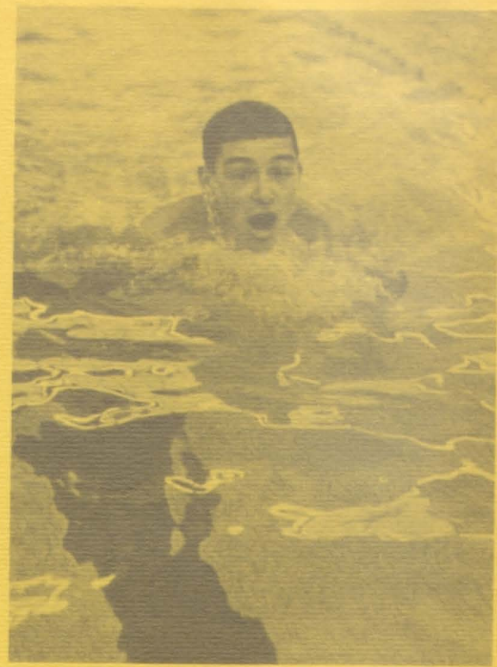

Latrobe, Pennsylvania

1969 LATROBEAN

Another year has ended. So much is being left behind by graduating seniors. Juniors anxiously look forward to the responsibilities and prestige of becoming the new leaders while the sophomores continue to grow and learn. The memories of this past year are not to be forgotten. Looking back, a spirit of youth has made the school alive. Echoes of laughter continue to ring through the halls interrupted only by the banging of lockers and sounding of bells. The posters lining the halls are only slightly dulled by the passage of time. Assemblies, pep rallies, exams and class plays — all these will be tucked away in our minds forever. Although the original excitement is gone the memories linger on.

Trips, programs
help to entertain,
inform, award
student body, faculty

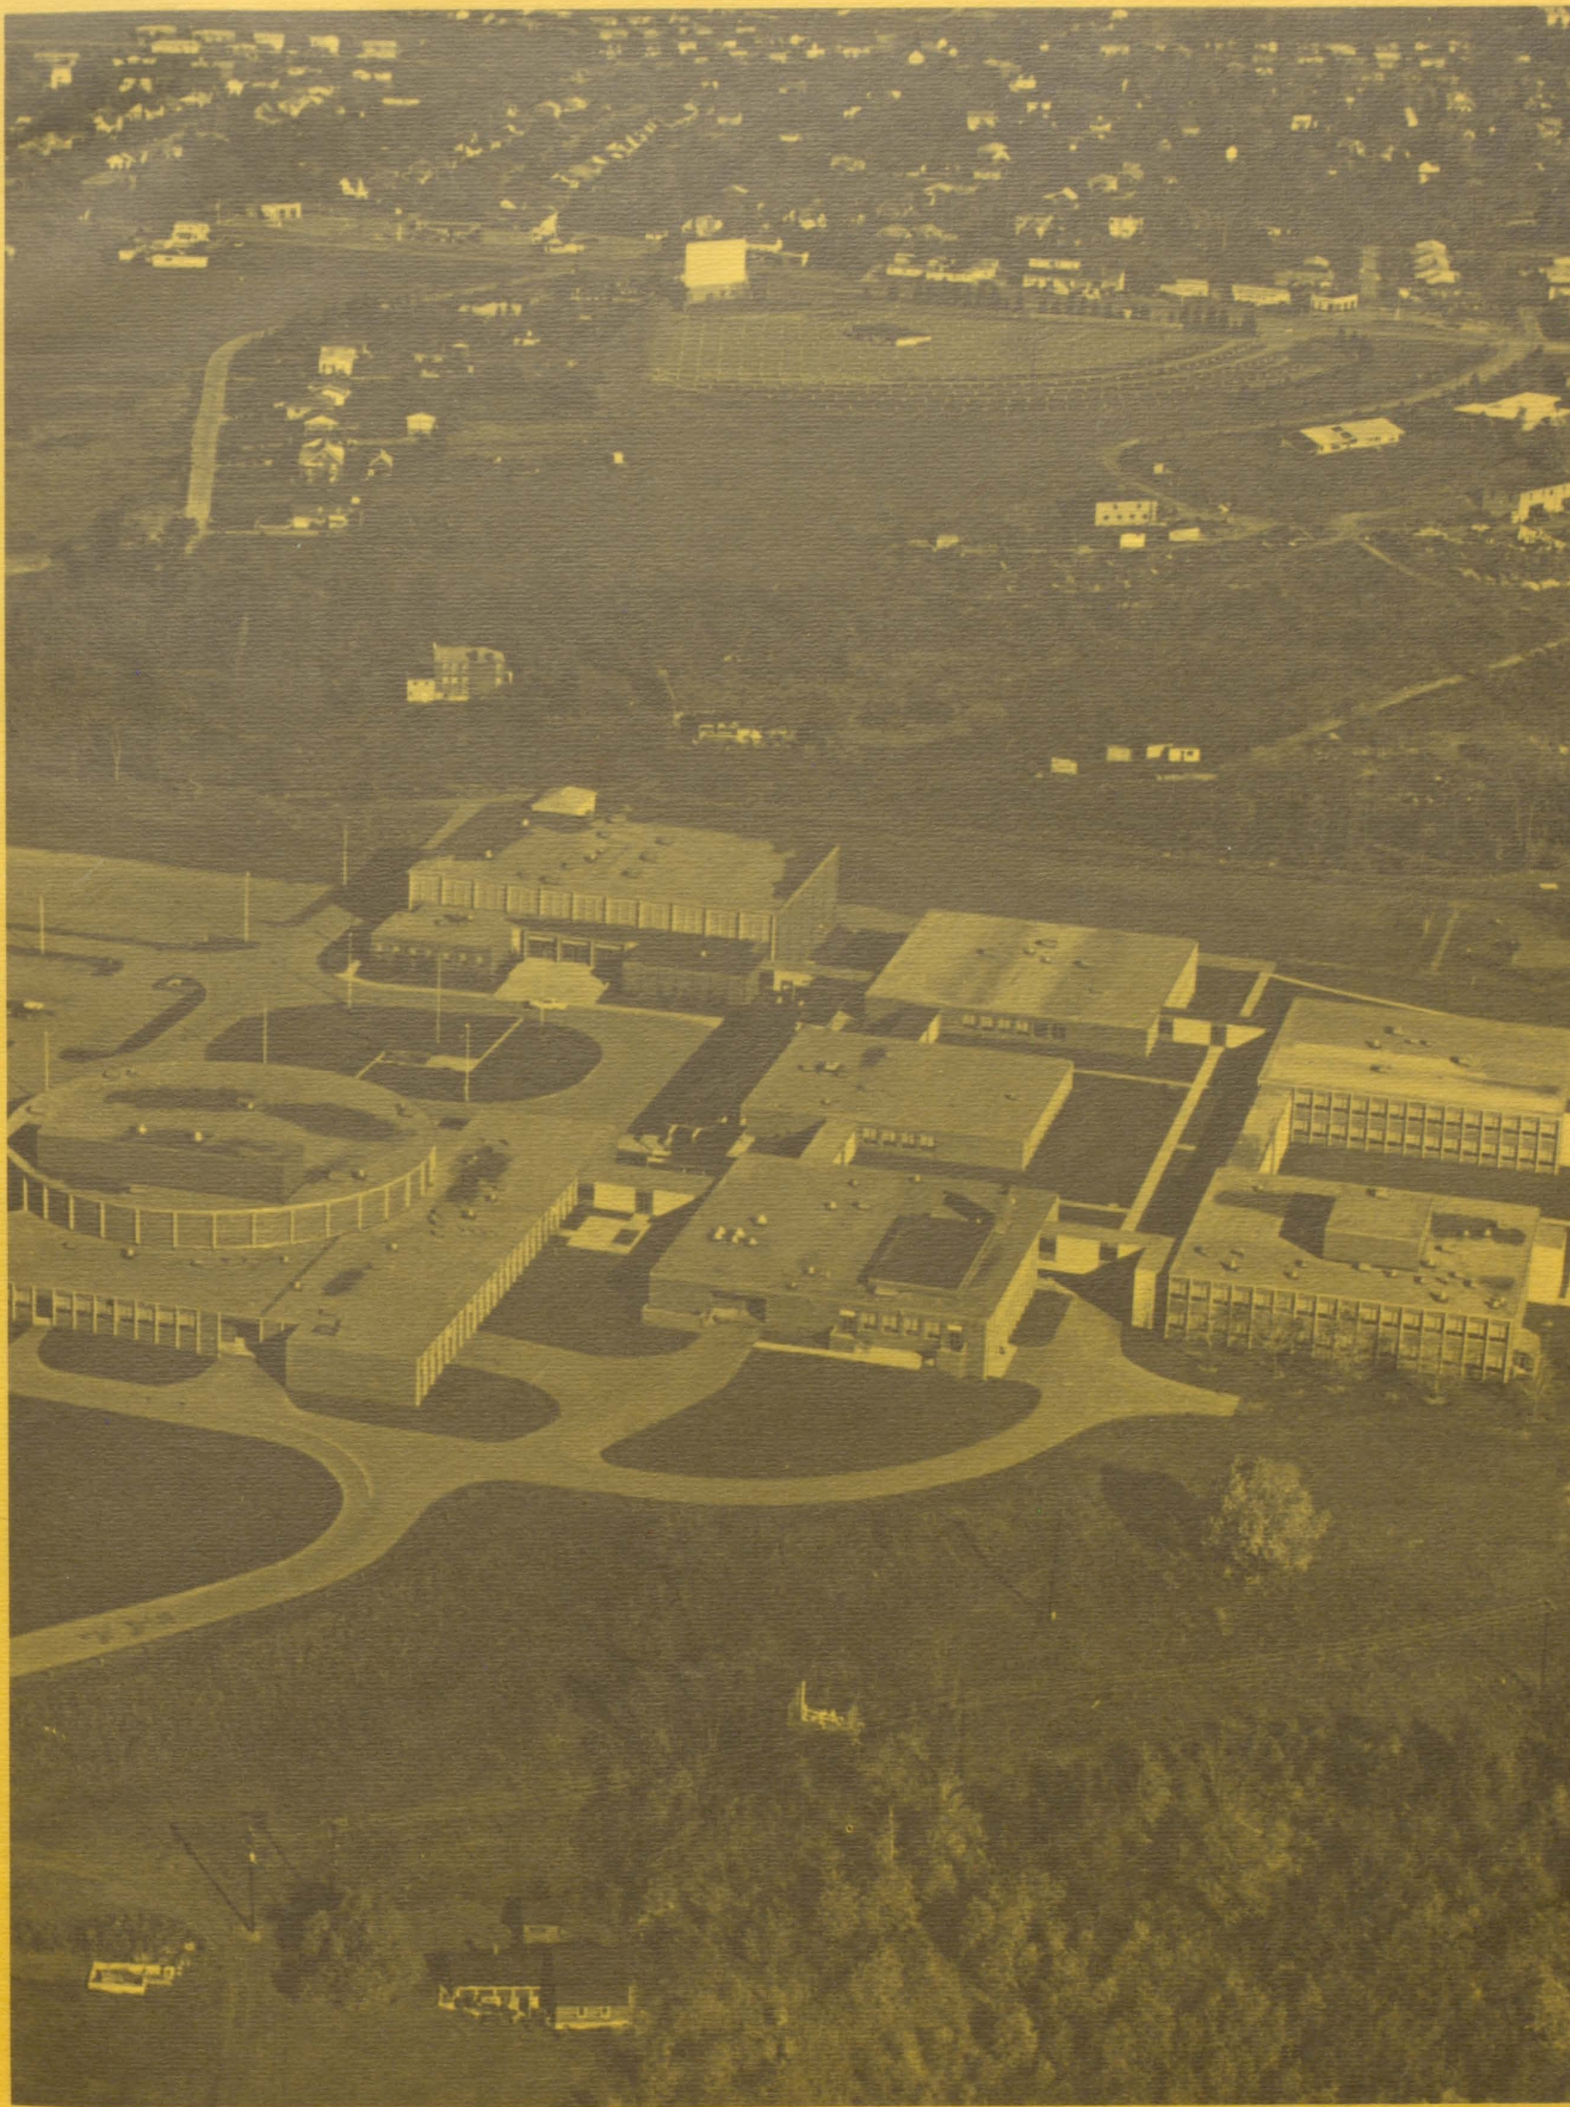

The interest created by assemblies, fieldtrips and the many activities by organizations helped students take on a new outlook. With change involving the Student Council came many new responsibilities. Again dramatics and forensics enriched the experiences of numerous people. Each day held something for everyone who was a part of Greater Latrobe Senior High.

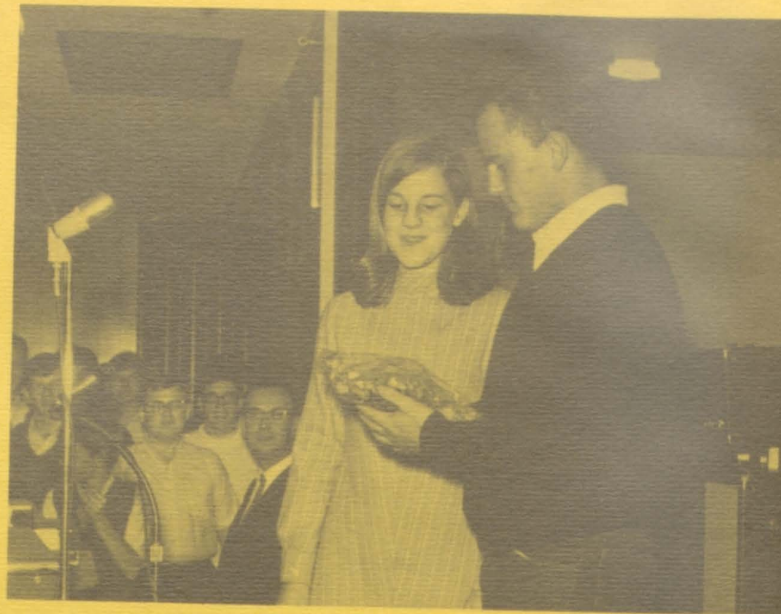

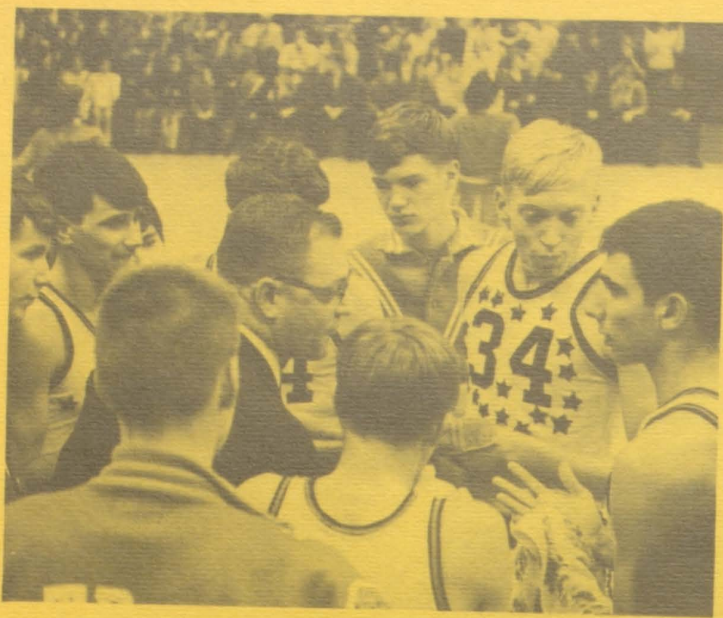

Modern plant proves functional, a help to educational goals

A complex of seven buildings make-up the physical structure of Greater Latrobe. The Liberal Arts, Business Education and Science Buildings are the centers of academic subjects while the cafeteria provides lunches for 1550 students. The developing of physical and artistic abilities was accomplished in the Physical Education and Fine Arts Departments. The Administration Building was the hub of the school.

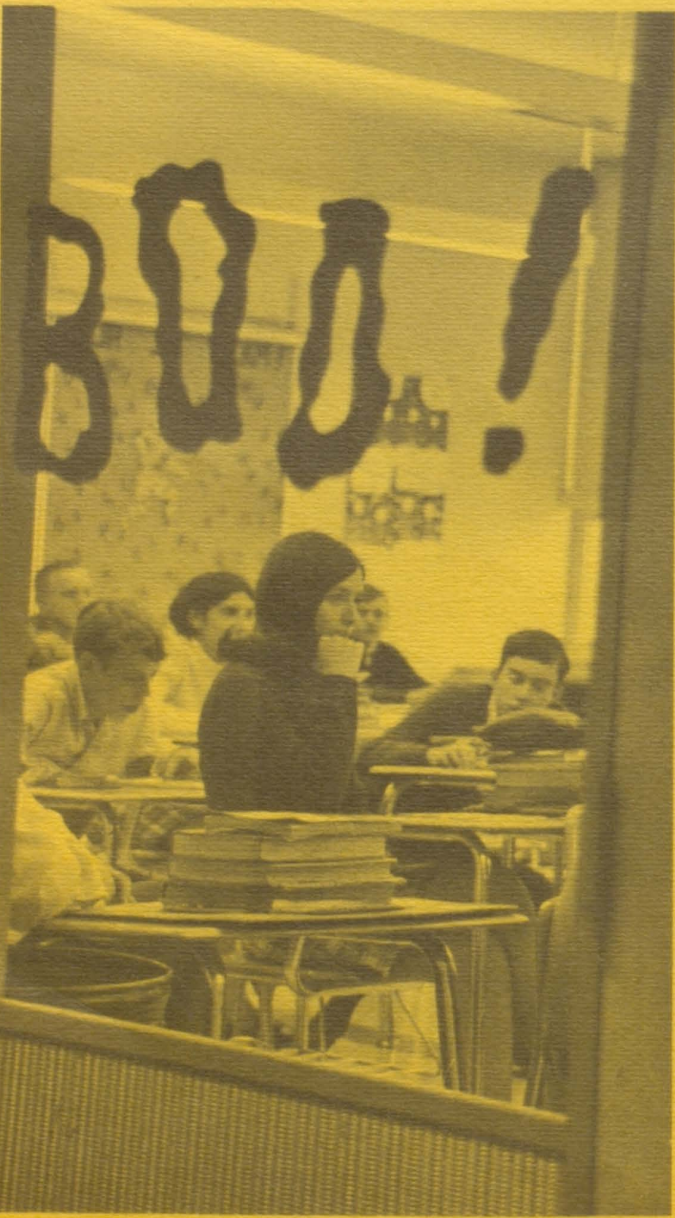

Dances, games enhance calendar of extra activities

From 8 a.m. until the 3 o'clock dismissal bell rang, the senior high school was considered home for 1550 students. Here they pursued their careers under one of five courses offered. Clubs and activities associated with the different subjects were present to stimulate effort and interest. The school life was also greatly enriched by a revamped student council which acted as a form of government for the student body. The year was highlighted by the musical, forensics, sporting events, the prom and graduation.

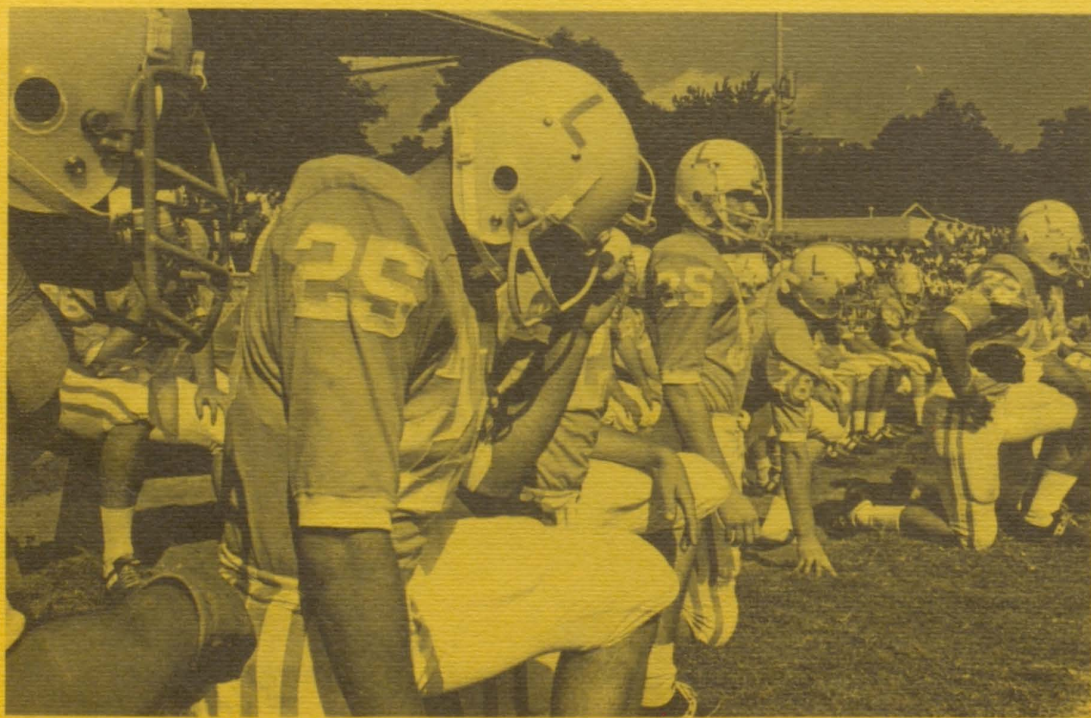

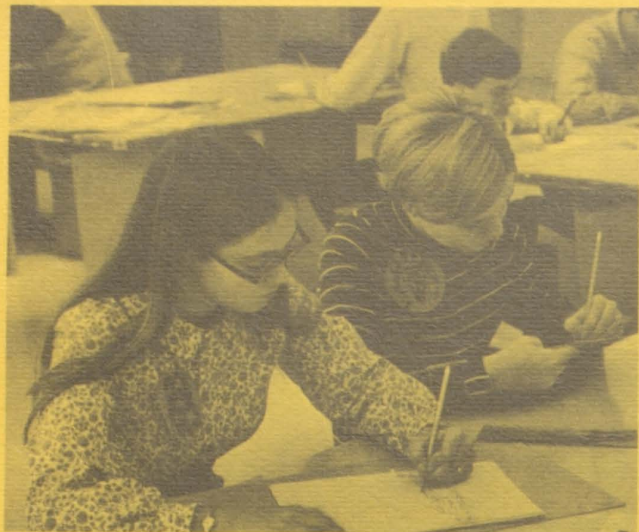

Courses of study prepare students for jobs, higher education

The course of study set up according to regulations included subjects designed for all students. It prepared them for different job fields and the future with most looking to higher education. This year three new subjects were added to the curriculum to aid students in subject areas of science and shops.

