A PLACE, A PROCESS,

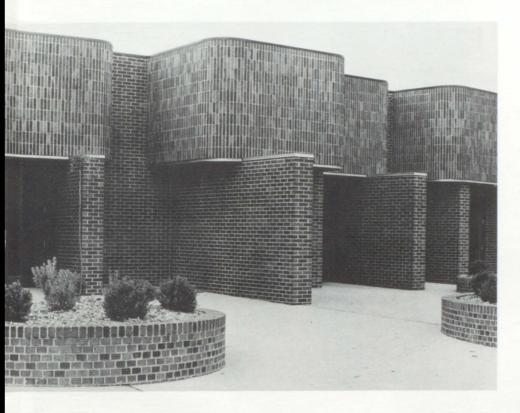

SCHOOL 85

How much you benefit from attending school depends largely upon how you react to these three components. Does the place stimulate you or inhibit you? Is the process one that you are eager to engage in or are you "turned off" by it? Are you comfortable with the people that you work with daily or do they make you uneasy?

A PEDPLE.

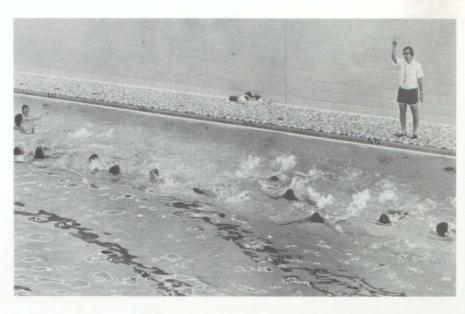

It's impossible to know the answers to these questions from a distance. You have to first get to know the people, and the kind of process and people GLHS really is. THEN you ask yourself these questions one more time.

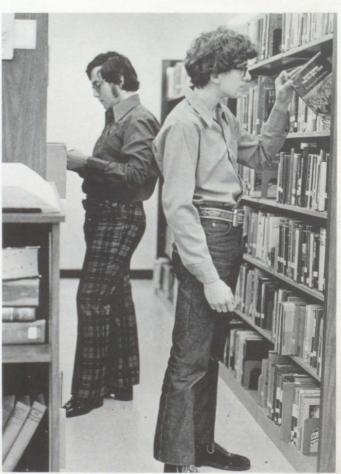

1 PLACE

About 9 years ago a small group of dedicated learners were bold enough to dream dreams;
to imagine a high school situated atop a hill in Youngstown, Pennsylvania.
And
today, that high school
is a reality;
with a newly added
annex, costing approximately $3,800,000.
GLHS now houses about 3160 people
daily.

The school has its strengths
and weaknesses, as does any school, but how profitable the year is for you, depends upon how willing you are to become involved.

A PROCESS

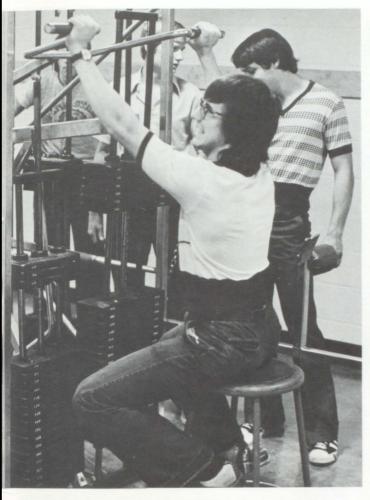

Interaction.
With students,
with coaches,
with sponsors.
The extra-curricular
PROCESS.

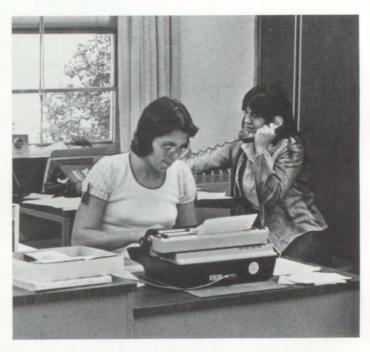

Involvement

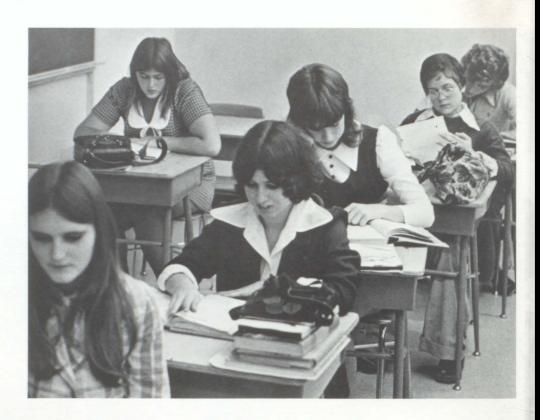

With so many "extras" offered to the student, it's pretty hard to avoid being caught up in the excitement of belonging; of being involved.

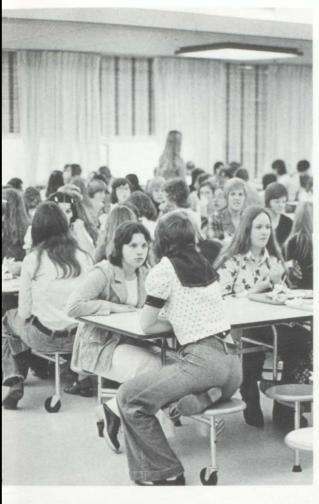

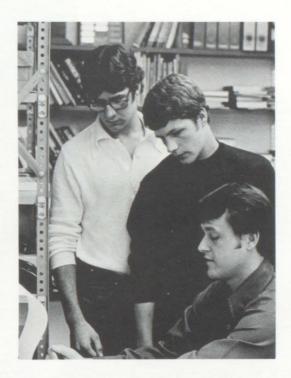

Interaction.
With students,
with teachers,
with books,
the academic
PROCESS.