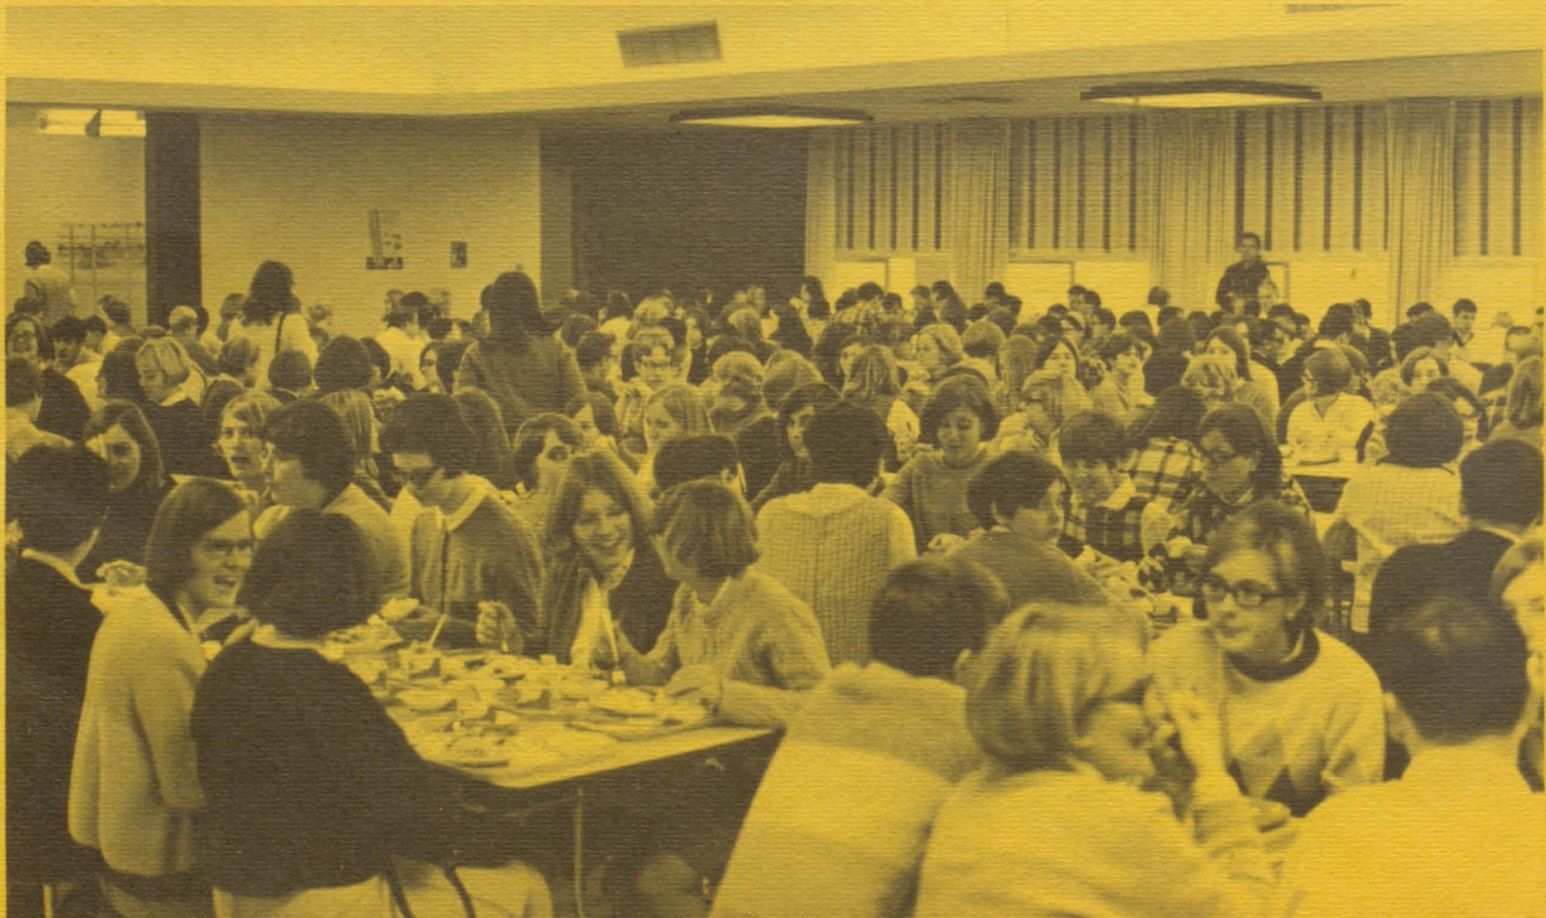

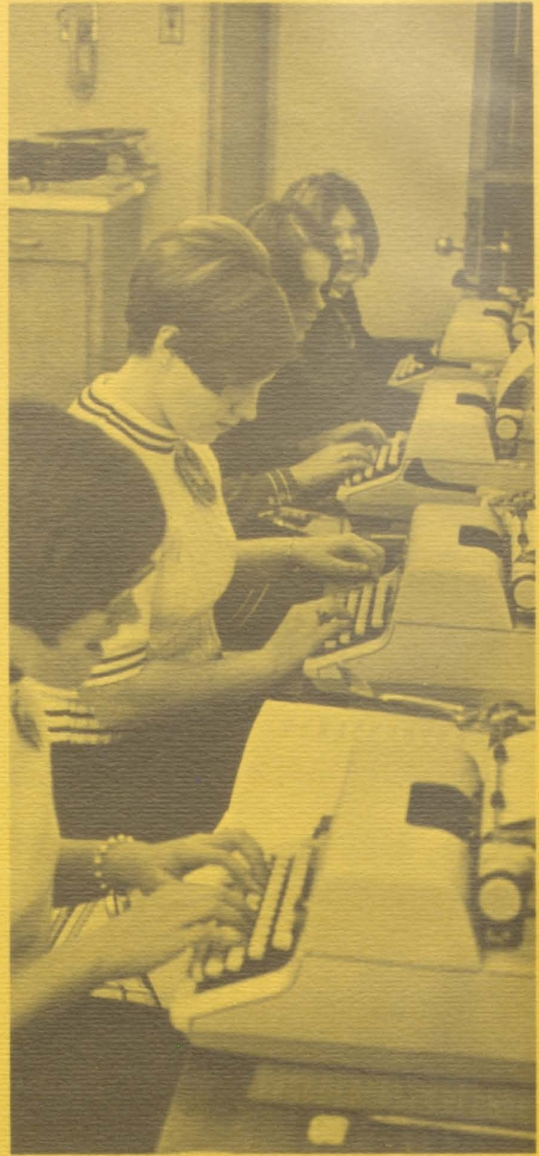

Student body exhibits pride, loyalty during school year

The past year will always be remembered by the students who were a part of the many great accomplishments reached. Under the leadership of the Senior Class, school spirit was kept renewed and alive throughout the year. Even the administration expressed its school pride by giving the student body a full day pep assembly and dance following the football victory at Forbes Field.

Pleasant memories help to preserve lasting friendships

A myriad of faces, both old and new, greeted students at the beginning of the term.

It was another year to make new friendships and strengthen old ones. It was a time of adjustment for sophomores, a time of anticipation for the juniors and a time of leadership for the seniors.

For Marianne Schaper, our foreign exchange student, it was a new way of life.

FACULTY

Classroom discussions come to life under faculty guidance

Seventy-eight faculty members and the administration strove this past year to instill in the minds of the students the major roll education plays. Topics from an infinite number of subjects were brought to life in classroom discussions under capable direction of the teachers.

PRINCIPAL GEORGE M. FABRY

Principal, assistant direct school staff

In the position of senior high principal, Mr. George Fabry, provided the community with an efficiently operated high school. He strove to provide the students with worthwhile experiences in their educational development.

Supervision of approximately 70 faculty members and conducting their monthly meetings constituted still another phase of his responsibilities. Other duties which confronted Mr. Fabry were the overseeing of preliminary schedule planning, the approving of school events and the organizing of the school calendar.

Mr. Robert Lavelly did the numerous tasks of the assistant principal. Among his many duties, he oversaw student absenteeism and issued driving permits. He also assisted Mr. Fabry in solving the problems faced by the faculty in the course of a school day.

Aiding the principal and the assistant principal were the secretaries, Mrs. Betsy Tillman, Miss Dolores Horansky and Miss Beverly Papuga.

Typing weekly bulletins, transcripts and taking care of routine correspondence were among the services that they performed while working in the principal's office. Also included among their duties were typing tests, compiling requisitions and book orders.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL ROBERT E. LAVELLY

Helping with attendance, typing out weekly bulletins and handling the correspondence in their principal and guidance offices are among the duties of secretaries Miss Dolores Horansky, Miss Beverly Papuga and Mrs. Betsy Tillman.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

SEATED: Mr. Clarence Graham, Miss Ruth Himler, secretary of the board, Mrs. Ann Rudy, Mr. Oland Canterna. STANDING: Mr. Regis Kuhn, Mr. Thomas Okonak, Mr. Floyd Hixson, Mr. Jacob Bendl, Mr. Anthony Pesavento, Mr. Ned J. Nakles, solicitor, Mr. Richard Pohland.

Miss Cheryl Schwarz, Miss Kathy Reeping and Miss Rita Short, business secretaries in the administration office, plan their daily work schedule. Looking over the calendar of the month are Mrs. Lucille Yardley, Miss Janet Ridilla and Mrs. Jean Steck, secretary to the superintendent.

DAVID A. SNYDER
Superintendent

Superintendent David A. Snyder headed the administration department of the school district; Mr. Thomas Kissell, curriculum; Mr. Charles Findley, pupil services director and Mr. John Finfrock, business manager, acted as his assistants.

Mrs. Ann Rudy served as president of the Board of Education. The other officers included Mr. Oland Canterna, vice-president, Miss Ruth Himler, secretary and Mr. Ned Nakles, solicitor. The chairmen of the various committees were Mr. J. Thomas Okonak, Building; Mr. Anthony Pesavento, Property and Supply; Mr. Clarence Graham, Education and Planning; Mr. Jacob Bendl, Student Activities and Recreation, Mr. Floyd Hixson, cafeteria and transportation. Mr. Richard Pohland completes the board.

The elected board members are appointed for one year to committees at an organizational meeting held the first Monday of December. On the first Thursday of each month the entire board meets privately to discuss the agenda for the regular meetings one week later.

Shop students develop skills for later jobs

Students enrolled in the different courses of study took the subjects offered in the Industrial Arts Department. The courses provided the pupils practical and valuable experience in working with their hands. The subjects included Mechanical Drawing, Architectural Drawing, Metal and Machine, Wood and Plastics, Electricity.

In the first year course of Architectural Drawing, students become acquainted with house plans and later drew-up their own plans. The different shop courses gave the individual the opportunity to work with machines. The projects made by the students were entered in the annual Lions Club Contest.

EARL KARASACK . . . Architectural Drawing I, Mechanical Drawing II, III . . . Industrial Arts Department co-ordinator . . . tennis coach . . . hobbies include reading, woodworking.

JOHN CHARLESWORTH . . . Metal, Machine shop . . . assistant track coach . . . enjoys playing the trumpet . . . hunting, camping, golfing among interests.

LAWRENCE ALTIMUS

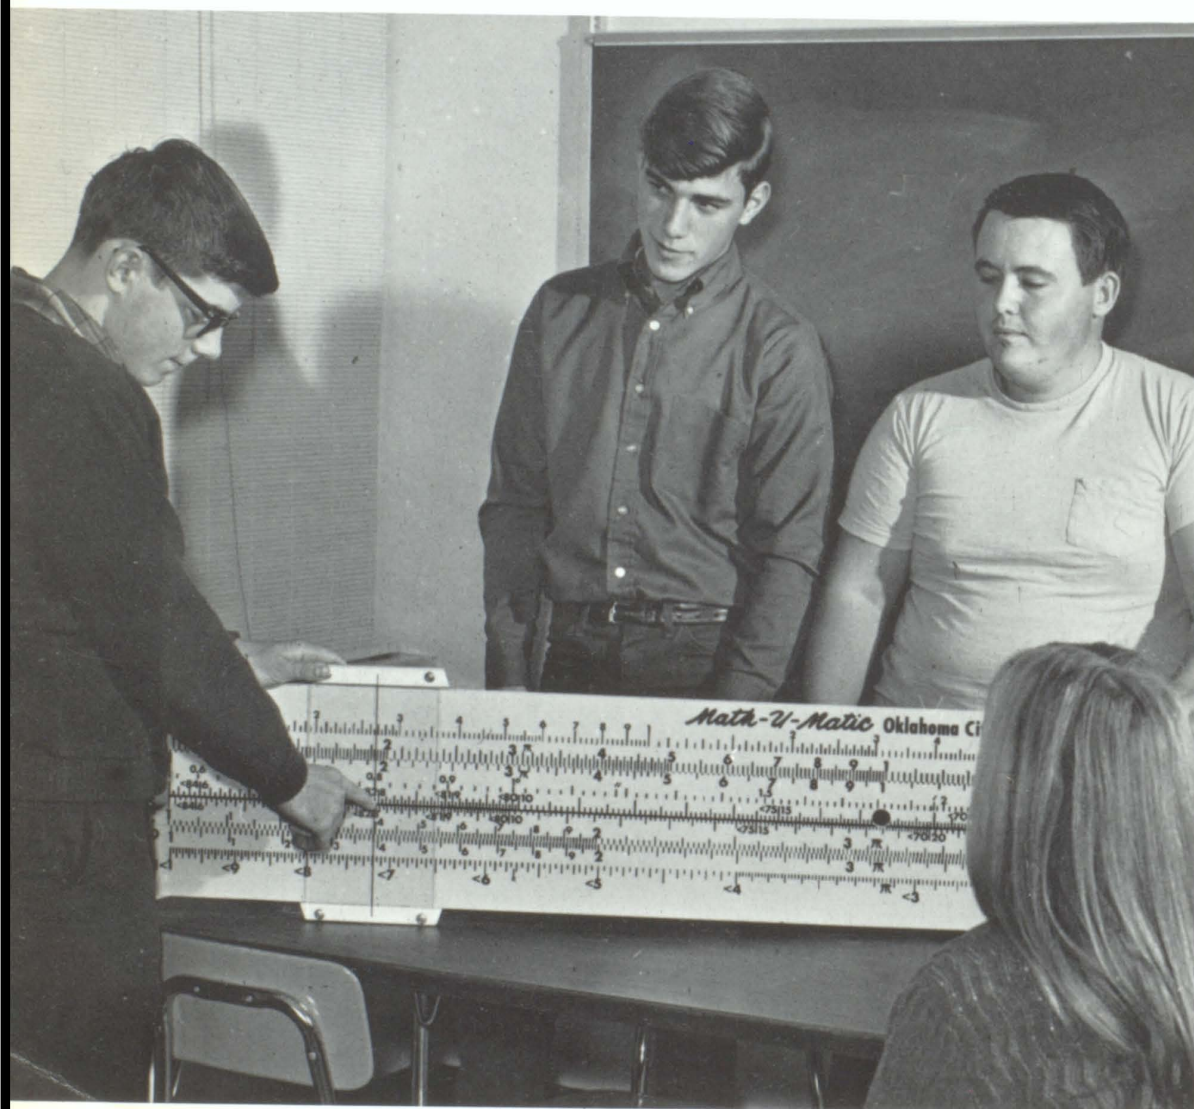

Athletic ability and coordination in gymnastics are displayed by junior boys as they work out on the trampoline. Eleventh grade students tangle in attempt to attain the ball in hopes of scoring the winning points. Sophomore boys participate actively in a game of water polo. This is one of gym class activities designed to improve physical coordination.

Urging students to fulfill their potential and improve their weaknesses in the field of mathematics was the goal of the seven teachers in the department. Working with new facilities and educational aids, they helped students prepare for future math courses.

Under Miss Mary Louise McBride, head of the department, the seven instructors carried out their teaching assignments in the Science Building. Courses taught in this field of study included Business Math, Related Math, Algebra I and II, Intermediate Math, Geometry and Advanced Math.

Even though the number of extra-curricular activities offered in this field was limited, one that helped to encourage students toward a deeper understanding of mathematics was Mu Alpha Theta, the honorary Mathematics Society, under the direction of Miss McBride.

MISS CATHERINE NETZLOF

With the addition of two courses this year, Related Physics and Earth and Space Science, the teachers of the department helped pupils gain new insight in the world of science. The instructors strove to improve their students' manual skills in the laboratories. They performed their teaching duties in the Science Building under the direction of Miss Catherine Netzlof, department head.

The main objectives of the nine instructors were to increase their students' interests in science and prepare them for further study upon graduation. Science teachers also kept pupils informed about new developments and discoveries in that field.

Students were instructed in Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Astronomy, Earth and Space Science and Related Physics.

Charts, references aid history courses

Comprising the Social Studies Department were ten teachers interested in increasing the knowledge of students about the governmental systems and the cultural background of the United States and world countries.

Students in Problems of Democracy classes examined the situations confronting the government today. American History classes heightened the knowledge of students concerning the background of this country. Sophomores in World History courses became familiar with both ancient and modern government systems and peoples. These teachers gave their students an education in the course of events from prehistoric times to present day problems.

Languages establish insight on cultures

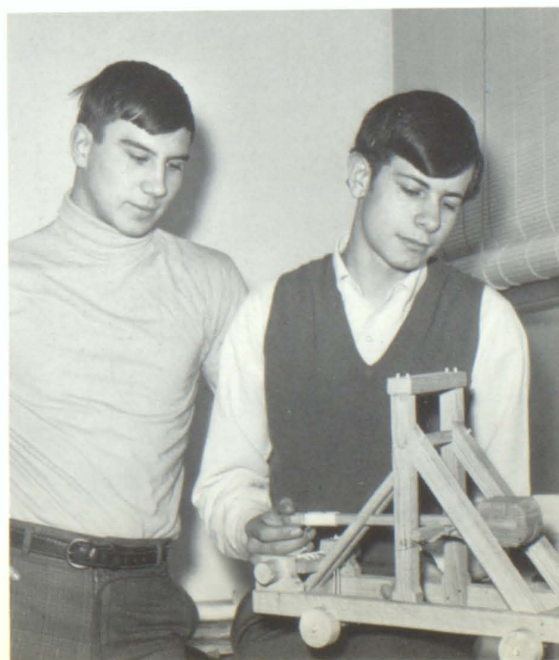

German II was added to the curriculum of study this year for the first time by the Language Department. The other languages offered by the school included French I, II, III and IV, Spanish I through IV, Latin I, II and German I, II.

Approximately 14 students aided the language department in the working of the language lab setting up tapes and checking the bootins. The use of films, tapes and the two language labs aided students in improving their language skills.

Headed by Mrs. Clare G. Stover, the Language Department was comprised of six other faculty members. The annual Mardi Gras was sponsored by the Modern Language Department. In charge of the Mardi Gras proceeding was Mrs. Nancy Frye and Miss Gail Nugent. The court was composed of 2 members from each class.

Mrs. Deborah Miller explains to her students the origin and conjugation of some of the many Spanish verbs that the class is now studying. Latin students Greg May and Louie Martin discover the principles of the devices used in Ancient Roman weaponry during the years of the Punic Wars. Taking advantage of one of the many facilities provided by the school, French students work on the exercises accompanying the last story they read.

HARRY M. REINER . . . German I, II . . . Modern Math III . . . Modern Language Club co-sponsor . . . outside interests include participating in sports, automobiles.

MRS. CLARE G. STOVER . . . French II, III, IV . . . Senior Class adviser . . . French National Honor Society sponsor . . . Language Department head . . . enjoys painting.

English teachers stress importance of writing

Helping each student master the English language and developing an appreciation for literature were among the aims of twelve English teachers in the department.