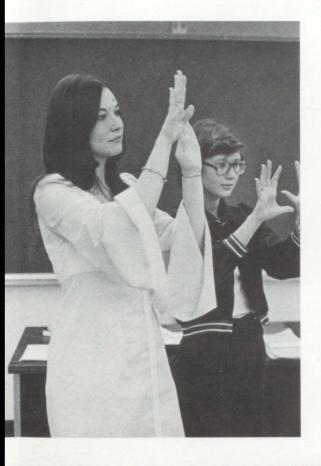

A Time for Work And a Time For Rest

Classes Offer Variety

To the dismay of many students, school does not consist solely of
after-school activities.
It also happens to involve a terrific amount of serious study and hard work.

Education doesn't stop with tests or book reports. It extends to the people surrounding
you. Throughout the year many students realize that other people play a very important role in their life.

Getting It Together

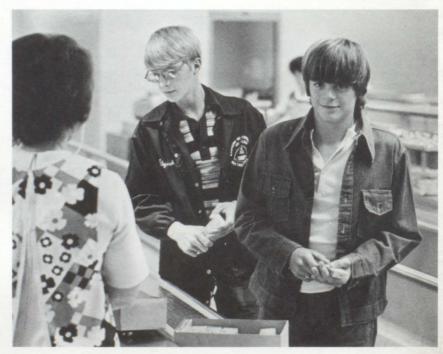

School Days

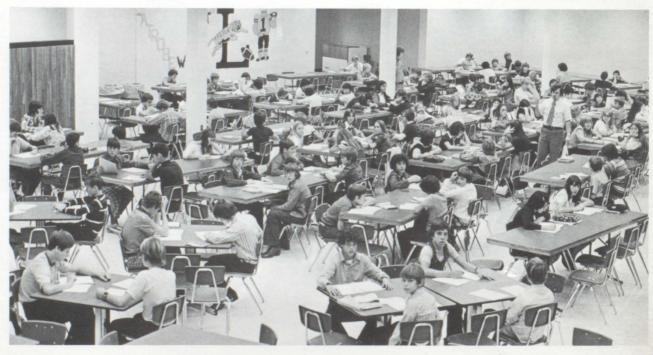

School is not just a building, or even a classroom filled with desks and chairs. It's people. You. Your friends. And even your enemies. They are the backbone of the school. Together you make the learning process happen.

3108 students
and 144 teachers
come together five days a week,
thirty-six weeks out of the year.
These PEOPLE are involved in the learning PROCESS in one special PLACE —
Latrobe.

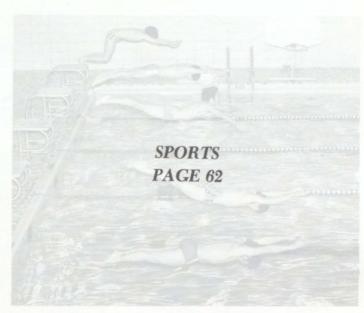

This is a school.

Schions

I want this one; I've always been partial to blue.

Could you try to hustle a little bit? I can't wait for you all day.

Isn't this a great way to spend History Class?

You've struggled through eleven long years, and now you're at the top . . . you're a Senior.

Excuse me, could you tell me the way out of this maze?

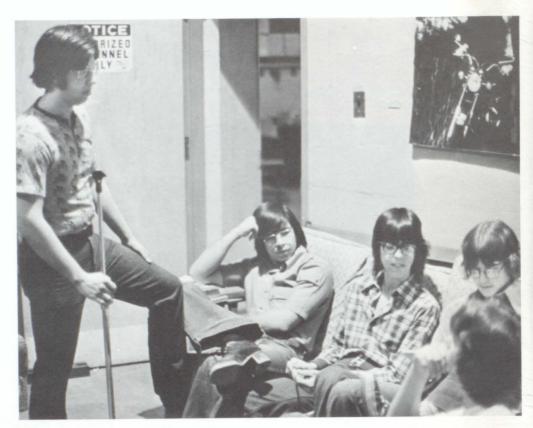

If you girls don't hurry, the period will be over before we even get to the tennis courts.

Senior (sēn' yer)n. a person with ambition and pride.

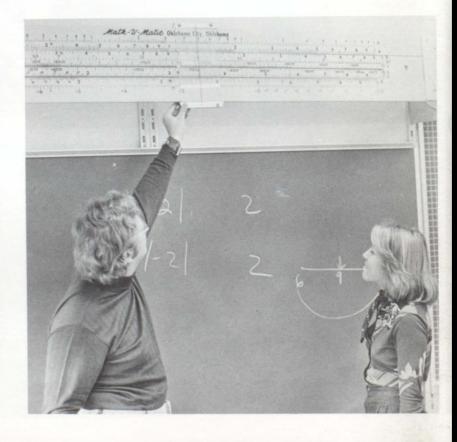

What do you guys think this is - a lounging area?

Don't be afraid Joe. I'll catch you.

Yesterday 13 x 3 equaled 51, and today it equals 43!

During your Senior year, you came face-to-face with numerous new and different experiences.

Aw, c'mon guys, laugh a little. My joke wasn't that bad.

Mr. Harvey, you mean to tell me that I'm a decendent of the "Java Man"? But he looked like an ape!

C'mon you guys, I know that I'm beautiful, but you don't have to stare at me so much.

There were colleges to be chosen and applications and forms to be filled out.

Hey Joe! How's the air up there?

If I were you Sandy, I would take the French Dressing.

Do you have something in hot pink?

This was your last year, so you tried to make the most of it.

Maybe this will turn it on Betty.

Can someone give me a hand? I'm not Superman.

I didn't think eighth period would ever end.

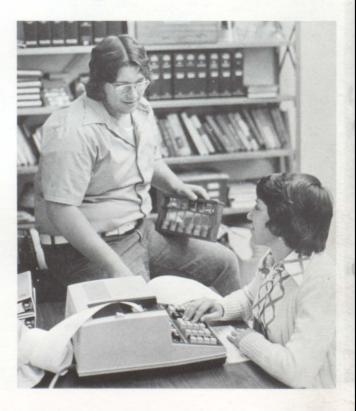

Introducing the Senior Class Acrobats!

This ought to liven up the day.

The math wizzard: Julie Revitsky or the computer?

It seemed like you were forever staying after school for meetings, practices, and rehearsals.

GLHS - Greater Latrobe Hungry Students.

Today must be a slow news day.