With guidance from Mrs. Dolores Baroli, acting co-ordinator, these teachers worked toward reaching the objectives of their subjects in daily classroom instruction. The department also gives students the opportunity to participate in essay contests and forensic contests. Seniors wrote essays for the safe driving and National Ability Counts contests. Two plays are produced each year to give students who are interested in dramatics a chance to experience in this field.

The use of anthologies was added to the sophomore English classes. These books were used to introduce the students to a wide variety of types of literature. Senior English classes used vocabulary workbooks for the first time this year. Along with book reports all English classes were encouraged to do outside reading to supplement their regular class work.

Commercial classes stress skills for office workers

Typing students strive to improve their skills. Commercial girls learn to duplicate business letters. Business education students make use of typing practice room after school.

Eight teachers aided students in the study of commercial subjects to increase their potential for future careers as secretaries and office workers. Included in the curriculum for the pupils were shorthand, typing and bookkeeping.

While receiving training in the many facets of the commercial course, students gained the valuable qualities of proficiency and accuracy, both necessary for success in the business world. Many activities were carried on by the Business Education Club, which proved to be not only a benefit to the school, but an important asset to the community. The main objective of the organization was intended to supplement business activities and studies.

Mrs. Martha Barlock, Mrs. Louise Vecchetti and Mrs. Virginia Goodman recheck a supply order list. John Ferment and Leroy Palmer begin the job of delivering incoming materials. Mr. Ferment is a night worker, while Mr. Palmer is on the day staff.

The custodial staff undertook the duties involved with maintaining a clean and well-equipped plant.

Jobs of the staff members included daily clean-up, repair work, supply deliveries and inventory check-ups. The janitorial employees worked shifts to insure proper efficiency in carrying out these assigned duties. The staff consisted of eight women and four men.

Preparing the noon meal for faculty and students was an important duty fulfilled by the food service personnel.

The staff, comprised of 15 women, working daily to serve balanced dishes of meat, vegetables, desserts and milk, was under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Bates, food service supervisor.

Medical staff offers health care to pupils

Medical services were again offered to the students of Greater Latrobe Senior High School.

Dr. Clay F. Gibson, headed the medical staff which consisted of six other physicians. Mrs. Estelle Novak, school nurse, was available in the health suite during the school day. She aided any student that became ill or received an injury.

Mr. William West, home and school visitor, worked with the school administrators and the school nurse. He checked on absentee problems in all the schools of the district. Mr. Charles Ferney instructed the special education students in preparing themselves for the future.

CLASSES

Classes accept challenges set forth during school year

Sophomores, juniors and seniors all united in attitude and spirit for the challenges of another year. Each class performed the duties expected of its students and officers. But most important, the entire student body worked together as a whole to make 1969 a successful one at GLSHS.

As the 1968-69 school term comes to an end, the once confused, uncertain sophomores had eagerly assumed active roles as tenth graders in their new school life at Greater Latrobe Senior High.

Class officers were elected during the first few weeks of school. Those winning the honors were William Newton, president; Alexis Melnick, vice-president; Susan Carter, secretary; Richard Pohland, treasurer; and Craig Beeghley, Student Council representative.

The boys as well as the girls represented their class in the athletic program. The girls took an active part in intramural volleyball, basketball, bowling, tennis and swimming. The boys in the class took part in the interscholastic competition with other schools in football, basketball, cross-country, track, tennis, baseball, wrestling, golf and swimming.

Other tenth graders utilize their spare time by joining in extracurricular activities including band, orchestra, chorus and the different clubs. Future upperclassmen had their first experience with forensics this year. Sophomores displayed their speaking and writing abilities.

Tenth graders join groups, participate in contests

Assuming the responsibilities of leading the Sophomore class are Bill Newton, president; Richard Pohland, treasurer; Alexis Melnick, vice-president; and Craig Beeghly, student council representative. Accompanied by Brenda Cook, Rick Ross and Dennis Kostley rehearse for the Christmas assembly. Several tenth graders smile as they look at their homeroom Christmas decoration. Diane Neely and Debbie Zera show support of their winning football team by signing one of the many posters displayed in the hall.

Bill Kenly reads the Spanish written poster advertising a bullfight. Tom Inselmini, John Kent and Karen McQuire pause in the stair-well of the Liberal Arts Building to talk about a school dance. Examining a sheet of music. Bob Smith, Jeff Syster and Suzanne Carter realize the difficult parts for them to play while marching in a parade.

Junior class officers plan entertainment for May prom

Fred Nindle, Nancy Maloney, Pat Papuga and Pam Truxal, junior members of the prom decorating committee, listen as Paula Clark explains how to make flowers.

As juniors witnessed the presentation of the class key, they had visions of the role of leadership they were inheriting.

The year brought a different view to many eleventh grade students. Some strived to make the distinguished honor roll, while others couldn't get their minds off that big game. Still others practiced cheers and planned assemblies, as the athletic type perfected their "roundball beat." Some made their debuts in dramatics, forensics, debates, varsity sports, and the junior-senior prom.

Juniors devoted many hours to making this year's prom one that will long be remembered. Although many had sleepless nights and uncompleted homework, none of this was regretted, for making the most important event of the year a success was the only thought in their minds. Those worthy of acceptance attained membership in the Quill and Scroll, Mu Alpha Theta, and National Honor Society.

Officers show merit as class leaders

Memories of hard work, discoveries and fun-filled hours greeted this year's graduating seniors.

Their high school days ended with the commencement exercise early in June. The class of 1968-69 is the first graduating class to complete all three years in the Senior High School building. During these months they showed their abilities in many areas. Capable actors took part in the Senior Class play, "Hip Hippy Hooray."

Senior members of the Pep Club helped to boost this year's school spirit to an all-time high. Four members of the class received letters of commendation for their scores on the National Merit Scholarship Test. Qualified seniors belonged to such honorary societies as Mu Alpha Theta, Quill and Scroll, French and Spanish National Honor Societies and the National Honor Society.

The class of 1968-69 chose Jay Yancy to lead them. John Inselmini served as vice-president; Lorraine Hricik, secretary; Mary Theresa Stasio, treasurer; and Joseph Rosa, Student Council Representative. The class adviser was Mrs. Clare Stover, language teacher.

Johnette Zappone listens as Dot Solick explains the fundamentals of the sextant to Dan Resnic during Astronomy class. Three seniors display their class rings which serve as a token of fond memories at Greater Latrobe High. Adding needed finishing touches to a poster are seniors, John Karaszia and Marilyn Tlumac.

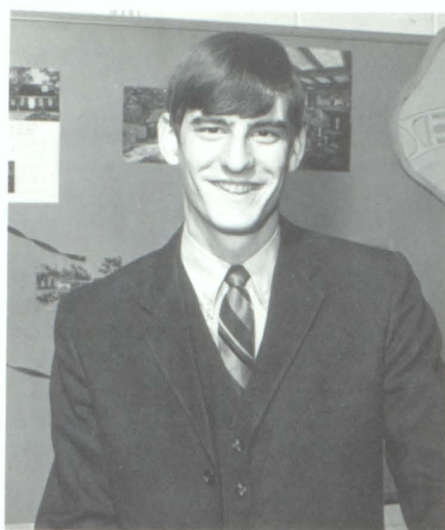

Mariann McCallen practices her organ piece that she is to play during one of the assemblies. Lori Hricik, secretary, and Jay Yancy, president, display the class flag to Tessie Stasie, treasurer; Joe Rosa, Student Council representative and John Inselmire, vice-president. Susy Reed, Jim Rumbaugh and Charlene Roble look through just a few of the many college catalogues the schools send to the guidance office to help students make their choices. Bernadette Ewanits straightens Gary Vella's graduation cap while Becky Jurkiewicz offers helpful suggestions.

DARLENE COOK — Music

JACK SILLAMAN — Industrial Arts

LORRAINE HRICIK — Scholarship

In January ten seniors were voted as outstanding students by their fellow classmates for excelling in various school related activities.

KATHLEEN OTTO — Dramatics

CHARLES KARAZSIA — Athletics

KATHRYN SILVIS — Forensics

FRANCES YANARELLA — Journalism

PATRICIA KERR — Commercial

JOSEPH YANCY — Leadership

LINDA EVANS — Homemaking

Ten seniors gain commendation for achievements

Ten seniors were recognized by their fellow classmates as exhibiting the qualities necessary to be selected outstanding in a particular phase of school life.

Named as outstanding senior in scholarship was Lori Hricik. She was a member of the NHS, Mu Alpha Theta and NHS. She also served as head cheerleader. Joseph Yancy showed leadership quality as president of the Senior Class. He was a two year football letterman.

Kathryn Silvis, selected for her speaking ability, received the forensics award. She was a Women's Club contest winner for two consecutive years. Participating in three musicals earned for Darlene Cook the most outstanding senior award in music. She had the lead role in two performances. Excelling in the field of journalism was Frances Yanarella. She acted as the editor of the "Latrobean." She was also the president of Quill and Scroll.

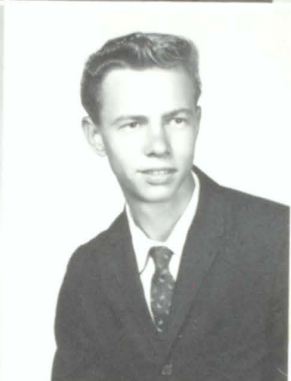

Charles Karazia was selected most outstanding in athletics. He was a member of the Big "33" football team and a two-year letterman. Excelling in the homemaking course, Linda Evans received this award. She was an active member of the FHA. Named as outstanding senior in Industrial Arts, Jack Sillaman showed his ability in this particular course. He served as president of the Aviation Club.

Patty Kerr, a member of the Business Education Club was recognized by her achievements in the business course. Showing her outstanding acting ability in the Senior Class play, Kathy Otto received recognition in dramatics.

Preparing for the Monday broadcast is Rosanne Bodziak, while Gloria Melago aids in the technical facilities, and Bill Harvey stands by to sound the chimes. Nearing the production of the Senior Class play, Marie Gaudino and Peggy Palmer stop Chuck Huska to inquire if he plans to attend the performance.

The Senior Class was saddened by the tragic death of RICHARD CMAR on July 3, 1968. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cmar of 139 Fourth Avenue, Latrobe. Enrolled in the Vocational Drafting course, Richard was active in his home room programs. He was a two-year swimming letterman and participated in the 100-yard butterfly event and the 400-yard freestyle relay team.

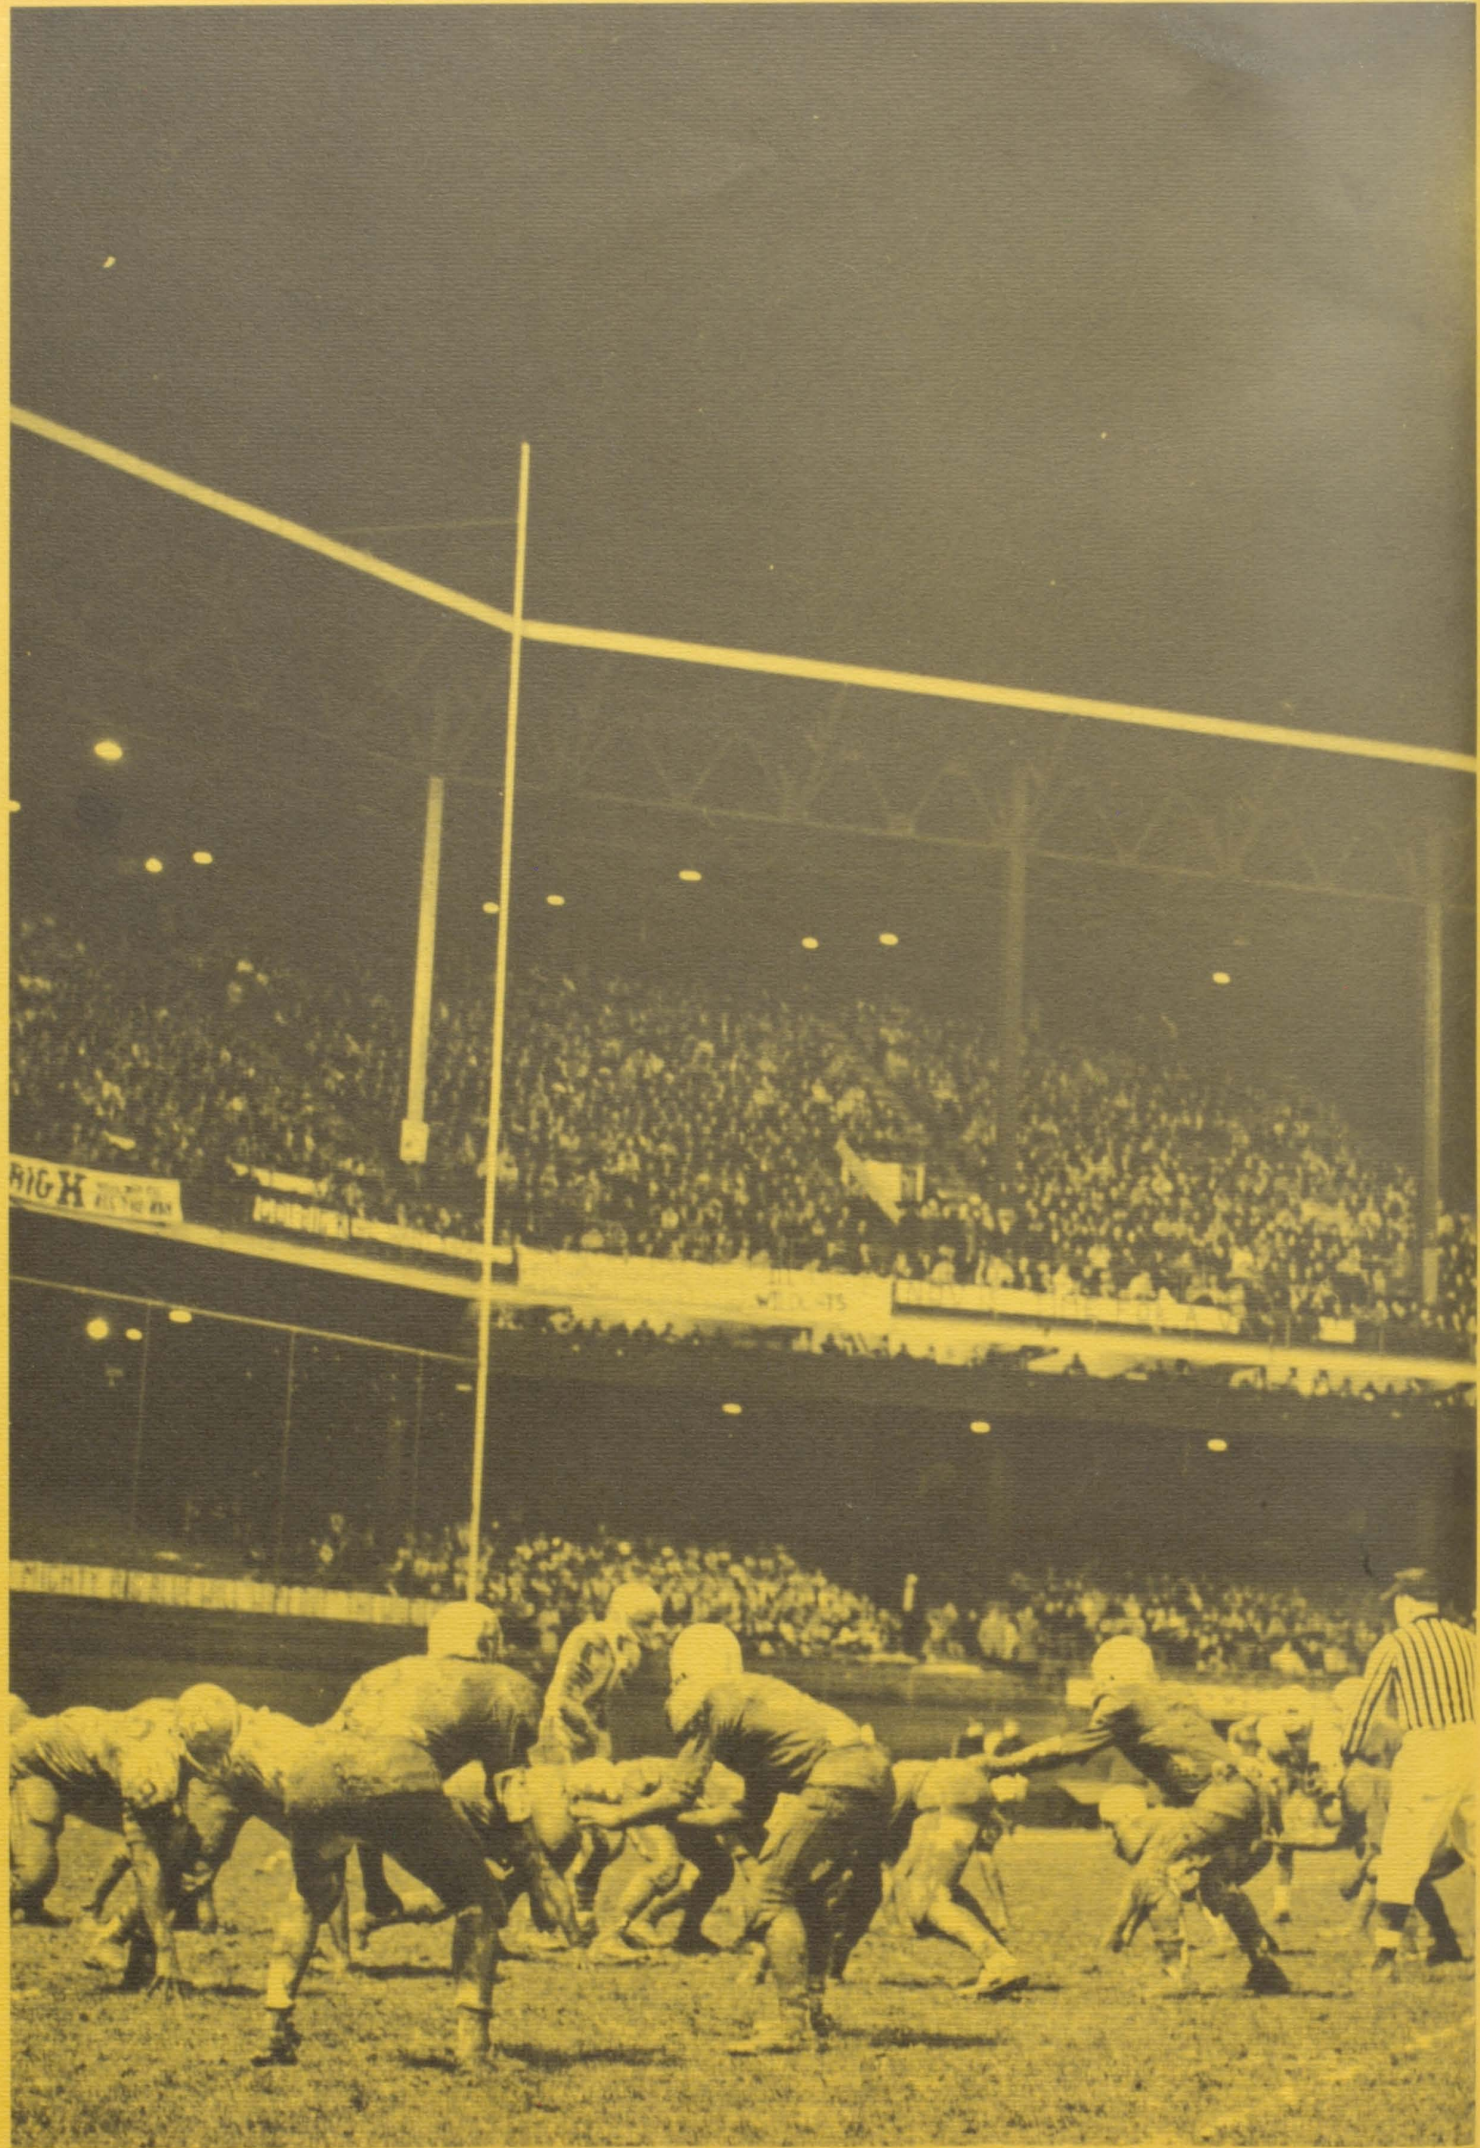

SPORTS

A football team that became The 'AA' champs, a basketball team with a winning season, a golf squad that took the county title, a rifle team that shot its way to a winning season — all these and more put Latrobe on top in sports.

Varsity teams triumph over section foes for winning seasons

Latrobe's cross-country team ended their 1968-1969 season with a winning record of 8 wins against 2 losses.

Senior letterman, Bill Harvey, won special honors by finishing second in the WPIAL finals and by capturing a tenth place in state meet.

In regular season meets, the local harriers opened with a 27-37 loss to Kiski Area. The wildcat thinclads then went on to win the next eight contests. They defeated Conemough, Westmont, 16-52-58; Derry Area, 19-36; Southmoreland, 24-31; and Greensburg 21-34.

In October the Latrobe runners outlasted Uniontown, 24-31; Norwin, 27-28; Gateway, 25-30; and Wilkensburg, 25-30. Coach William West's squad ended the season by bowing Connellsville, 29-26.

Dave Johnston and Charlie Kozlesky, senior members of the cross country team, head for the finish line nearing the end of their track meets.