This flag would make a darling long dress.

You worked hard, but you never missed a chance to relax.

Our teachers will never think of looking for us here.

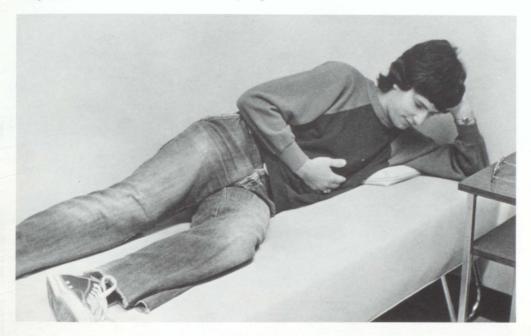

I didn't think that our bus was going to make it up the hill.

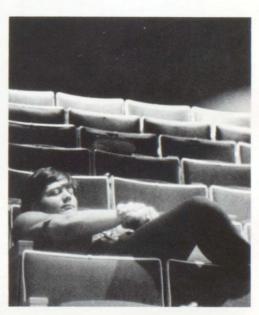

Mr. Neff! Are you sure that you're allowed to show us those kinds of pictures?

Your Senior year was the year to smooth out all of the "rough edges".

I only have to be sick ten more minutes-then my Trig test will be over.

A time for rest.

Don't you dare touch me Dave!

Ambition became achievement: insecurity became confidence: ignorance gave way to intelligence.

On the next page is the most adorable picture of Elton John.

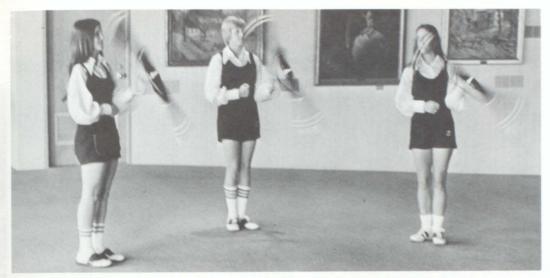

Even though you're bigger than I am Jeff, you have no right to treat me like your servant.

There were more decisions to make; decisions that would affect the rest of your life.

We're getting pretty good at this girls.

Where's the fire?

And this is a picture of my collie, Jumper.

I don't understand Leslie; we're $700 in debt.

Should I go on to school? What field should I go into? Or should I get a job?

I'm so hungry I could eat a horse!

Carol, are you sure you want to go to a college so far away from home?

The time had come for you to establish goals . . .

Calling Judy Nemanic, do you read me?

Oh no! I put the bathroom where the garage is supposed to be.

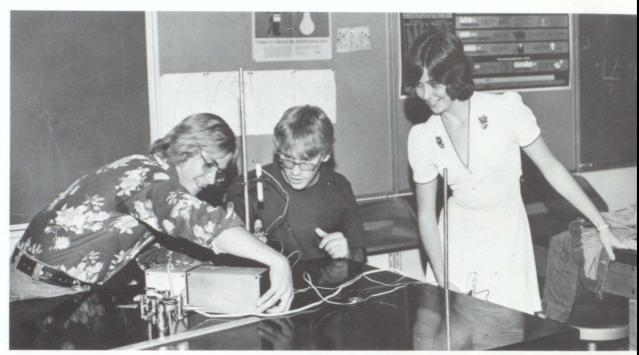

You can't leave without me!

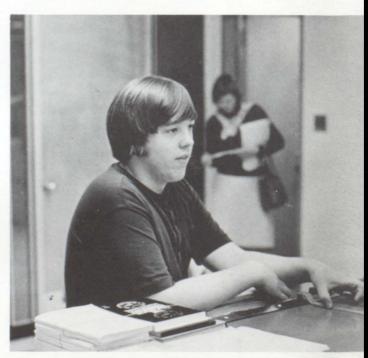

... goals that you will be striving for from this day on.

Let's connect these two wires and see what happens.

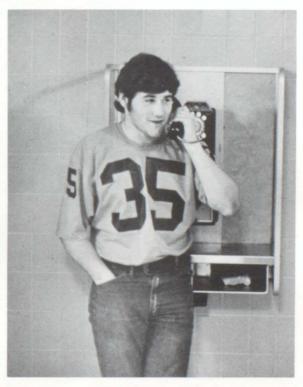

Whatever I did, it wasn't my fault.

As part of the Class of '75, you have left your mark on "dear 'ol Latrobe High".

Hey fellas, c'mon in and "lounge" for awhile.

Wrong number? This is Mrs. DeFlavio isn't it?

I'm not joking. I really was found in a cabbage patch.

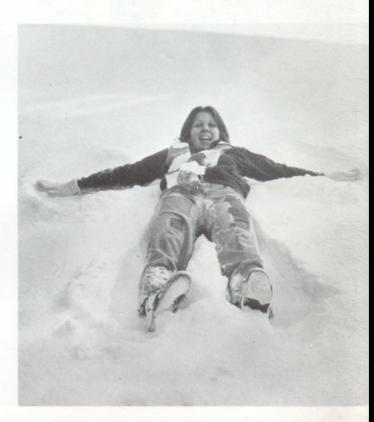

But more important, Latrobe High has left it's mark on you.

For the '74 prom, the Juniors pooled their talents and created a Showboat Casino.

After three years at Greater Latrobe High School ...

It is time for your naps, kiddies.

How do you feel about a lavender house?

I can't stand it in here any longer!!!

... it's now time to say good-bye.

Thank-you "Thing".

I understand your problems Gary, but I can't change your schedule.

Santa's new "package deal"?

And even though each Senior will be going in a different direction after graduating . . .

"We're in the money . . . "

Pssst! Dave, what are we listening for?

Andy, this computer just asked me out!

Introducing Diane and Linda Temple.

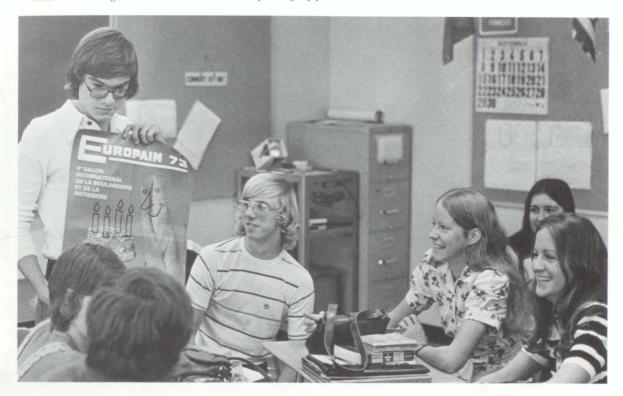

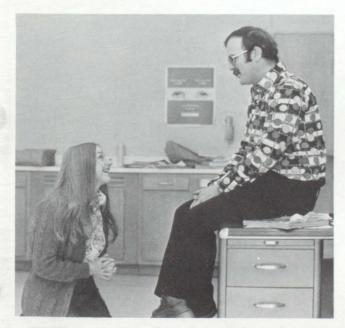

"Row, row, row your boat . . . "

Remember all of those pennies you collected for Childrens Hospital?

Please! No talking in the audience while I am explaining my poster.

Have mercy on me Mr. Neff. I need a B to make the Honor Rolland I'm only one point away.

This has been Terrific Terri for the Wildcat Review.

And remember how you transformed the gym into a Showboat Casino for your Junior Prom?

Avalanche!

There's nothing like a good snowball battle to break up the monotony of a school day.

It's funny-when you were a Sophomore you couldn't wait to be a Senior.

Christy, what are you trying to do to me?

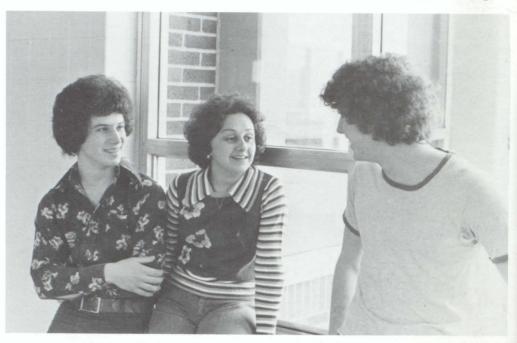

I can't do a thing with my hair!

Hey you guys, do you hear what I hear?

And now that you are a Senior, you can't wait to graduate.

"Jesus Christ, Superstar."

The magnificent Bob Iltis.

Well, they are finally letting you out ...

Do you think I could get a discount on a stereo?

Yuk! I wonder how long this has been in here.

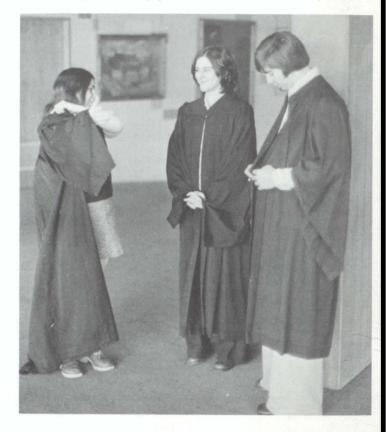

Stacey, next time watch where you are going.

... and now you are on your own.

Don't laugh at me Vicky, you don't look like Miss America yourself.

I wonder if this computer knows how to solve Trig problems.

You've made your decisions, determined your goals, and mapped out your plans.

Seniors have soul!

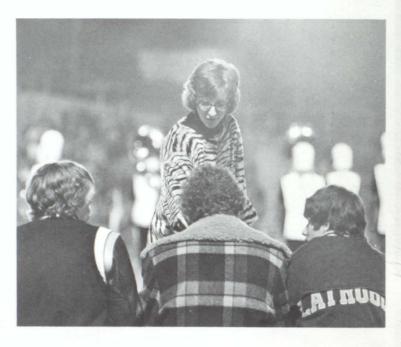

Coffee, tea, or milk?

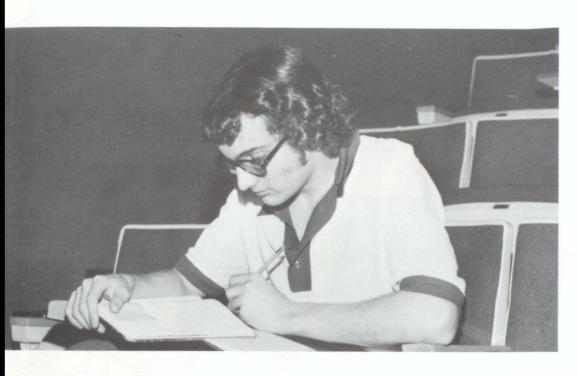

You stupid typewriter, quit making so many mistakes!

It's going to take courage, perserverance, and rugged determination.

You thought you were at the end, but it's just the beginning all over again.

Underclass

School is turning me into a genius!

Hey Rick, you've grown 7 feet.

Sophomore (sof' ō mōr), n. a person with an insecure feeling because he's at the "bottom".

Hey! We can't let the Seniors beat us.

Oh no! My sewing machine is falling apart.

Sophomores started out the year in a brand new school with brand new faces.

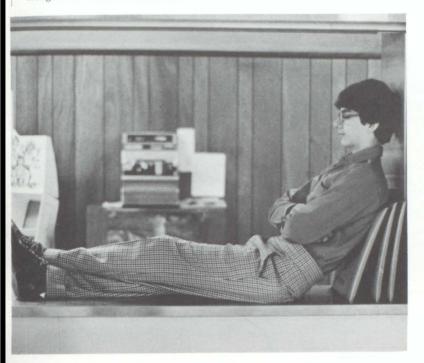

This can't be right! I'm scheduled for Girls' gym.

History report ... Science report ... English report ... I'll never get finished!

It took a while to get adjusted . . .

Hangin' out at the Student Store.

Do you think Mr. Pipak will mind if we're 20 minutes late?"

Presenting Greater Latrobe's offical food testers.

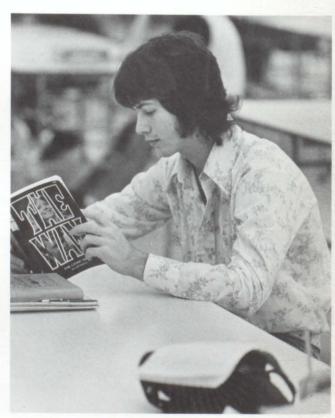

... but soon they found themselves involved in various classes, activities, and sports.