Senior letterman, Bill Harvey finished in first place during a home meet as Dennis Holzer hands him a place slip. Later in the season he represented Latrobe and placed 10th in the state cross country championship. Latrobe's cross-country team competes in a home match with Wilkensburg in regular season play. The Wildcat harriers posted eight wins and two losses during the course of the year.

Wildcats down Kiski for WPIAL honors

For the first time in the history of the school, the 1968 Wildcat football team gained a WPIAL Class "AA" championship.

The Latrobe eleven downed Kiski Area in the play-off for the crown 19-7 on November 15 at a muddy Forbes Field. The unbeaten Cats also won the Foothills Conference title and the Westmoreland County championship as well.

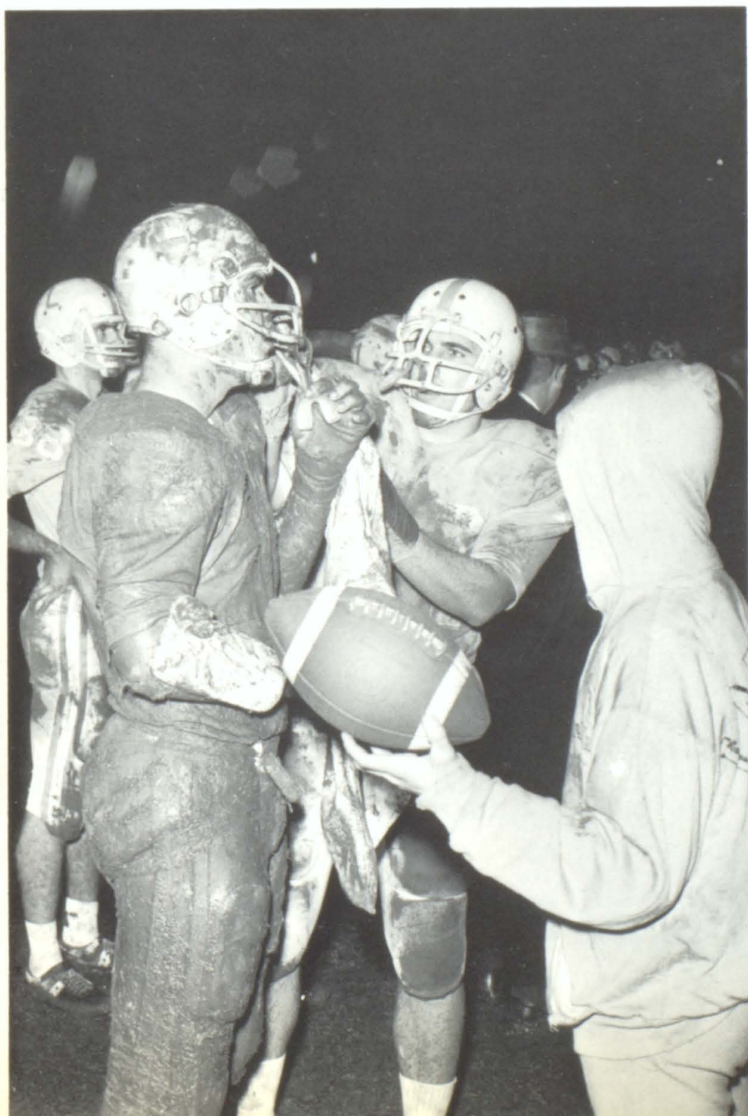

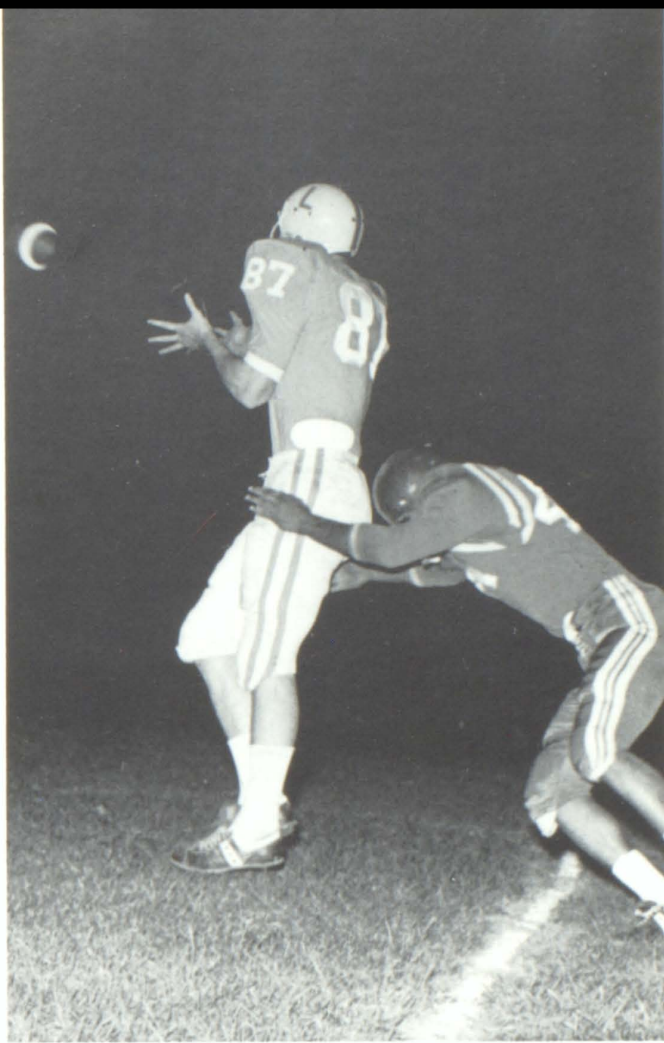

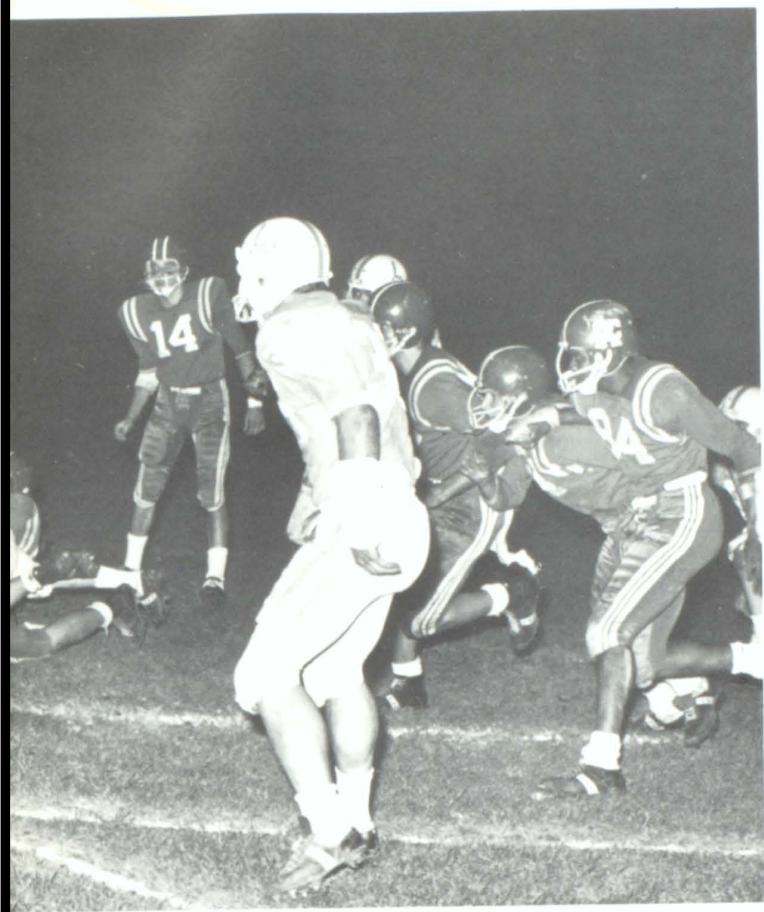

In the title game Latrobe jumped off to a 13-0 first quarter lead with a pass from Jim Siko to Jim Kralik and a long run by Art Colegrande. The Cavaliers pulled closed with a second period tally. The Wildcats tallied once more when Jim Siko sneaked.

Coach Charles V. Findley ended his 13 years as head mentor with these gridiron accomplishments.

Fullback Elmer Olson is stopped short of the Connellsville goal line by Falcon defenders in the closest game the Wildcats had during the season.

Mike Sarnese runs for a big gainer against Derry Area with the help of a Jay Yancy block. Wildcat end Charles Karazsia reaches for a pass in the "AA" play-off with Kiski Area.

Charles Karazsia attempts to catch a long pass as a Jeannette defender tackles him. Several muddy Wildcats take a break along the sidelines in the Kiski-Latrobe title game. In the title game with Kiski Area, Mike Sarnese is tackled after a short gain. Reserve back Jim Kornides is brought down after a few yards. Tim O'Rourke rolls out in the Tiger game shortly before he was injured.

Latrobe eleven wins nine straight games

In compiling the unbeaten gridiron season, the Wildcats won 8 conference games and one non-league contest.

The season began against the Class 'A' Sewickley Area Bisons with the Cats rolling to a 40-0 victory. In their first Class 'AA' and Foothills effort, the Latrobe eleven pounded Derry Area 49-0. They continued shutting-out foes in the next four games with wins over Mt. Pleasant 48-0, Wilkinsburg 28-0, Jeannette 48-0 and Hempfield Area 41-0.

A last minute pass-interception in their own end-zone ended a possible tie as the Cats won 14-7 over Connellsville. They were scored upon for the first time. In the final games the Wildcats had no difficulty winning over Greensburg-Salem 31-12 and Norwin 59-0.

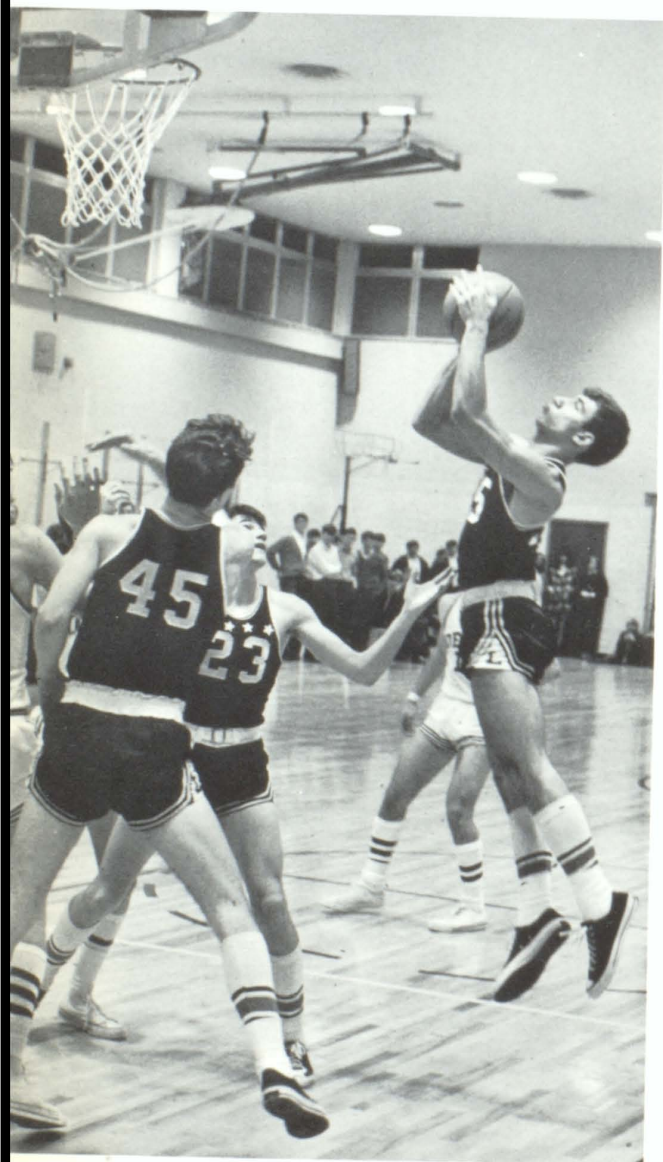

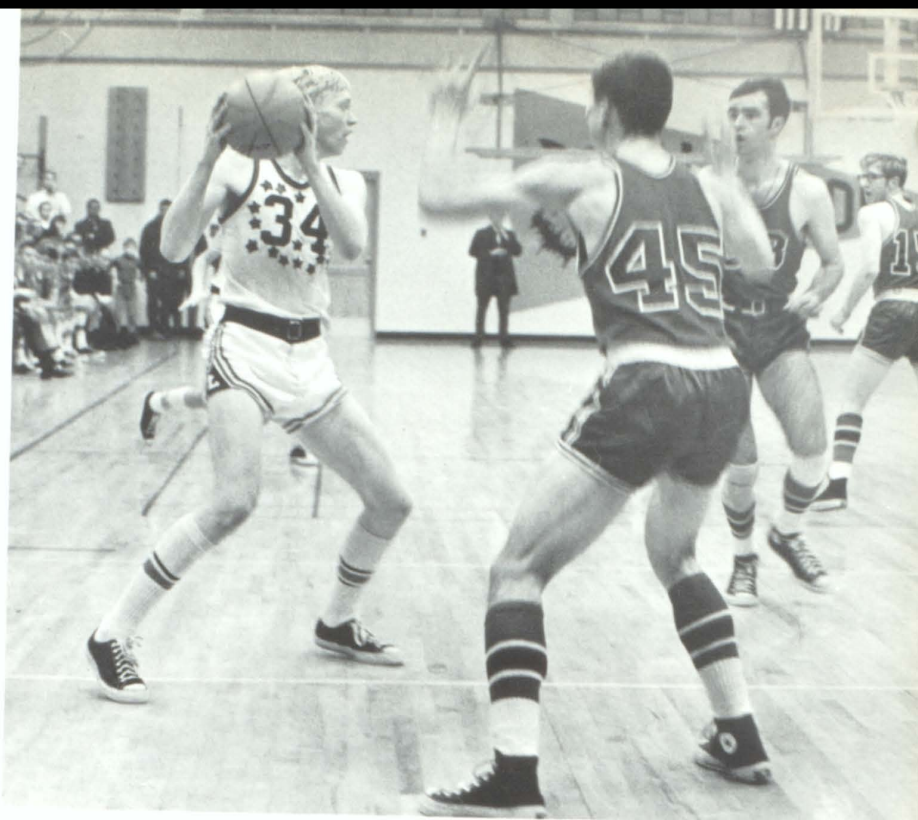

The junior varsity compiled a 4 win and 1 loss record. After suffering a 26-13 setback to Hempfield, they won over Connellsville 13-7, Greensburg 12-6, Derry Area 14-0 and Gateway 34-7.

Cage team falters in section race

Senior letterman, Steve Scheeren, guarded by Jayhawk's roundballer Ron Spozio, prepares to make a pass during the Latrobe-Jeannette game which the Wildcats won 40-36.

Finishing tied for third in Section 2-A, the Wildcat basketball team had a 8-4 league record.

For the third consecutive year the cage team of Coach Mike Swogger compiled a winning season. The Latrobe roundballers finished the schedule with 14 wins against 8 losses.

After jumping off to a 6-0 record in the first half of section action, the Labrobe five slumped and dropped the next three league games. When senior Steve Scheeren, only returning letterman, sprained an ankle the squad faltered and lost three straight. Early wins at home over pre-season section favorites, Norwin and Jeannette were highlights of the year.

In exhibition games the Wildcats lost the three opening games. They rebounded to capture four out of the five remaining pre-sessions to break even in exhibition action. Playing in the Norwin Holiday Tournament in late December the Latrobe team downed Hempfield in the first round, then went on to capture the championship from Greensburg-Salem, 57-56, after six overtimes.

The varsity squad loses only four seniors from its ranks, Steve Scheeren, who finished second in section scoring, Tom Gray, Bernie Rafferty and Bill Nicholas.

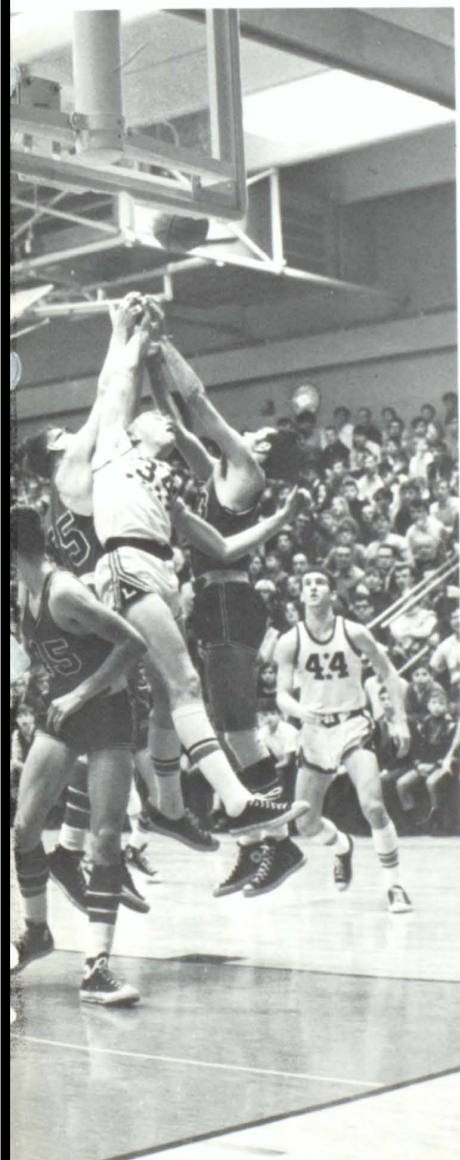

Coach Wayne Etling's reserve team recorded 12 wins and seven losses, along with an unusual tie. Rich Kruzynski, a sophomore, lead the jayvee scorers with 236 points.

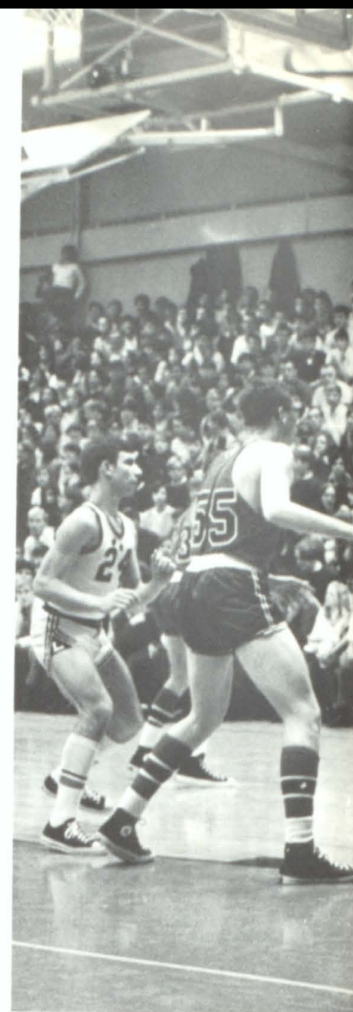

Art Colagrande, junior roundballer, attempts to shoot while team mates, Tom Marucco and Jeff Meholic, move in for a possible rebound against the Derry Area cagers.

Members of the varsity basketball squad anxiously watch fellow teammates strive to sink a final basket while the clock shows precious time running out. Wildcat top score-maker, Steve Schereen, battles with Jeanette opponents in the effort of recovering a rebound and knocking it into the awaiting hands of Latrobe's Jeff Meholic. Roundballer Steve Schereen leaps in the attempt to tip the jump ball into the possession of players Bill Nicholas or Tom Gray.

Pointing out the scoring procedures of target shooting is junior Ron Sistik. Riflemen Randy Sirois, Ron Burns and Dennis Pushkar listen to the explanation. Scoring is determined on a possible ten points basis.

At a neutral range, the Latrobe rifle team of Coach James Harvey lost the play-off match for the Section II title to Greensburg-Salem 499-498.

The season began on January 7 with a Latrobe 593-592 victory over host Hempfield Area, and then defeated Gateway by a 496-490 score. Next the Cats hosted Franklin Regional on January 30 and squeezed past the Spartans 789-788. On January 23, Kiski Area, the Cats next opponent, was defeated by the local sharpshooters 498-496. In the next two matches, the Wildcats preserved their perfect record by defeating Greensburg-Salem and Hempfield by scores of 887-886 and 498-495, respectively.

Gateway handed the Wildcats their first loss of the season, 499-495. The Latrobe marksmen started on their winning ways again by defeating Franklin Area 496-495 and Kiski Area again by a 499-498.

In their final regular season match the local riflemen lost a close 600-599 decision to second place Greensburg which deadlocked the two teams.

Watching the action on the mats are Cliff Long, Scott Cochran, Coach Creed Westfall and Assistant Coach Frank Puschnigg. Vying for a decision in the 180 pound class match, junior Denny Jones is in control.

Bob Benson attempts a take down on his 154 pound opponent during a home match. The senior wrestler was a co-captain for the year.

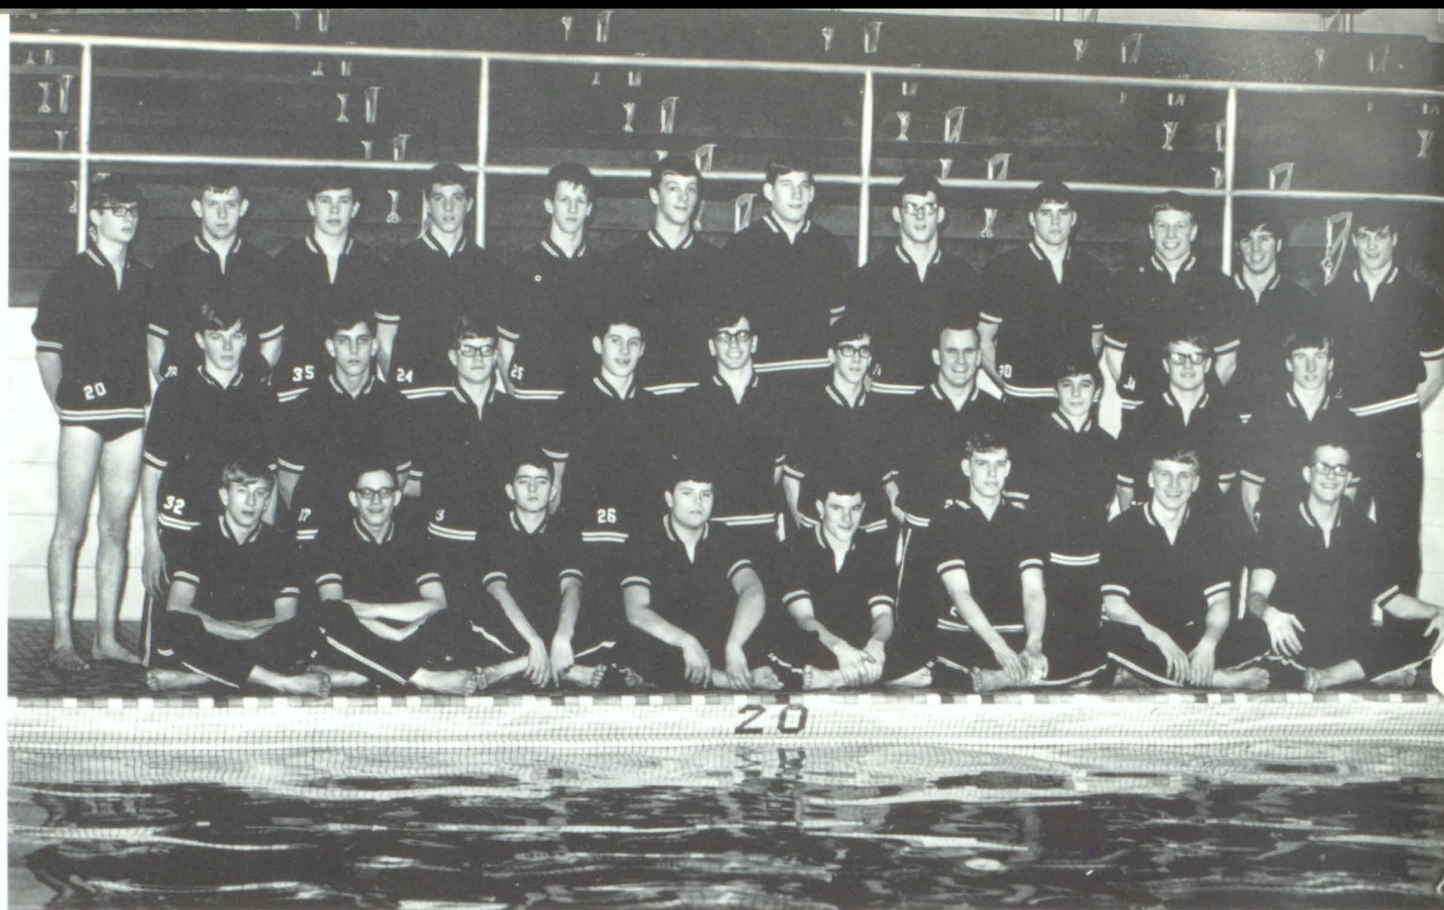

The Wildcat grapplers season results showed six wins against five losses. A number of wrestlers had impressive individual records also.

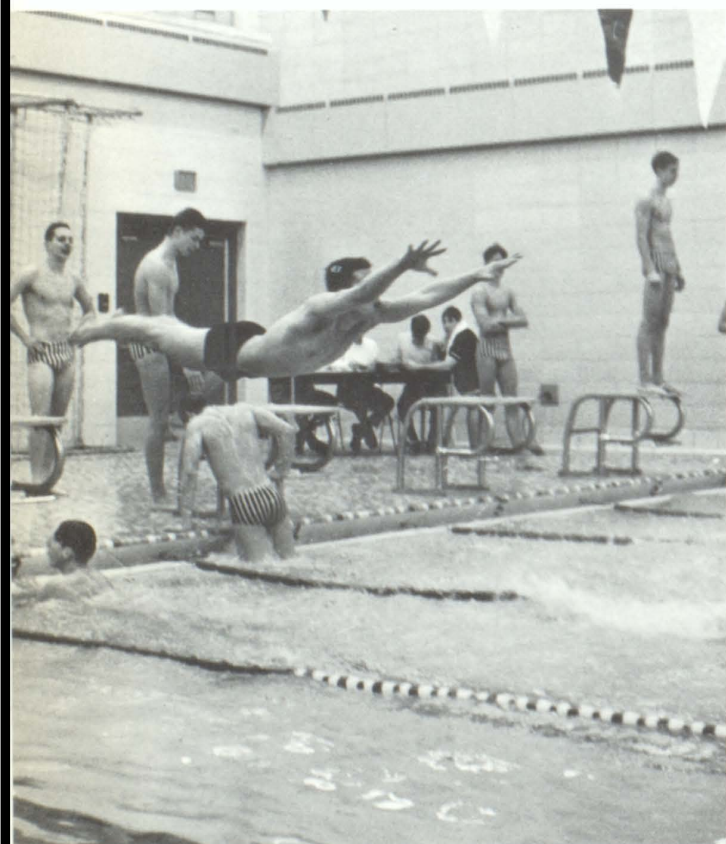

Coach Creed Westfall's squad finished third in the annual Westmoreland County Coaches Tournament in a field of 12 teams. Latrobe champions were Doug Reintgen, 95 pounder, and Dave Johnston, 127 pound grappler. Denny Jones was the runner-up in the 180 pound division.

Regular winners in addition to these county champions were Barry Newmyer, 88 pounder who was undefeated in dual competition, Dave Wendell, 120, Bob Benson, 145, and Cliff Long, 165. The Cat wrestlers started strong in dual matches, but dropped three of the last four matches on the schedule. Of the starters only three, Dave Johnston, Bob Benson and Bud McIlnay, were seniors.

Students participate in intramural games

Intramural sports, including tennis, flag football and girls' volleyball were held last fall while basketball was played this spring.

The singles and doubles division champions in tennis were chosen by means of eliminations. Winners in singles' division were Pam Truxal and Bernard Vittone. Doubles' champions included teams comprised of Janice Joseph and Pam Truxal, and Bernard Vittone and Jack Sillaman.

Flag football was introduced to the student body for the first time this year. Each home room entered a team with home room S-111 winning the championship. Junior girls were the victors in the intramural volleyball contest. Approximately 15 girls comprised the team. The group remained undefeated after five contests against teams made up of sophomores, juniors and seniors,

Girls' tennis champions were Janice Joseph and Pam Truxal. Intramural volleyball winners seated are Janet Palanko, Nancy Sopcisak, Barbara Dudzinsky, Mary Biller, Darlene Kissell and Lucille Harr. Standing are Janice Joseph, Carolyn Schimpf, Patty Dalton, Peggy O'Connor, Linda Rutter, Cathy Hollenback and Pam Truxal.

Scott Holden, Mark Hartman, Jim Hauser, Bud Gondos, Ken Hawk, Mike Himich and Dave Goodman were the victors in flag football competition held among the homerooms. After defeating numerous competitors, Pam Truxal and Bernard Vittone captured the individual boy and girl tennis titles.

"... sugar and spice and everything nice. That's what little girls are made of?" Yes, that's what little girls are made of according to one of the many well-loved nursery rhymes which were enacted at the third annual synchronized swimming show during the third week in April.

Swimming to the theme, "Nautical Nursery," the pool was transformed into a miniature Mother Goose land. Such rhymes as "Little Miss Muffet" and "Jack and Jill" were set to music. Under the supervision of Mrs. Carole Hartman, gym instructor at the senior high, and Miss Mary Lou Atkinson, an English teacher at the junior high, 53 girls participated in the program.

Tryouts, held early in February, determined the participants in the event. Such stunts as a baracuda, submarine and porpoise had to be mastered before the girls met qualifications.

For the first time, not only students from the senior high, but those around the entire Latrobe area were eligible to tryout. Approximately 10 male members also joined the synchronized group.

Senior letterman Bill Harvey, followed by teammate Dave Johnston, crosses the finish line in the mile run during a triangular track meet at Memorial Stadium.

Seven dual meets and two triangular meets made-up the regular schedule for Coach William West's 1969 squad.

After opening the season against Norwin on April 3, the cindermen hosted the Wilksburg team. Following their third meet of the season, with the Hempfield Spartans, the Wildcats attended the Indiana Invitational.

The squad's first triangular meet was against Franklin and Westmont. A dual event with Derry Area and Greensburg-Salem followed. The WPIAL Relays meet was held at Penn Hills on April 26. After meeting the Kiski Area Cavaliers, the Wildcats held their second triangular meet with Mt. Pleasant and Indiana. The final regular meet of the season was against Connelville. The WPIAL Qualifier, the Westmoreland County meet, the WPIAL meet and the PIAA finals took place in May.

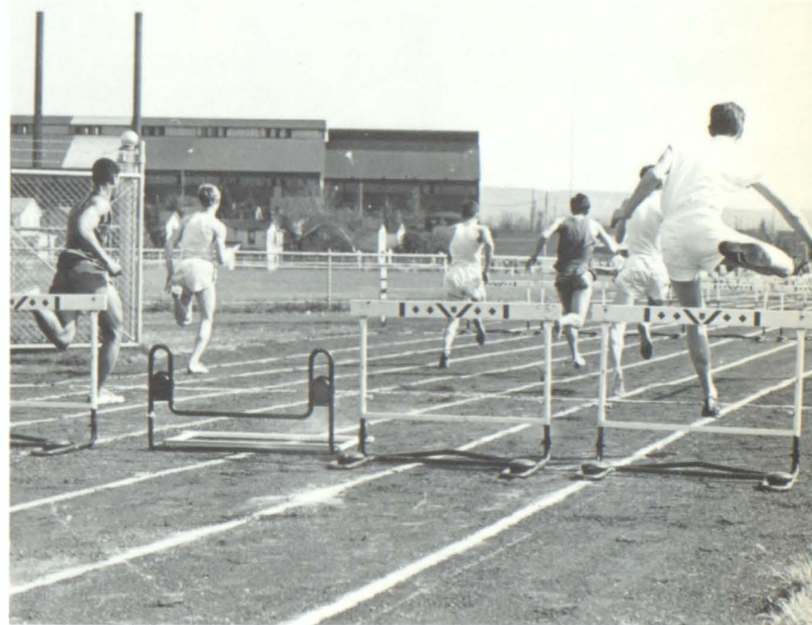

Returning lettermen were Bill Harvey, Jim Siko, Charles Karazsia, Al Kabana, Bill Eckenrode, Frank Gondos, Steve Schereen, Gary Dillon, Dave Johnston, Tom Karazsia, Charlie Kozlesky, Dan Resenic and Mike Sarnese.

Over 60 boys attended the first meeting for track candidates held in February. New equipment was available for the cindermen.

Track squad competes against nine rivals

Steve Scheeren strives to clear the bar in the high jump event. Latrobe head track coach, Mr. William West, discusses the team's progress with assistant coaches John Charlesworth and David Graham.

Practicing his pole-vaulting technique is an important aspect of track and field events for junior trackster Tom Vesley, as he prepares for an upcoming meet by successfully completing an eight foot vault. Sharing the six starting positions with their competitors are Latrobe runners Al Kabana, Joe Svidron and Bill Harvey, poised to begin a half-mile run.

Baseball team earns victories over foes

In the initial season, Coach Richard Pipak's squad began baseball practice on March 4 and opened play in the first exhibition game with Jeannette on April 8.

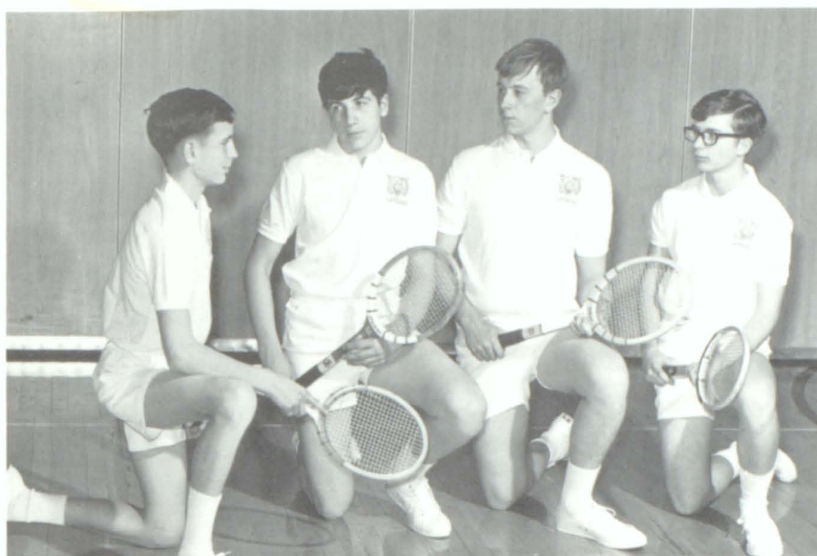

The exhibition season continued for three weeks as the Cats played Jeannette, Laurel Valley, Sewickley, Penn High and West Newton both at home and away.

Latrobe competed in Section VII of the WPIAL with Norwin, Mt. Pleasant, Hempfield, Greensburg, Jeannette, South Huntingdon and Kiski. The Wildcats visited Norwin on April 24 to begin section play and then met the Mt. Pleasant Vikings in the home opener on Saturday, April 26. Play continued as the Cats traveled to Hempfield to meet the Spartans on April 29 and hosted Greensburg on May 1.

On May 3 and 8 the local nine visited Jeannette and Kiski, respectively. They clashed with South Huntingdon on May 6 at the local diamond. The Cats met each section opponent again and completed their season on May 24.

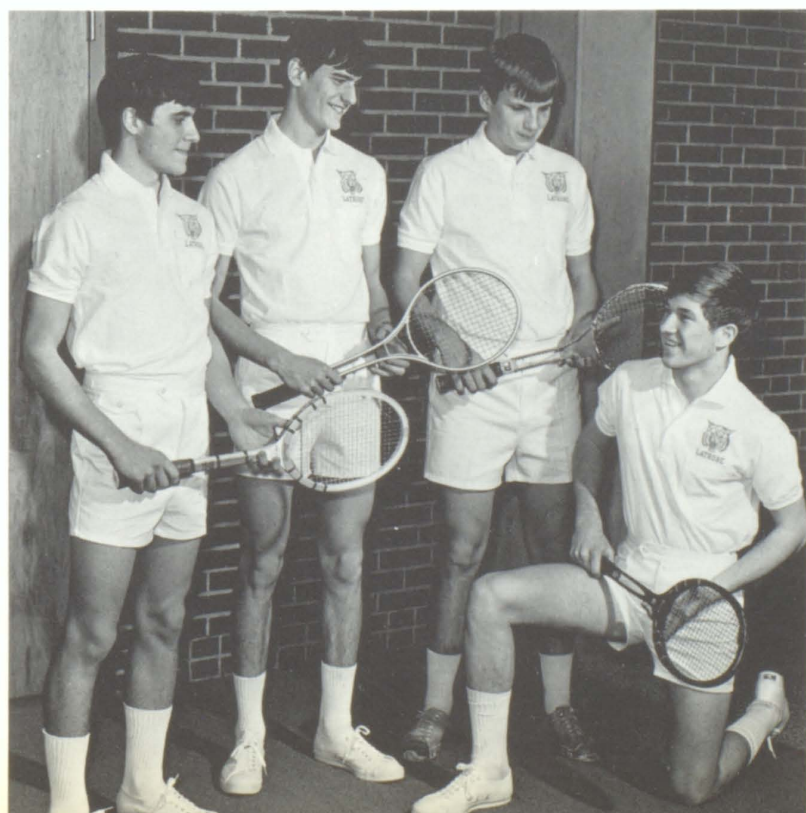

Coach Richard Pipak shows the proper way to hold the bat to Bill Kenly, John Bosco and Danny Jacobs. Gary Vella demonstrates catching techniques with Sy Straka, John Karazsia, Rich Kozusko and Chuck Huska. Tennis court action results in victories

Bernard Vittone, David Herrala and Jim Rombach admire their new uniforms and review the style for their backstrokes. Tennis manager Kevin Metz with Ed Laposky and Larry Ulishney inspects the quality of recently acquired tennis balls while coach Earl Karasack checks the roster of sophomore squad members. Doug Reintgen, Dave Butch, Tom Mayewski and Dave Luttner think about the advantages of competitive drills during practice sessions. During the year sophomores, juniors and seniors on the tennis team participated in matches with area teams.

With four returning lettermen Latrobe's tennis squad attempted to defend its WPIAL Section VI championship of last season.

Beginning practice in March, Coach Earl Karasack's netmen played several exhibition matches before their regular season began. During the course of the season opponents included Greensburg-Salem, Mt. Pleasant, Norwin, Southmoreland and Connellsville.

Lettermen returning from last year's Wildcat team were Gene Ulishney, junior, Bill Townsend, senior, Carl Neigoot, junior and Jack Sillaman, senior. Other members of the squad were Bernie Vittone, Jim Rombach, Dave Herrala and Charles Hawkins. Sophomores Larry Ulishney, Dave Luttner, Doug Reigten, Tom Mayewski, Ed Laposky and Don Butch played. The tennis team sported uniforms for the first time.

Wildcat tennis lettermen Gene Ulishney, Jack Sillaman, Bill Townsend and Carl Neigoot discuss the advantages of steel rackets over conventional wooden models and recall experiences during last year's WPIAL play-offs.

Golf squad captures county championship

With only two returning lettermen, the Wildcat golfers captured the Section III championship and advanced to the semifinals of the W.P.I.A.L. play-offs before losing.

The linksmen, making a season move from spring to fall action, completed the regular league matches with an 8-2 record. After playing some six exhibition matches, the Latrobe golfers began their regular season by defeating Jeannette by the score of 16-0. In the next match with the Hempfield Spartans on September 19 the local team lost 9½-6½. On September 24, the Wildcats defeated Greensburg 12½-3½; then they won a double match over Derry Area and Jeannette, 12-4 and 13-3.

Their second loss came against Hempfield, 8½-7½ on October 4. Coach Robert Cook's squad won over Derry 15½-1½. On October 10, the Wildcats closed out the season defeating Greensburg-Salem and Ligonier, 9-7 and 10½-5½.

ACTIVITIES

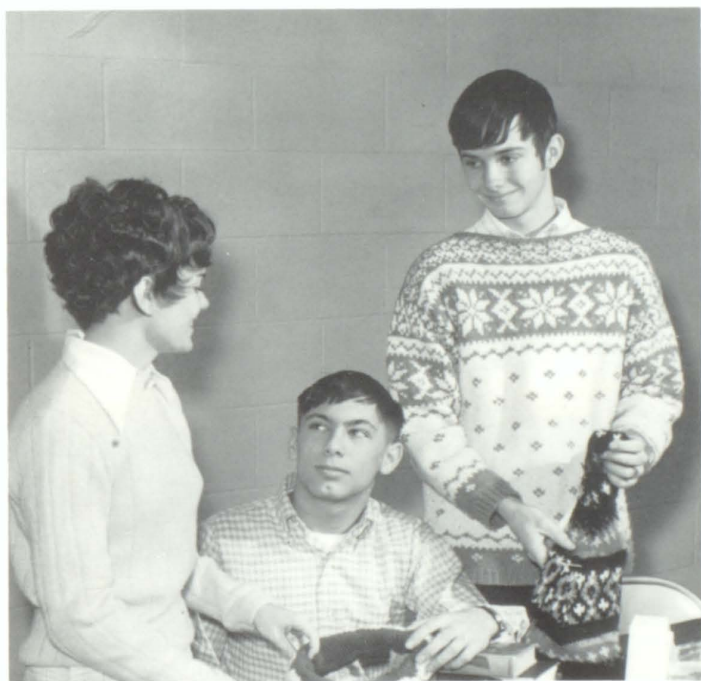

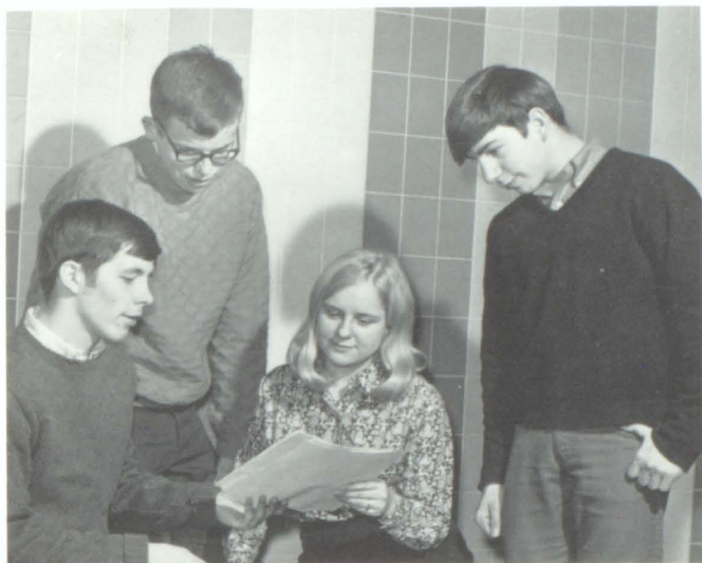

Active organizations round-out life of participants

Extracurricular activities, that included clubs and organizations, class plays, the musical, forensics and others, helped to round out the life of the student. These stimulated the interest beyond the required course and gave the student a sense of responsibility when assuming an office or position.