Study, study, study . . .

Juniors (jōōn' yer) n. the "middle" person.

Whatcha in for?

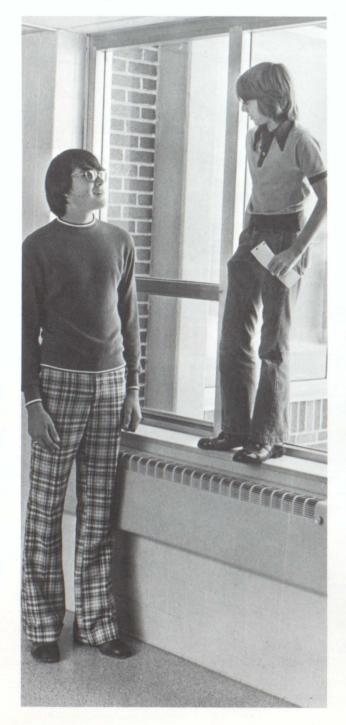

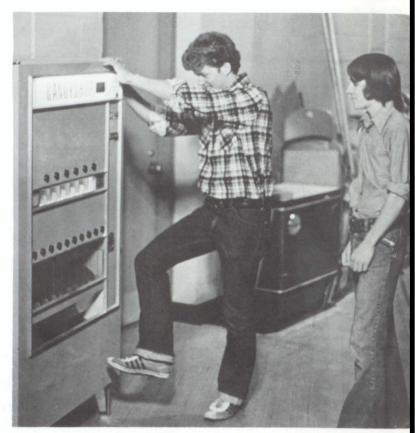

Ready, aim, FIRE!

Each Junior found himself busier than ever this year.

Pick on someone your own size Shane.

Centripetal Force?! What is this guy talking about?

There were more "extra" projects, more meetings, and practices.

C'mon you guys! I want to put my pennies in the Sophomore jar.

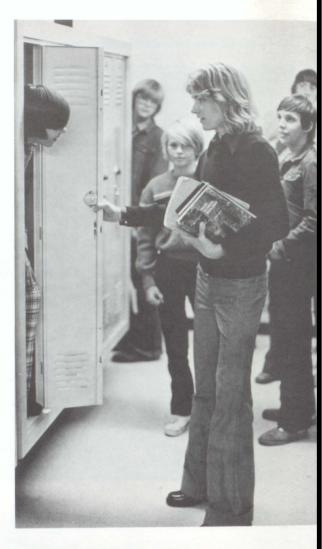

How we do slave!

Being stuck in the middle was confusing, but you were too involved to notice.

Hey! There's a kid in my locker.

Do I have enough to buy a yearbook?

"This is the way we iron the clothes . . . "

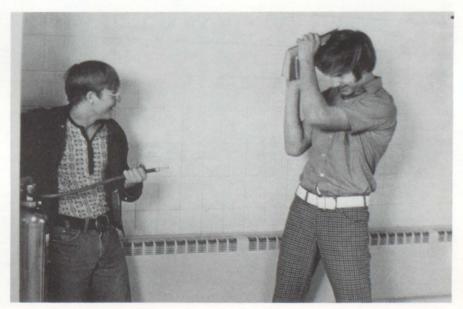

Sophomores and Juniors had one thing in common . . .

 $A \times + By = C \text{ big deal!}$

Perfecto!

This will cool you off.

SENIORS!

This looks like the ideal college. The girl to boy ratio is one to seven.

Why do these things always happen to me?

Women's Lib strikes at GLHS.

During your Sophomore and Junior years, you put up with a lot from the Seniors.

Students impatiently wait for the sale of football tickets to begin.

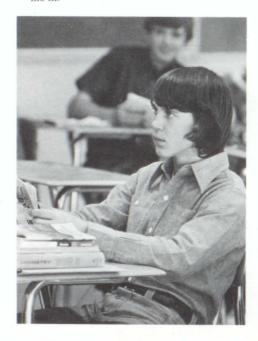

Let's move it boys! We have another truck to load.

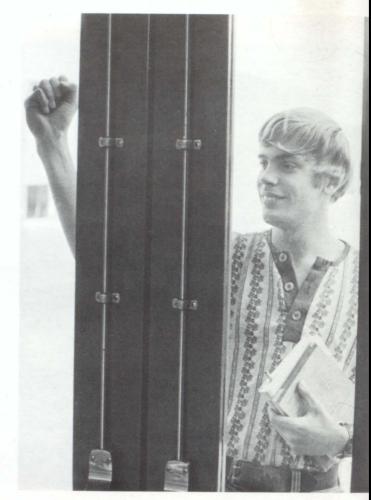

jjjjlllkk;jjjj.

You were forced to carry back a Senior's lunch tray and carry his books from class to class.

Maybe if I try to look intelligent I won't have to answer any questions. Hey! Somebody let me in.

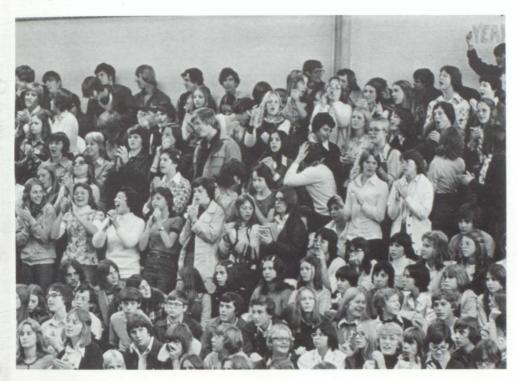

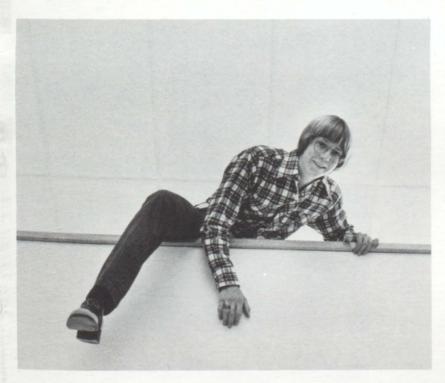

If Mr. McFarland comes, pretend like you're looking for a book on Elephants.