Student Council members, Leon Noel, Dennis Beatty, Janet McIntyre and Neil Lynch familiarize themselves with the organization's new constitution which went into affect this year. Senior Linda Eupizi fulfills one of the council's responsibilities, that of conducting the opening ceremony for assemblies.

Lost and Found attendant Dave Wendell aids fellow students Sylvia Stouffer and John Robbins in locating items they misplaced during the winter. Marilyn Smith, treasurer, Dan Resenic, president, Julie Mattioli, secretary, and Pat Arnold, vice-president, officers of the Student Council discuss future programs and activities for the student body.

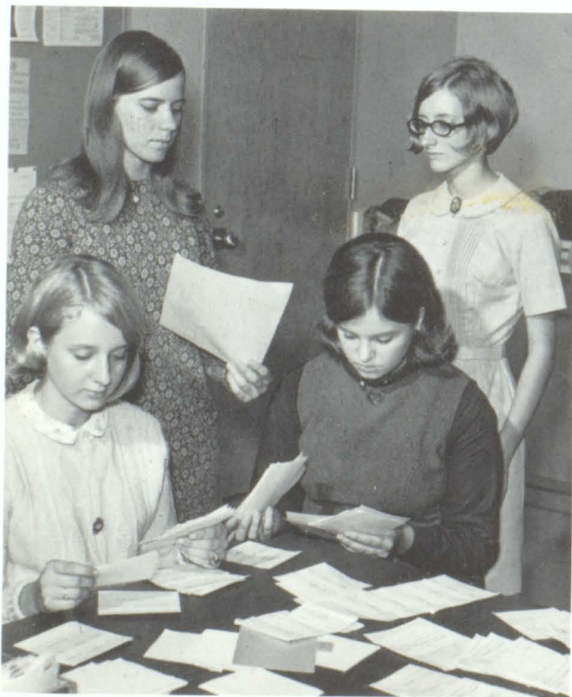

Student council initiates new policies, activities

Student Council representatives elected from homerooms, clubs and other service clubs, played a very active role in school life this year.

With the emphasis upon student government, a number of new projects were undertaken by the organization. A committee revised the Council's constitution. In addition to sponsoring several dances, the members again supervised the Lost and Found. Officers elected were Dan Resnic, president, Pat Arnold, vice president, Julie Mattioli, secretary, and Marilyn Smith, treasurer. Mr. Raymond Halula acted as the adviser.

Staff produces pictorial yearbook, informative paper

Editor-in-chief of "The High Post", Terry Halula and page two editor, Cathy Tanner review a layout problem with assistant editors, Jo Ann Hovanec and Marcia Galetto. Yearbook editors Fran Yanarella, Carolyn Fallecker, Dave Seremet, Nancy Elliott and Janet Kendi work on the design of this year's "Latrobean". Members of the business department, Karen Metz, Cindi Rullo, Lorraine Spinelli and Pam Katana, file "The High Post" and "Latrobean" subscriptions forms during the eighth period. Page three and four editors along with Elaine Aukerman, Dick Baumgardner, Bill Palko, Becky McClarron and Cindy Sweeney check the proofs with their layouts before sending them to the printer.

Sounds of typewriters clicking in the backroom, assignment slips, stories due, layouts — all these were blended together by the Journalism II class to create 12 issues of "The High Post" and the yearbook, the "Latrobean."

Under the supervision of their adviser, Mr. William R. Couchenour, students followed the rules of journalistic style to complete the two publications.

Both the newspaper and "Latrobean" received the "Keystone Award", the top rating awarded by the Pennsylvania School Press Association. The Columbia Scholastic Press Association awarded the publications high ratings.

Journalism I students spent the year mastering fundamentals.

 Seated: Gower, Kunkle, Dempsey, Magray, Johnson, Morley, Clark, Bodziak, Schott, Geary, Bush, Sweeney, C. Row 2: Nevotny, Bridge, Mulheren, S., Mulheren, L., Milko, Palankas, Sweeney, P., Hazlett, Upholster, Jacobina, Burkmeier, Steel, Tua, Soohy, Rorabaugh, Knouse. Row 3: Schifano, Zanetti, Sulkey, Smith, Panichella, Tulenko, Palmer, Sutton, Salandro, R., Salandro, C., Ballash, Forsha, Weber, Versaw, Pallow, Myers.

Bernadette Bridge examines posters in the health room with Marsha Bridge while Patty Tulenko looks over a medical journal. Members of the club, Beth Hazlett, Joyce Rorabaugh and Gwen Kunkle help Jean Novotny in choosing a date for the next meeting. Pointing out some of the membership requirements for the Junior Red Cross is Karen Dempsey to Virginia Fontaine.

HEALTH CAREERS

Seated, O'Barto, Morley, Korona, Clark, Collier, Seremet, Rullo, Zeltner, Steel, Bridge. Row 2: Sevel, Salandro, C., Wible, Salandro, R., Agostine, Fawcett, Fletcher, Silvis, Kissell, Claypool, Ross. Row 3: Benson, Pavlik, Brasili, Martin, Sacca, Calabrace, Hunker, Nicholas, Janson, Weber.

HEALTH CAREERS — Informing students who are interested in pursuing a medical profession was the main object of the club.

Guest speakers and films added to the students' understanding of various medical vocations. Mrs. Estelle Novak, the school nurse, helped the future doctors and nurses in any way she could.

The following students served as officers: Carl Jansen, president; Debbie Schott, treasurer; Jane Fawcett, secretary, and Barb Heide, Student Council Representative.

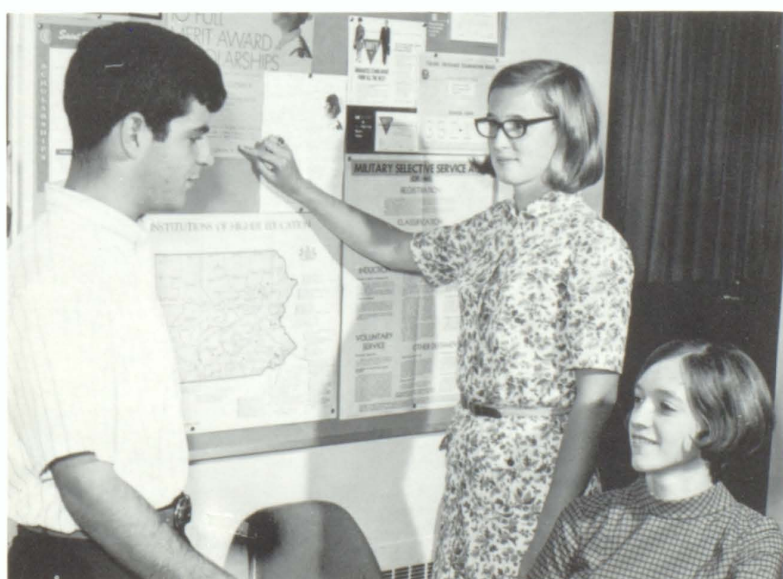

JUNIOR RED CROSS — Charitable works were the duties of the Junior Red Cross. Their motto, "Give to the world the best you have," was followed to its fullest extent by making disaster kits and caroling at the old folks' homes.

Leading the club were Jean Novotny, president; Joyce Rorabaugh, vice-president, Sharon Bush, secretary, Beth Hazlett, treasurer; and Gwen Kunkle, Student Council Representative.

Health club furthers interest in medicine

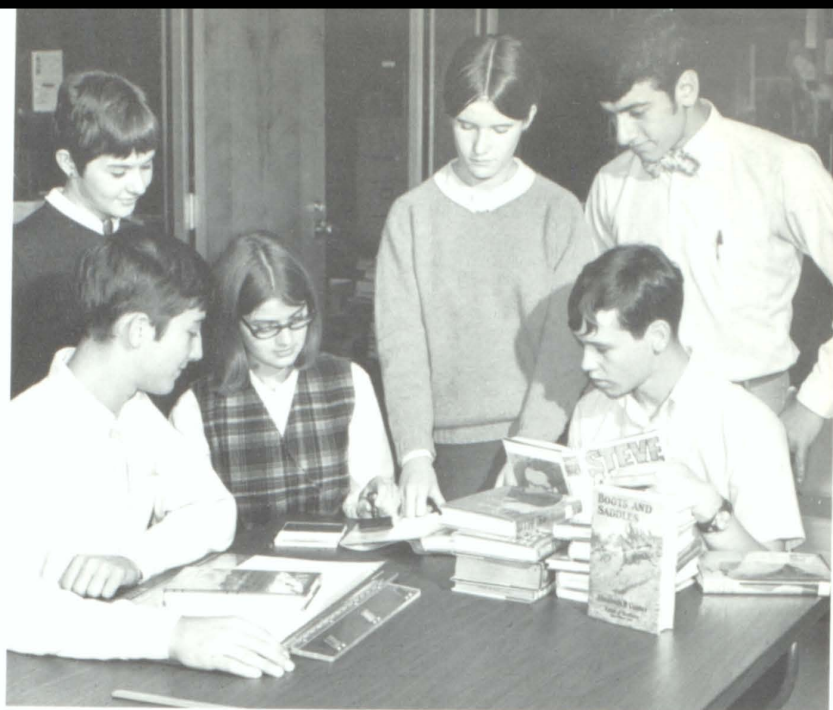

Mary Karpesky, Stephannie Holnailer, Kathy Schifano, Toni Claypool and Barb Dudzinsky, members of the Health Careers Club, discuss current magazine articles dealing with the field of medicine. Janie Fawcett, secretary, points-out some of the many possible medical professions posted on the bulletin board in the guidance office as John Hanna and Bernadette Bridge listen to her comments.

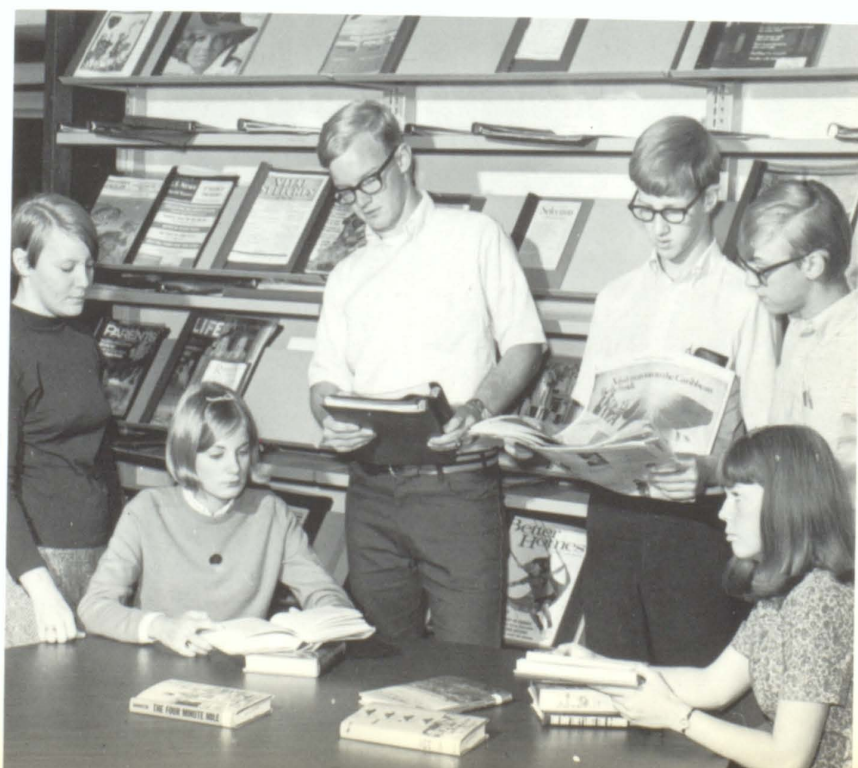

LIBRARIANS—Behind the thousands of books taken from the library this year went hours of work by the student librarians who willingly gave up one study hall a day to help with the library duties.

Twenty girls and nine boys assisted by Miss Mary Fultz in checking books in and out of the library. They processed new books for the shelves and helped students with various reference work. In addition to their many duties they collected, stamped and sorted out all used library permits according to the name of the issuing teacher. These students became acquainted with how the library was operated and its many facilities.

Steve Pallow, Linda Leone, Carol Kapcho, Gail Bewsher, Joe Calabrace and Rick Versaw stamp books. Karen Dempsey, Sheryl Campbell, Marlyn Moore and Kathy Bodnar file book cards.

Librarians Linda O'Bryan, Denise Korona, Patty Nevins, Becky Smith and Janet Nicholas type book lists. Arlene Treskovich, Jay Yancy, Joe Sacca, Mary Healy, Janet Uhrling, Jeanne Myers and Maura Tompko check out books. Reviewing current materials are Sue Atkinson, Beverly Kindl, Frank Gundos, Charles Hawkins, Rick Dishong and Debbie Bender.

Row 3: Knous, Davis, Glitsky, Miller, Mekic, Novotny, Marinchak, M.

Ushers Judy Jones, Marsha Miller and Shirley Gray talk about their duties. Head usher Jean Novotny explains the seating arrangement to Margret Marinchek and Marchetta Wecera.

Ushers provide help at concerts, musical

USHERS—"This way please," was the common expression of the 27 girls selected as ushers for the 1968-69 school year. They served both the school and community at the stadium and high school auditorium.

Under the supervision of Miss Catherine Netzlof, Mercedes Marinchak and Jean Novotny headed the group. Dependability, neatness, punctuality, and a willingness to serve were the chief requirements for acceptance.

Awards are given upon the completion of one year of faithful service. At the end of two years the girls receive a gold pin and guard chain.

Michelle Dargi, Barry Ezykowsky, Diane Kisick, Sylvester Straka and Charlene Roble practice their parts for the Senior Class play. Barb Lauffer and Cammy Molaznik discuss a scene in the production. Kathy Otto rehearses her part for Dave Weber and Linda Eupizi. Lou Martin arrests Alan Hantz.

Juniors display dramatic ability in 'Dino'

Seniors displayed their acting abilities in the three-act comedy "Hip Hippy Hooray" in October.

Suzy Stevenson, played by Barbara Lauffer, was a bright young "square" who rented "The Eat In," a soup kitchen for hippies, from real estate agent Will Hanson, performed by Howard Sevel. Under the leadership of Commander Brotherhood, Paul Beck, were local hippie musicians Diane Kisick, Barry Ezykowski, Sy Straka and Charlene Roble. Other hippies were Michelle O'Barto, Dave Weber, Gail Shumar, Alan Hantz, Susan Fritz, Peggy Shiffler, Jean Michaux and Michelle Dargi.

Suzy's parents were Camelia Moloznik and Mike Kozusko while Kathy Otto portrayed the landlady. Other roles were played by Steve Pallow, Susie Reed, Marty Korzak, Kathy Silvis, Lou Martin, Debbie Hazlett, Joe Sacca, Sharon Frisky, Denny Findish, Cathy Tanner, Fred Blystone, Kathy Lynch, Rick Versaw, Linda Eupizi, Wally Johnson, Brett Roach and Don Peters.

"Dino", the story of a seventeen-year-old's return home after four years in a reform school, was the Junior Class Play.

Dino Falcro was taken to the James Street Settlement House where Mr. Sheridan, a psychotherapist, tried to draw him out of his angry shell. At the settlement house, Dino realized there are many other teenagers like himself. However, his younger brother Tony encouraged his brother to lead a life of crime again. He experienced much mental torture throughout the play, for he had to decide the kind of life he wanted to have.

Included in the cast were John Robbins, Jane Fowler, Tom Marucco, Susan Steinback, Gladys Knaus, Nick Mankovich, Clark Kerr, Janet Palanko, Debbie Baran, Beth Hazlett, Sandy Shirey, Dave Campbell, Becky Miedel, Dave Coblentz, Mary Deluka, Karen Dempsey, Keith Lewis and Rick McDowell.

The student director was Nancy Maloney. Faculty director was Miss Janet Dunlap.

FHA
Seated: Bates, Marchioni, Swieczkowski, Shultz, Stauffer, Janik, Miller, Hasfelt, Cline, Tellin, D'Angelo, Zanetti. Row 2: McCracken, Schutis, Atkinson, Moore, Dalesio, Schultheis, Pudlish, McMahan, Miller, Severa, Beistel, Markosky, B., Antonio. Row 3: Peters, Markosky, B., Gewecke, Beacom, Ford, Shwaley, Smith, Evans, Wible, Kemerer, Salandro, Levay.

FHA—Christmas packages for the Viet Nam servicemen, a submarine sandwich sale, and the annual Christmas and Halloween parties were among the many activities undertaken by the local Future Homemakers of America Chapter this year.

The group attended the annual FHA County Conference at Laurel Valley High School during the month of October and the annual Spring Round-up. At this convention skits and awards were presented.

Miss Jean Hillis and Miss Cheryl Candee acted as co-advisers of the organization. Officers elected were as follows: Mickie Hosfelt, president, Joyce McCracken, vice-president, June Stauffer, secretary, Kathy Shultz, treasurer, Linda Dalesio, student council representative.

BUSINESS EDUCATION CLUB — Approximately 60 junior and senior girls were members at this year's Business Education Club.

Activities of the club included a Christmas party in the middle of December, distributing muscular dystrophy canisters in local business establishments and a swim party in the month of October.

The club is intended to supplement classroom activities with the opportunity to learn what is expected of them as secretaries, receptionists and stenographers. Advising the group was Miss Florence Gill.

Serving as officers of the club were Sandy Treskovich, president; Linda O'Bryan, Vice-President; Diane Kontor, Secretary; Patty Nevins, treasurer; and Janet McIntyre, Student Council representative.

Before a meeting, FHA members JoAnn D'Angelo, Irene Antonio and Melissa Swieczkowski arrange flowers as they were taught in homemaking classes. Mickie Hosfelt, Linda Delesio, June Stauffer and Joyce McCracken, FHA officers, plan the program for the next monthly meeting.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Row 3: Marincheck, M., Salandro, Fontaine, Sutton, Smith, B., Palmer, Smith, C., Rullo, Ruby, O'Bryan, Frye, Mason, Sabota, Shumar, Guzik, Treskovich.

Students learn techniques for future office careers.

Senior Margaret Palmer points-out an article of interest to her fellow classmates Claudia Smith and Becky Smith. As Glenda Beacom perfects her typing technique, Linda Washburn and Patty Kendi oversee her attempts in order to offer suggestions. An article which supplies reasons for being a secretary attracts the attention of senior business education students Diane Kontour, Janet McIntyre, Linda O'Bryan and Sandy Treskovich.

Broadcasters announce current news events

Junior broadcasters include the following: Watson, Demalta, Mrozinsky, Biller, Kissell, Maloney, Chamberlain, Clark, Schimpf, Yohman. Practicing scripts are Tessie Stasio, Debbie Schott, Denise Deichert, Mary Steele, Chris Deluka, Cheryl Duranko. Lorraine Hrick, Bill Harvey, Debbie Hazlett, Kris Bodner, Barb Laufer and Paulette Kissell listen to a television broadcast. Glenn Ross discusses broadcasting techniques with Rosanne Bodziak, Susan Mason, Jean Novotny, Patty Kendi, Marlene Guidice and Gloria Melago.

Keeping the student body informed on school events and extracurricular activities was among the main objectives of the Broadcasting II class.

Residents of the community were also kept posted on school news by simultaneous broadcasts over a local radio station each Monday and Thursday.

General news editor was Paulette Kissel, while Debbie Hazlette served as script editor. Acting as head technician for the bi-weekly broadcasts was Glenn Ross. The sports department was headed by Bill Harvey, while Debbie Schott was production editor. Miss Mary Louise McBride acted as adviser.

"Home for Christmas" was the title of this year's Christmas broadcast. Members of the staff also participated in the annual Voice of Democracy Contest by answering "Freedom's Challenge."

Students enrolled in Broadcasting I learned proper speaking techniques and how to gather and write-up the news. A Thanksgiving assembly was presented by the members of this class.

STAGE CREW — Behind the scenes of school and extracurricular programs which took place in the auditorium were the stage crew members.

This year there were 11 boys on the staff. During study halls these students built props for plays, the musical and other programs. Mr. Robert Lowry and Mr. Harry Graham, stage crew advisers, taught the boys proper staging techniques. Senior Tom Gregor served as stage manager.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE — The AFS, an international organization, was formed to promote friendship around the world through student representatives.

This year Latrobe received its first AFS student, Marianne Schaper from Chile. To help Marianne was the chief interest of the club. Under the direction of Mrs. Brenda Haberlen and Mr. Leroy Schaller, officers were Karen Maple, president, Sandy Treskovich, vice-president, Linda Zeltner, secretary, Toni Claypool, treasurer and Kathy Silvis, adult committee representative.

Stage crew hands Jim Fedrico, Ed Hunter, Mark Tuk, Mike Smith, Doug Thomas and Rick Baughman take a break while moving scenery for the musical. George Dorko, Wally Johnson, Dick Morris and Bud McInay observe Tom Gregor as he adjusts the lighting. AFS officers conversing are Karen Maple, president, Sandy Treskovich, vice-president, Toni Claypool, treasurer, and Kathy Silvis, adult committee representative. Marianne Schaper points out her home in Chile to Kathy Silvis, her American sister.

Through the four main forensic contests, students were given the opportunity to demonstrate their speaking and writing abilities.

In the annual Ruth Robb Civics Club Debate, students discussed the topic "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a system of compulsory service for all." The negative team of Richard Baumgardner and Mark Demyanovich won over Tom Hewitt and Fred Stover.

Bonnie Downs was the first place winner in the Kiwanis Club Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. The other finalists were Janice Ludwig, Peggy Shiffler, Susan Steinback, Sue Carter and Karen Stuckman.

Dave Seremet's oration "The Amoral Society" took first place in the Rotary Oratorical Contest. Allan Reithmiller took second place while Sue Fritz was third and Debbie Hazlett, fourth. Other finalists were Nancy Elliott, Terry Halula, Janice Ludwig and Lori Hricik.

The forensics season reached its conclusion with the finals of the Woman's Club Contest. Kathy Silvis took first place in poetry with her presentation of "The Barrell Organ." Debbie Hazlett, who delivered excerpts from "Hamlet", attained first place in Shakespeare. Winning the first place prize in Declamations was Susan Steinback with her speech "The Will to Win." Cheryl Duranko, Peggy Shiffler and Sara Foster were the other finalists.

Oration finals, debates highlight forensic season

The eight finalists in the forty-fourth annual Rotary Oratorical Contest were Allen Reithmiller, Debbie Hazlett, Sue Fritz, Dave Seremet, seated, and Terry Halula, Janice Ludwig, Nancy Elliott and Lori Hricik, standing. Woman's Club Contest winners who received prizes were Kathy Silvis, Susan Steinback, Cheryl Duranko, Peggy Shiffler, Debbie Hazlett and Sara Foster. David Seremet shows his first place trophy to the other oration winners.

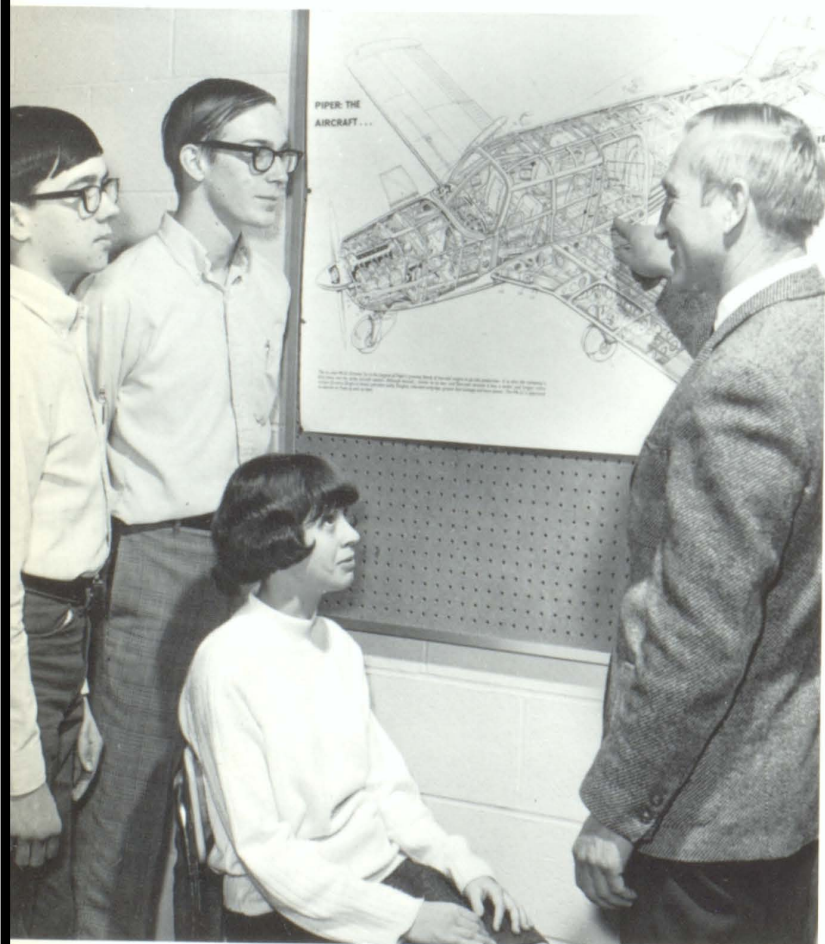

AVIATION CLUB — One member called the Aviation Club “an unusual and very exciting experience in my educational advancement.”

The members of the club devoted themselves to the sole purpose of mastering the art of flying. Each student pilot was required to participate in ground school located at Westmoreland Municipal Airport. Here he learned the mechanics and basic theories of flying. The second phase took place in the air where he applied the ground school instruction. He, for the first time, actually experienced the thrill of flying.

Although the main objective of the Aviation and Aerospace Club was to prepare a student pilot for his junior license, the club also offered field trips and other opportunities to the people. Mr. James Taylor was the adviser.

Aviation Club members express thrill of flying

Joyce Rorabaugh and John Fradel receive instruction from Mr. Carl Rorabaugh. Officers Wanda Lavey, vice-president, Jack Sillaman, president, and Sandy Treskovich, secretary, view flight charts. Robert Kendi, Ed Hunter and Ricardo Pierdominici discuss the construction of an airplane with Mr. Leroy Schaller. Observing actual photographs are Frank Newman and Dennis Kostley.

Georgette Luttner and Linda Aukerman display their school spirit by exhibiting one of the many posters that were made for the Latrobe-Greensburg football game. Active Poster Club member Patty Sproch adds a finishing touch to a Wildcat basketball poster while senior Karen Silvis and sophomore Donna Morton offer suggestions.

Posters attempt to build interest, promote functions

Sandy Morgal, Kathy Marucco and Sara Foster prepare to create a display consisting of posters made by club members. Officers of the Poster Club include Sue Fritz, vice-president, Debbie Hazlett, Student Council representative, Michele Dargi, secretary, Ralph Fowler, president.

POSTER CLUB — Two outstanding contributions of the Poster Club this year were the permanent paintings of a Wildcat pennant and a Wildcat head on the walls of the gym painted by Sue Fritz and Ralph Fowler.

The main purpose of the organization was to boost school spirit by displaying amusing and informative posters that advertized all school activities. The Poster Club cooperated in the decoration of the school before the WPIAL play-off football game.

Members received points for their posters and at the end of the year those who attained 12 points received a letter. Ralph Fowler presided as president this year. The other officers were Sue Fritz, vice-president, Michele Dargi, secretary, and Debbie Hazlett, Student Council representative.

Making sure all exists are tightly closed during a fire drill is the main assignments of Carl Janson and Paul Schumm, patrol workers. Steve Suranic and Tom Keibler review how the many fire alarm boxes located throughout the building operate when a signal is given.

PUBLICATIONS REPRESENTATIVES — Students from each homeroom assumed the task selling and distributing "The High Post" and "Latrobean" on their issue dates.

The representatives were selected on the basis of being a responsible and trustworthy person. A total of 1,350 subscriptions were sold. Thirteen rooms attained 100 per cent.

STUDENT SERVICE — Approximately 40 students were posted at five stations in the building to carry out their duties as student aides.

They were named on the basis of grades and the placement of their study halls. Their responsibilities were to check all lockers and lavatories, to make a tour of the halls, and report any irregularities to the office.

FIRE PATROL — In case of fire, in the school, the Fire Patrol members were informed upon the necessary steps to insure the safety of the students in danger.

They took up positions in the different buildings to carry out their duties during fire drills. These boys volunteered for the service. The school administrators oversaw the members.

New cheers, chants create school spirit

CHEERLEADERS — Spirit, motivation, enthusiasm — these three terms describe the goals of the 1968-69 varsity cheerleading squad.

Serving as head was Lori Hricik, while Elaine Aukerman acted as co-head. Other senior members were Denise Deichert and Nancy Elliott. Marilyn Check, Barb Dudzinsky, Janice Joseph and Julie Mattioli were the junior cheerleaders. The mascot was senior John Slivosky.

Crowd spirit was aroused by the squad at football, basketball and wrestling events. Last summer the group attended a cheerleading clinic where they captured a second place trophy.

Composing the junior varsity squad were Alexis Melnick, head, Jeri Chamberlain, Diane Neely, and Debbie Zera.

From the sidelines the cheerleaders and the Wildcat watch the game, tense because the final outcome is yet in doubt. While the band plays, the cheerleaders encourage spectators to sing "Mr. Touchdown" and other favorite cheers and chants.

Girls comprising the 1968-69 varsity cheerleading squad were Nancy Elliott, Elaine Aukerman, Barb Dudzinsky, Marilyn Check, Julie Mattioli, Denise Deichert, Janice Joseph, and head Cheerleader Lori Hricik. Club's high membership inspiration for victories

On the day of the big game, seniors Debbie Hazlett and Chris Deluka discuss how the Pep Club will cheer. Senior members of the club, Dave Weber and Tom Gray, check their bus numbers for an out of town game with Karen Noel who helps Mr. William West, faculty manager.

PEP CLUB — Creating school enthusiasm and increasing spirit among the students were the aims of the largest club in the school, the Pep Club comprised of 450 members.

Activities included making hoops, sitting and cheering together in the pep assemblies. All members received shakers and the senior members of the club purchased corsages for recognition night.

Officers elected by the Pep Club were as follows: Joette Collier, president; Sue Fritz, vice-president; Mary Biller, secretary; Debby Schott, treasurer; Molly Menoher, student council representative. Advisers to the club this year were Mrs. Deborah Miller and Mrs. Jacqueline Cavanaugh.

'Patterns of Motion' half-time speciality

"Music alone shall live, never to die" are the words of John Stevens, a German composer. This year's Wildcat Marching Band kept music alive throughout the school year with the strains of "Fite, Fite, Fite", "Cheer for Latrobe" and other familiar tunes.

Football season was an active one for the members of the band which was often referred to as "The Marching 100". Precision drills and patterns of motion went into their halftime shows along with a variety of musical notes. New uniforms and the colorguard were responsible for the band's new look.

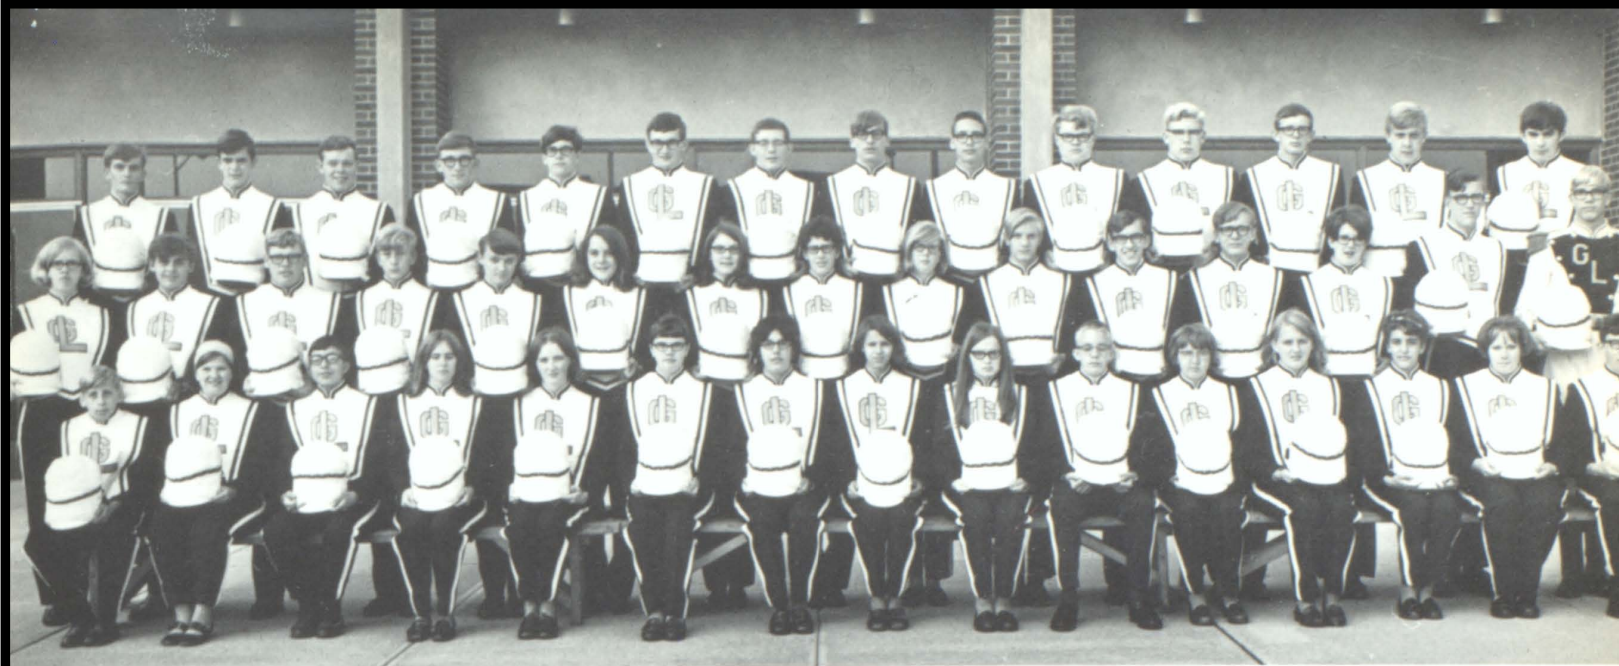

Indiana's homecoming parade was a part of the band's marching season and local parades were also components of the musicians' year.

The onset of winter brought concert season and daily practice. Members of the band had the opportunity to perform in county and district band festivals. Service pins and the John Phillips Sousa award were presented to outstanding musicians.

Modeling their new uniforms are majorettes Becky Ruby, Laurene Sabota, Janice Ludwig, Tessie Stasio, Janice Zidel, Debbie Hauser, Nancy Monzo, Sandy Shirey, Cherry Blazile and Cheryl Miller. Members of the band play a school spirit song as a post-touchdown celebration. Drum major Larry Earnest calls the band to attention in preparation for a half-time number. During half-time at the Latrobe-Wilkinsburg game, Wildcat majorettes perform a chorus line routine.

STAGE BAND

Two musical groups in the instrumental department were added this year, the Wind Ensemble and the String Ensemble.

From the band certain 'key' players were chosen to make-up the Wind Ensemble. Approximately 20 students were involved in this group and practiced three times a week. It was designed to be a small select group of musicians. The difficulty of the music performed was of a much higher degree than the band music.

Mr. William Tepper directed the groups. Students from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes were eligible if their music ability proved them worthy. Instruments comprising the Wind Ensemble were drums, clarinets, saxophones, trumpets, trombones, and flutes.

Mr. Tepper also directed the String Ensemble, the other new instrumental phase of the music department. Members of all classes comprised this ensemble with violins being the most predominant instrument. The Wind and String Ensembles presented a spring concert on May 2.

The Stage Band was made-up of approximately 12 students from all three of the classes. Mr. Tepper also directed this instrumental group. The Stage Band played at different school functions and assemblies during the course of the year.

Music played by the Stage Band was mainly jazz. During the eighth period and on many days after school, members of the Stage Band practiced with the band director. Instruments comprising this group were trumpets, trombones, drums, saxophones and the piano.

Wayne Doak, Rex Helfferich and Dave Herrala practice after school in order to improve their playing. Tom Oshnock, Roger Tygard, Ken Henry and Carol Mango, members of the Wind Ensemble, practice some of the carols to be played at the Christmas assembly.

Providing musical entertainment throughout the school year was of primary importance to the choral groups.

The Choir composed of juniors and seniors, offered a variety of types of music. Meeting five times a week, this group performed at school and community activities. Girls' Chorus was made up of juniors and seniors who exhibited sufficient musical experience.

Tenth graders desiring to participate in Mixed Chorus were chosen on vocal ability and interest. Serving as the governing body for the choir groups was the Chorus Council.

Accompanied by Pat Dillon on the piano, Linda Lemmon rehearses several selections for the musical. Members of the Chorus Council review upcoming plans for the spring production of "The Sound of Music."

MIXED CHORUS

Glenn Ross as Herr Zeller, informs Frau Schmidt, Kathy Lynch, and Franz the butler, Gordon Meade, that they must fly the flag of the Third Reich or suffer the consequences. Mike Kozusko observes Max Detweiler, portrayed by John Slivosky, Marion Hornack as Frau Schmidt and Denny Harr as Captain von Trapp, in the midst of "How Can Love Survive." During a thunderstorm the von Trapp children gather on Maria's bed to sing "The Lonely Goatherd" and calm their fears. Portraying these roles are Tim Johnston, Jenny Rogosky, Mary Rogosky, Darlene Cook, Janet Smith, Gail Hornack, Brenda Cook and Ralph Fowler.

Cast of 120 sings, dances in 'The Sound Of Music'

With capacity crowds attending both performances on March 28 and 29, some 120 students presented "The Sound of Music."

The two act Rodgers and Hammerstein musical had its setting in Austria early in 1938. It dealt with the young postulant, Maria Rainer, and her search for true happiness. She had dreams of becoming a nun, but realized that she had fallen in love with Captain George von Trapp after becoming the governess for his seven children. Maria and the Captain marry. When they returned home they learned that the Germans had invaded Austria. The entire family escaped on foot over the Austrian Alps into Switzerland.

Principal cast members include Darlene Cook, Dennis Harr, Mike Kozusko, Cathy Hollenbeck, Marion Hornack and John Slivoskey. Portraying the children were Janet Smith, Ralph Fowler, Brenda Cook, Tim Johnston, Mary Rogosky, Jenny Rogosky and Gail Hornack.

Mr. Joseph DelSordo was director of music while Mr. James Mikula provided assistance. Chairmen of various committees were as follows: Mrs. Dolores Baroli, properties; Mr. Harry Graham, stage crew; Mr. George Klim, scenery; Miss Jean Hillis and Miss Arlene Weyandt, costumes; Mr. William R. Couchenour, program; and Mr. Thomas Harbert, advertising. Student director was Dave Seremet.

Couples in the ballroom scene watch as Dora Keys and Tom Mayewski practice their bows. Dancers include Jack Erhard, Bonnie Ferguson, Marlene Stadler, Bill Cerutti, Johnette Zappone, Pat Dillon, Debbie Helfferick, Ed Rogosky, Bob Deniker, Lauraine Sobota, Craig Beeghley, Mary Pescatore and Tim Repp. Kathy Hollenbeck as the Mother Abbess discusses Maria's future in the convent with Shelly Jacobina, Mary Ellen Gray and Bonnie Downs. Molly Menoher, portraying a maid, offers a drink to Mark Demyanovich, Peggy Bechtol, Marilyn Smith, Susan Steinback and Jim Rombach, guests at the von Trapp villa.

MLC EXECUTIVE BOARD
SEATED: Linda Zeltner, Patty Sproch, Susan Peters, Linda Eupizi, Janice Ludwig, Beth Hazlett, Marylee McFadden.
ROW 1: Sarah Foster, Karen Maple, Debbie Fletcher, Cathy Baker, Janice Joseph, Kris Bodner. ROW 2: Dick Dunhoff, Joanne Hovanec, Mike Kozusko, Carolyn Fallecker, Elizabeth Ruffin.

MLC Members, Terry Tandarich, Denise Bair and Mariann McCallen examine a replica of the horns of a bull. Formulating plans for the annual bowling tournament, held in February, are MLC members Sara Foster, Mary Biller and Beth Hazlett. Officers of the Modern Language Club, Denise Deichert, Linda Eupizi, Barb Dudzinsky, Janice Joseph, listen attentively while president Pat Arnold, points out events on the upcoming agenda for the organization.

French, Spanish honoraries recognize language efforts

Officers of the Spanish National Honor Society Karen Silvis, Barb Mattingly, Pam Katana and Kathy Silvis admire the pinata. Students meeting the necessary requirements were admitted to SNHS. Less than 10 percent of the students taking French were admitted to the FNHS. Tom Gray, Lori Hricik, Barbara Bernett and Toni Claypool, French National Honor Society officers, read from French novels provided by the department.

French and Spanish National Honor Societies changed the requirements for acceptance. An "A" average for the first semester was necessary for juniors and seniors to be eligible.

Six juniors and three seniors gained membership in the French National Honor Society. Officers were Tom Gray, president, Lori Hricik, vice-president; Barbara Bernat, secretary, and Toni Claypool, treasurer.

Spanish National Honor Society inducted 18 new members. Officers during the year were Pam Katana, president, Kathy Silvis, vice-president, Karen Silvis, secretary, Barb Mattingly, treasurer.