But you didn't mind too much, because you knew that in a year or two . . .

We've got the silly, silly Sophomores.

It would have been easier to climb over the lockers than to get through that mob of kids. $\,$

OPEN Concept.

Eighth Grader (ā tth grā' der), n. a person filled with a sense of adventure.

"I got the music in me."

Hello, television fans.

Where do they keep the books in this place?

That will cost you $31.79 for keeping this book out 2 extra days.

Get this! A "round" garage.

The new annex offered many new and exciting opportunities . . .

Now that wasn't hard, was it?

Getting away from it all.

... special interest classes, a variety of clubs, and activities, and numerous athletic programs.

Since when does $4 \times 21 = 25$?

Freshman (fresh' men), n. a person full of enthusiasm.

O.K. Who stole the "M" file?

Christmas time is here again.

I feel like a little kid making mud pies.

During their first year of high school, the freshmen found themselves with new rights and responsibilities.

How am I supposed to know how many people live in Asia? — I never lived there!

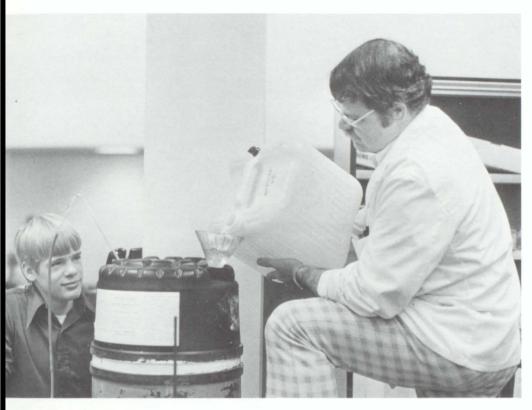

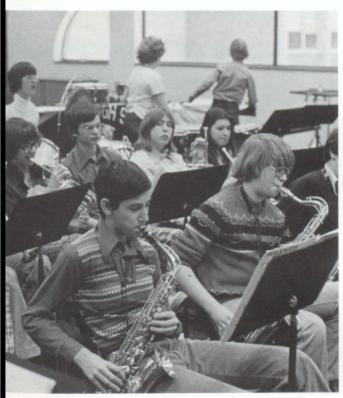

I'm going to build myself a boat.

The eighth and ninth graders had numerous opportunities to become involved . . .

This ought to do it.

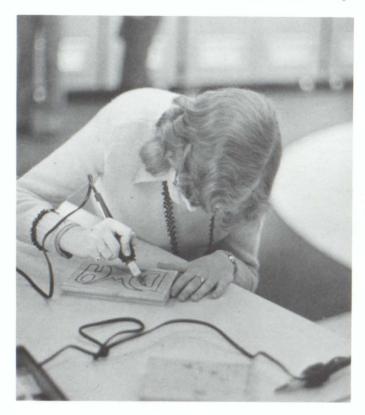

Practice makes perfect, but couldn't they make the practice part a little easier?

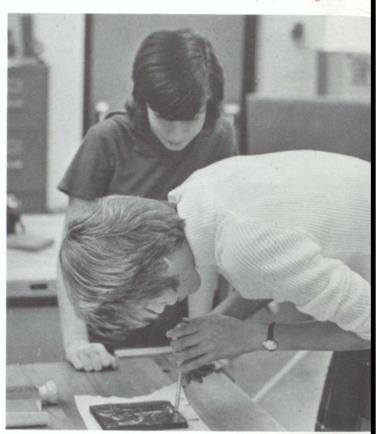

I feel so much more superior up here.

... with activities that they had a genuine interest in.

The eighth and ninth graders are offered a variety of creative classes, such as wood-burning.

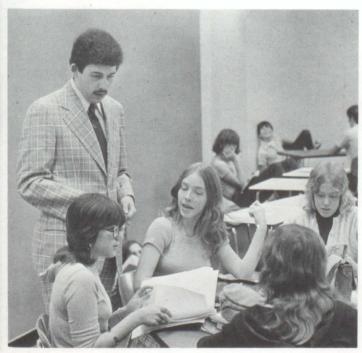

Listen, we're going to do this MY way, understand?

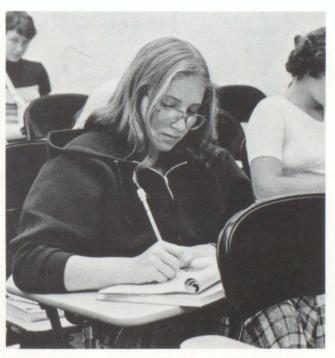

Wood burning, cooking, ceramics, journalism, science experiments . . .

Wake up you two. We're in the middle of discussing Africa.

She's trying to tell me that George Washington chopped down an apple tree.

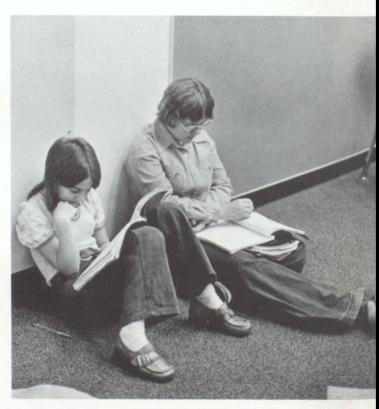

Dear Jim, I'm writing this letter in the middle of English class \dots

... metal shop and water ballet all kept the students active.

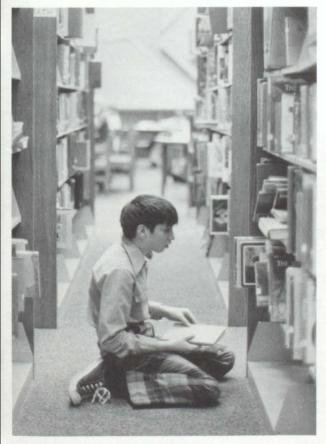

I feel like a little kid making mud pies.

I've been reading so much that my eyes are going to stop working.