The Modern Language Club was open to all students taking French, German or Spanish. MLC officers were Pat Arnold, president, Barb Dudzinsky, vice-president, Denise Deichert, secretary, Janice Joseph, treasurer, and Linda Eupizi, Council representative.

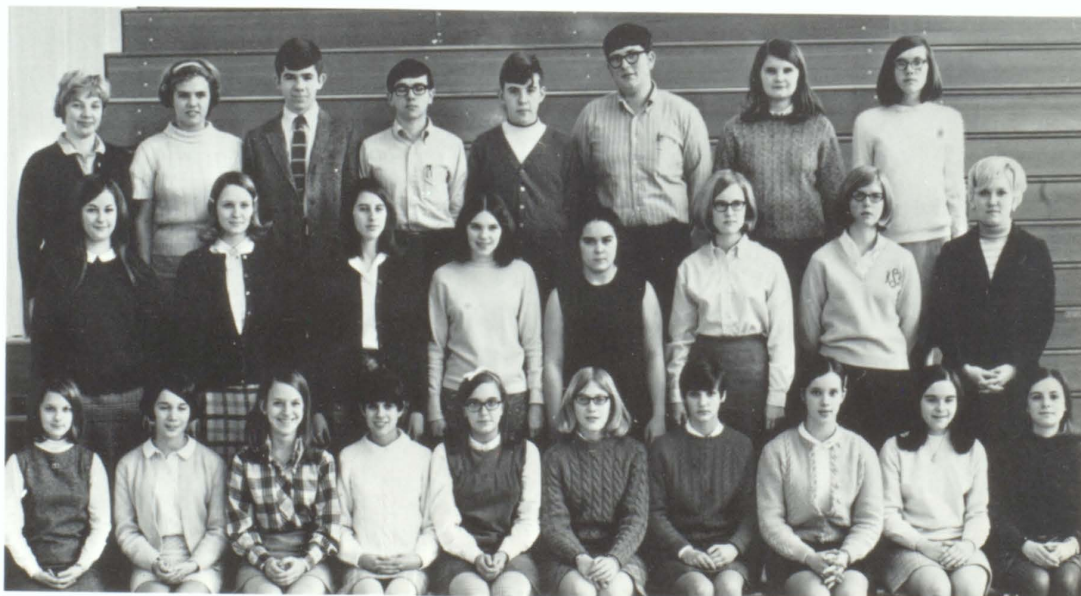

Biology students, Ida Mahady, Gail Thomas, and Janet Rogers examine a plant before doing a report on its growth, color and size. Three sophomore students, Lynn Wolf, Jack Doherty and Ronald Fordyce begin studying the color of a plant after letting it receive no light and giving it no water.

Biology Club secretary, Alexis Melnic, explores different biological functions and discusses future meeting plans with fellow club officers Susan Carter, Karen Kullman, Nancy Monzo and Jim French.

BIOLOGY EXECUTIVE BOARD SEATED: Neely, Nicholson, Monzo, Popp, Zabkar, Nichols, Shearer, Melnick, Tomashosky, Martin. ROW 2: Collier, Rennie, Thomas, Lekawa, Mahady, Fawcett, Schmuker, Wolfe. ROW 3: Carter, Heller, French, Kendi, Doherty, J., Vargo, Doherty, P., Ross.

National High School Biology Honor Society officers Carl Neigoot, Barbara Dudzinsky and Neil Lynch look at several dishes of bacteria and specimens exhibiting various types of molds cultured in the biology laboratory. Accurate records were kept of their results.

Field trips, speakers highlight programs

Striving to attain a further understanding in biological functions and laboratory techniques headed the purposes of the Biology Club this school year.

In addition to touring the Latrobe Area Hospital laboratories, the members toured Zidel's greenhouse. Highlighting the year's activities was the group's field trip to Pittsburgh where they visited Buhl Planetarium, the aviary and Phipps Conservatory.

Interested members assisted in decorating the school mall with plants grown in the biology greenhouse. Speakers from several medical professions encouraged club members to participate in biological career fields.

Officers chosen this year were as follows: Nancy Monzo, president, Sue Carter, vice-president, Alexis Melnick, secretary, and Karen Kullman, treasurer. Miss Virginia Daniels acted as sponsor for the club.

Promoting increased interest in the continuation of biological studies was the National High School Biology Honor Society.

Originally organized in 1905 at the University of Oklahoma, the Biology Honor Society is in its second year at Latrobe. Students maintaining an A average in biology and achieving distinguished honors recognition were eligible.

Elected to serve as officers were Carl Neigoot, president, Barb Dudzinsky, vice-president, Paul Rawlings, secretary, and Neil Lynch, treasurer. All sophomore biology teachers acted as co-advisers to the honorary group.

Members of the National High School Biology Honor Society, Ann Manoli, Ilah Heller, Fred Stover, Carl Neigoot, Nancy Cline, Barb Dudzinsky and Debbie Ferrarini, met to discuss the future plans for programs of their society.

Mu Alpha Theta members Tom Gray, Elaine Aukerman, Sara Foster and Dick Baumgardner gather in the library to discuss some important aspects of the new modern math. A book on algebraic methods attracts the attention of Harry Smeltzer, Dave Thomas and Denise Bair, senior members of the honorary math society.

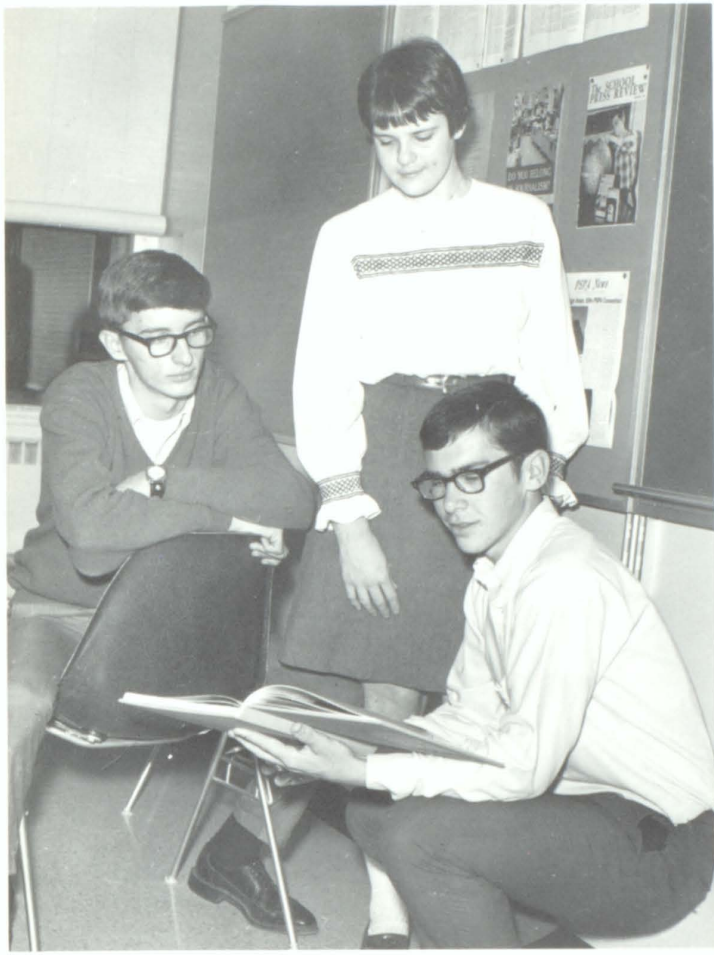

Honor societies bring members earned recognition

Mu Alpha Theta members Janie Fawcett, Jeff Berkosky and Terry Halula listen as Paul Pezzoli explains the science display. Lori Hricik explains the club's charter sent the national organization to Bernard Vittone.

Quill and Scroll president, Frances Yanarella, discusses yearbook layouts with vice-president, Elaine Aukerman and secretary, Carolyn Fallecker. Cynthia Sweeney and co-sports editors, Richard Baumgardner and Bill Palko, examine last year's yearbook for ideas. Editor-in-chief, Terry Halula, and page-two editor, Kathy Tanner, help Nancy Elliott, Quill and Scroll treasurer, check "High Post" copy.

QUILL AND SCROLL — Climaxing the year for journalism students was the election of members into the Quill and Scroll, international honorary society.

To recognize the achievements of the individual writer, and to elevate and advance publication standards is the purpose of the society. The student journalists strive for truth, leadership, opportunity, enlightenment, loyalty, initiative, and friendship.

Officers included the following: Frances Yanarella, president; Elaine Aukerman, vice-president; Carolyn Fallecker, secretary and Nancy Elliott, treasurer. Mr. William Couchenour, publications instructor, acted as adviser.

MU ALPHA THETA — Increasing their knowledge of mathematics and its related subjects was the main objective of the Mu Alpha Theta.

Members of the club organized the meetings themselves. To attain membership, a student must have fulfilled two years of math and the first semester of his junior year in an academic course with an average of at least a B.

Selected to conduct this year's organization were the following: David Thomas, president; Thomas Gray, vice-president; Jane Fawcett, secretary; and Terry Halula, treasurer. Miss Mary Louise McBride served as adviser to the organization.

Organization plans for honor seminars

Scholastic achievement, leadership qualities, school service and individual characteristics combine to determine eligibility for the National Honor Society. Taken from the upper-fourth of the Junior and Senior Classes, candidates are selected by faculty members.

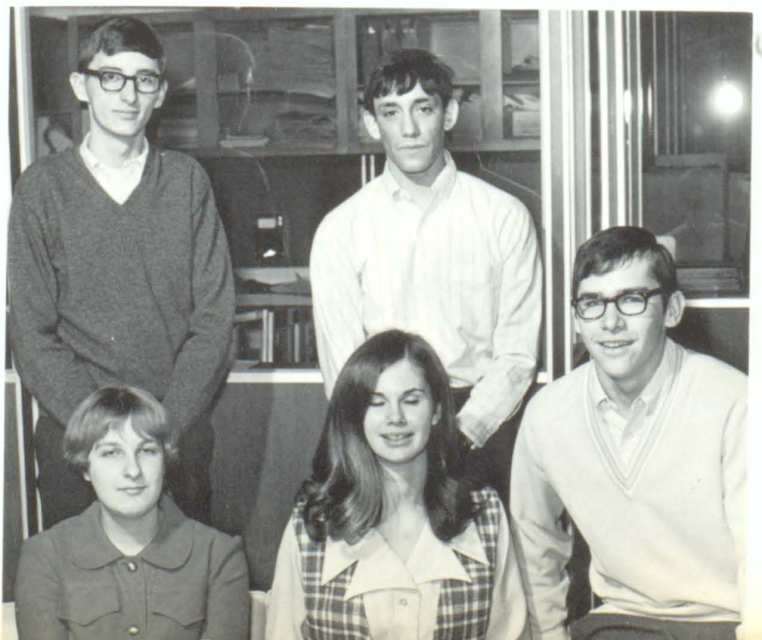

Serving as president for the 1968-69 school term was Dave Goodman, assisted by Steve Scheeren filling the role of vice-president. Assuming the role of secretary was Lori Hricik, while Karen Maple acted as treasurer of the organization. Sara Foster was the Student Council representative.

Under the supervision of Mr. Raymond Halula, the organization's new adviser, the NHS members instituted regular meetings to carry on seminars.

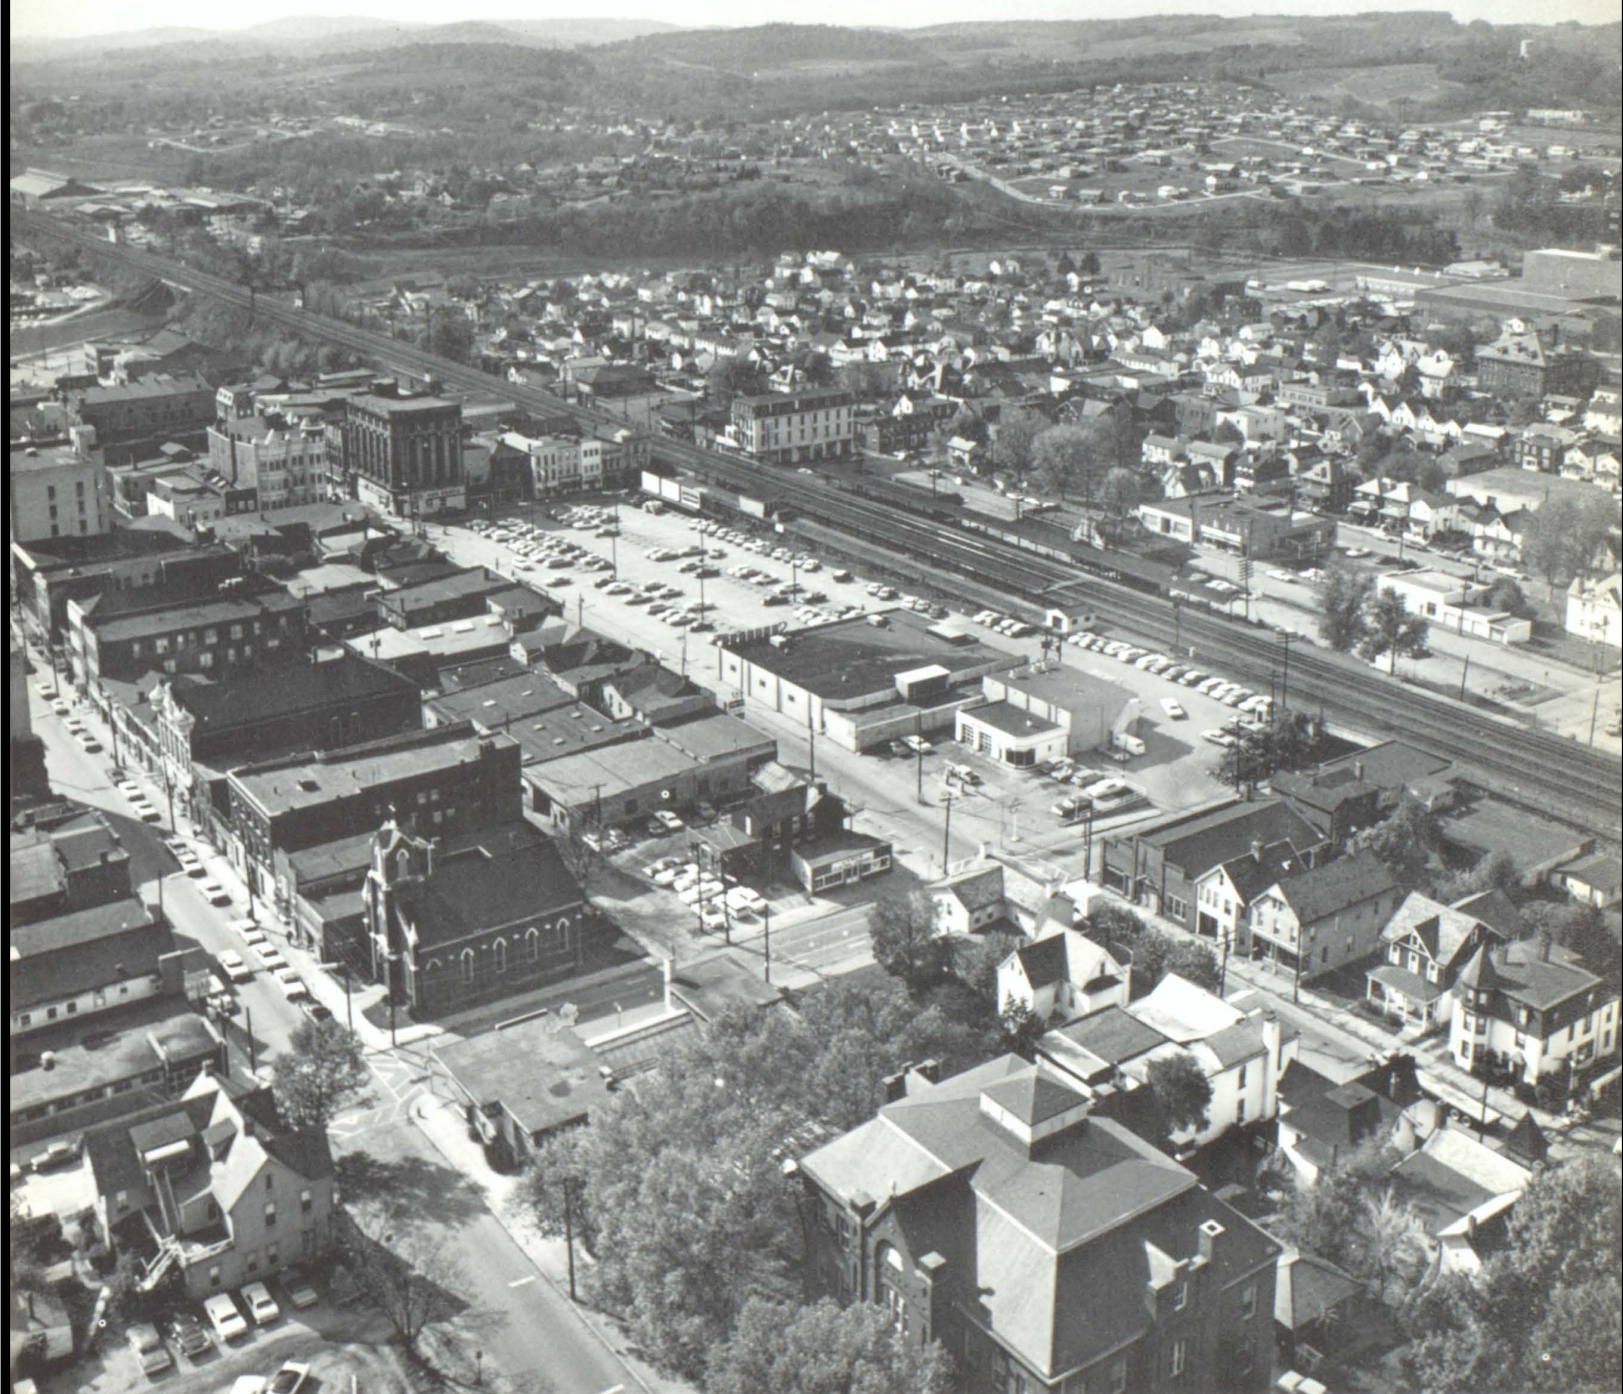

National Honor Society members, Jane Fawcett, Bob Thayer, Brett Roach and Sandy Treskovich discuss and read news items of interest as Terry Tandarich and Dave Seremet add their points of view. Membership in the National Honor Society is determined by scholastic standing, leadership, character and nomination by members of the faculty.

Officers of the National Honor Society, Dave Goodman, president, Steve Scheeren, vice-president, Lori Hricik, secretary, Karen Maple, treasurer Sara Foster, Student Council representative, discuss the induction ceremony assembly held in the spring. Juniors and seniors in the upper-fourth of their classes are eligible for consideration into the National Honor Society.

Terry Halula, Kris Bodner, Bill Palko, Dick Baumgardner and Jeff Berkosky assemble in the library to talk over future meeting plans. Elaine Aukerman discusses the cultural achievements and contributions of banished civilizations with fellow NHS scholars Alan Reithmiller, Dave Thomas, and Kathy Silvis.

ADVERTISERS

The 1969 'Latrobean' staff

We, the senior editors of the 1969 "Latrobean" wish to thank the faculty, administration, student body, our devoted adviser and all who have either directly or indirectly aided in the publication of this yearbook. Without their constant co-operation this annual would not have been possible.

Long after the curtain call for a class play or the last cheers of a football game have quieted, this yearbook will refresh your memory of some little thing you might have overlooked. It is with this in mind we believe the "Latrobean" will become even more valuable in the future.

A few years from now names may slip your mind and familiar faces may disappear, but this book will last forever.

Stanley Maynard, a Cleveland, Ohio, business consultant, died February 12, 1967. He left $700,000 to friends, strangers and charity. He also provided for this bequest to appear in "20 newspapers of 300,000 or more circulation each."

The Will of Stanley Maynard

"To my friends and acquaintances, I leave the thought that this world is indeed a most interesting place in which to live, and my thanks to them for their part in making my life a pleasant one.

"To the school children I leave the fine days they will have in school and the anticipation of delightful vacations, the unfolding of life with the joys of learning and seeing new things without end.

"To the young boy and girl in their late teens, I leave the joys of competitive spirit and the creation of ideals and goals for later in life.

"To the maturing young man and woman through the twenties and thirties, I leave the marvelous opportunities of accomplishing the things they want most to do. I also leave them the world spread out as a glorious playground and an intriguing workshop to absorb their energies.

"To those beyond the 40 year mark, I leave all the vast possibilities of fulfillment of their life on this earth with the hope that they may appreciate the little as well as the big features to the utmost, and to have the privilege of saying: 'What a lucky person I am to have been able to experience all the joys and sorrows of my existence.'"

Congratulations to the class of '69 from the folks at VASCO

Besides being known for its championship football team, golfers and astute leaders, Latrobe is a metallurgical town. As attested to by this smiling group of VASCO metallurgists who hail from Latrobe and its environs, the local industrial complex affords many opportunities for those seeking gainful employment.

Whether you elect to continue your education in college, trade or business school, or move directly into industry, keep in mind that career opportunities for ambitious competent graduates continue to exist at VASCO as they have for the past 59 years.