I can bring in my brother's hot rod set-it works a lot better than this.

I wonder if there are any books on what to feed a pet wasp.

The pied piper.

Candidates for the Boston Symphony.

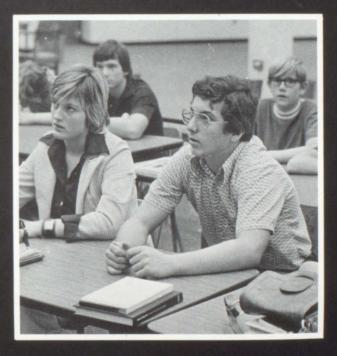

Future Homemaker of America.

This is the ONLY way to study

 \boldsymbol{l} wonder if I'm supposed to understand what he's talking about.

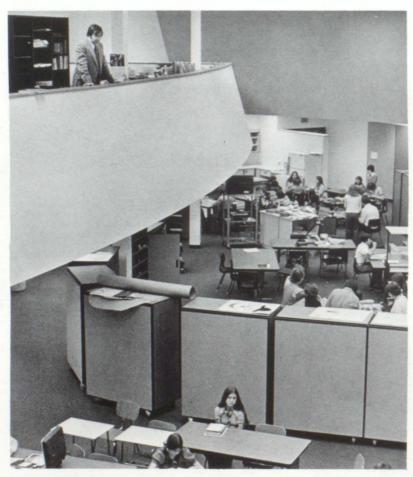

Do you really know what you're doing?

Personnel

My own little kingdom.

No, we are not going to have a study hall.

Teacher (te' cher), n. a person who informs and instructs.

Let's build ourselves a helicopter.

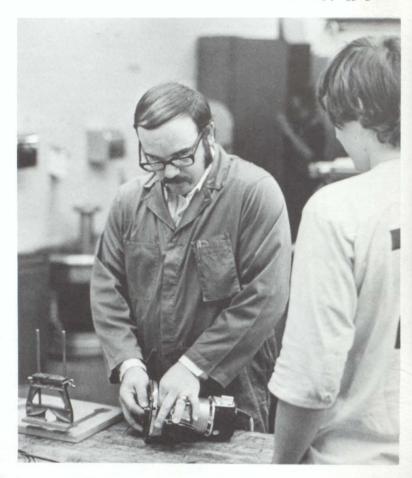

Are you sure that I shouldn't have gotten a B?

Not many people give teachers the credit they really deserve.

Is Mr. Hart really Santa in disguise?

A-one, and a-two . . .

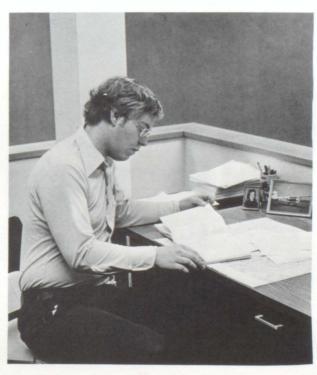

Teaching in a classroom involves more than standing in front of a room and talking.

Why, what big scissors you have!

O.K. Who scratched my sheet of metal?

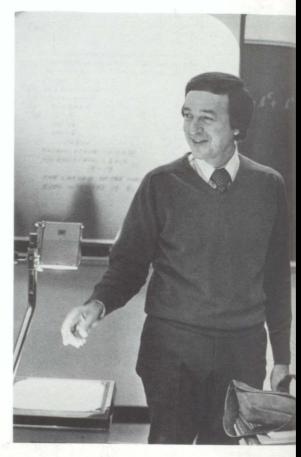

I'm sure it says what to feed gold fish in here somewhere.

It requires preparing lessons, making up tests, and correcting reports and quizzes.

Are you sure we're doing this right?

"By the light, of the projector ... "

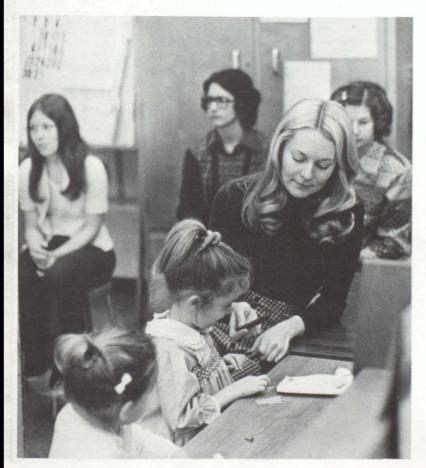

Hey mom, I want to use the phone.

Teaching as a profession is a great challenge to the individual.

Teacher, teacher, I have a question.

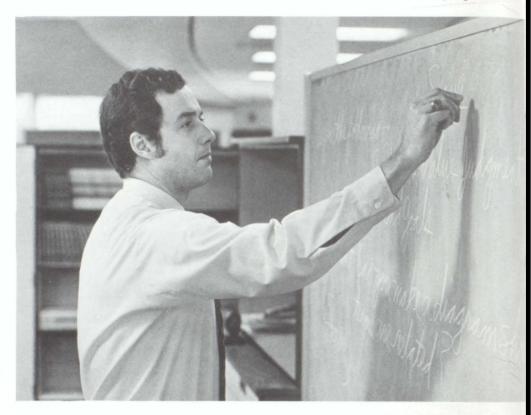

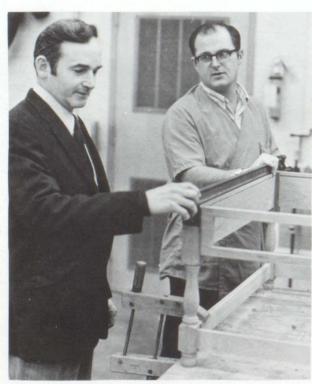

This is a crayon. You do not eat it.

What is a "gnyat"?

A teacher depends largely upon his ability to capture the students' interest.

This will look fantastic in my living room.

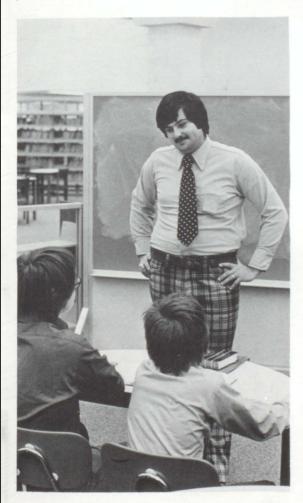

Mr. Lavely, do you think we could build an "outside" planetarium.

Each new year, each teacher, old and new, starts with fresh ideas, . . .

Hard at work.

Hey kids. This is Spanish, not German.

I think that I'm getting crossed-eyed from filling out so many forms.

... ways to make his class more alive; more appealing to the students.

This computer is wiping our jobs out!

Is it a plane? Is it a bird?

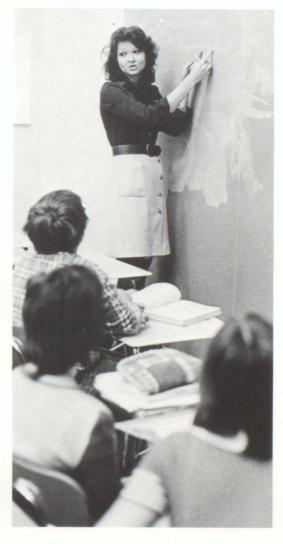

You're going where?

You notice that on the number line, 4 does come before 5.

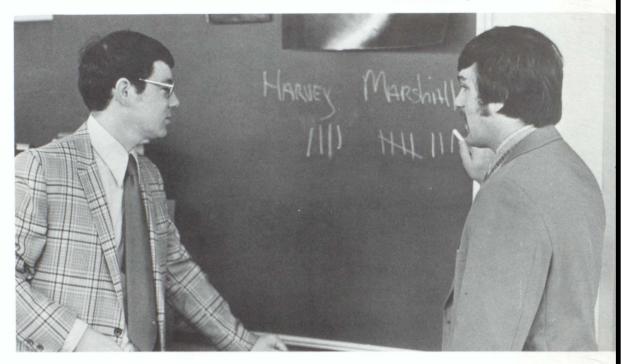

You're putting me on!

... he teaches the way that he sees as most advantageous for his students.

You had better get a move on Mr. Harvey.

If you were to mix the contents of these two test tubes . . .

Many teachers' duties don't end at 2:55.

This dang thing never works.

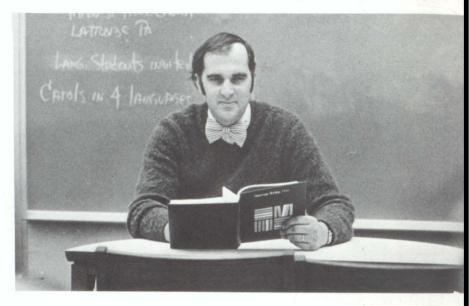

You should have seen what one of my students did today.

So you're the one who has these overdue books.

Many give up part of their leisure time to work with the kids as coaches and sponsers.

1-2-3-4-snap!

Every teacher may not live up to the student's expectations ...

Testing? 1, 2, 3, testing.

I'm always right.

These are pine cones, not acorns!

... but then again, every student may not live up to the teacher's expectations.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Another year has ended. Another book is finished. For graduating seniors, who have left their mark on G.L.S.H., their high school career is over. Their memories of the past years will linger on. But for juniors and sophomores, student life will remain as usual. They will continue to grow and learn, and to face new responsibilities, and challenges.

This year has a very special meaning to us because of personal experience and memories. A few years from now memories may fade but the "1975 LATROBEAN" will keep them alive forever.

Traditionally, this is the spot where the editors thank the staff and non-staffers for all their time and effort in putting together the book. And so, in keeping with tradition we thank:

HERF-JONES YEARBOOK COMPANY ...

for taking our layouts, type sheets, sketches, and instructions and producing our yearbook.

C. T. MILLER . . .

who has tried to keep our costs as low as possible, and our spirits and hopes high.

TERRY AND HENRY DEGLAU ...

Their expert advice and photography has helped to make this book 'unusual' as well as 'unique'. Terry took every picture in this book. Count them. There's over 2000!

MR. JAMES TAYLOR ...

for making the arrangements with the airport.

VEE-NEAL FLIGHT CENTER ...

for providing their equipment and helped our photographers take our "high flying" pictures.

CINDY MULLEN ...

for putting down her paintbrush long enough to expand our ideas into talented artwork.

PETER F. COTTREL . . .

VICKY SVETAHOR ...

whose flying fingers typed a large portion of this book.

MRS. JANET HENDERSON ...

for her unending aid and devotion during troubled times.

YEARBOOK STAFF ...

for taking care of all the "little details" which made this "big detail" possible.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY ...

for allowing us to interrupt classes and adjust schedules to get information and pictures necessary to every yearbook.

STUDENTS, PARENTS, AND PATRONS ...

for giving us their help when we needed it most, due to the cost of inflation.

Compliments of a friend.

At Equibank, we believe people are our business So we try hard to treat every customer with personal attention.

We put Equibank community offices where people are. We've got more than 80 of them so chances are you're never more than a few minutes away from us. And we keep over 50 of our offices open on Saturdays.

We also have thirteen 24 Hour Banking locations where you can bank any time of the day or night. (So you can make deposits, get cash, borrow money, do most of your banking whenever you want.)

In addition, we'll be happy to sit down with you and help plan a money management program just for you. It could include checking and savings accounts, a loan, trust services, a safety deposit box or any of our other services.

As you can see, we want to help. After all, what are friends for?

We're more than a bank, we're a helping hand.

SOME THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

"Nothing worth doing is completed in our lifetime; therefore, we must be saved by . . . HOPE!

"Nothing true, or beautiful, or good makes complete sense from any immediate context of history; therefore, we must be saved by . . . FAITH!

"Nothing we do, however virtuous can be accomplished alone; therefore, we are saved by . . . LOVE!

"No act can be as virtuous from the standpoint of our friends as our own; therefore, we are saved by loves final form" . . . FORGIVENESS!

(An observation from Vulcan Mold and Iron Company, a division of Vulcan, Inc., from the wisdom of Reinhold Niebuhr in "The Irony of American History," 1952.)
