Crossroads

Our life has been like a highway. Since the first day of kindergarten, we have been crossing paths with one another, detouring obstacles in our way, and gradually accelerating one mile per hour toward our futures. Maybe it was a familiar road to us or maybe it was one less traveled. Regardless, to get where we are now, we took a pit stop at some memorable Crossroads along the way. From elementary school to junior high, we progressed from being guided by line leaders to being taught to drive toward independence. Then from junior high to senior high, we transitioned into having more control over ourselves. From permits to licenses, we took another step on our high school highway. Now, here we are. We are at this life-changing Crossroads. No matter which road we choose to take, it will lead us in new and different directions; but, we will always look back in our rearview mirrors and remember the times we stopped at the Crossroads of Cat Curve and Wildcat Way. We will recall the lasting friendships, endless school work, the Wildcat Den, football games, nights at Dino's, and the seniors' final drive to graduation. We will always remember the journey taken and never hesitate to look back at dear old Latrobe High: one of the most memorable Crossroads of our lives.

STUDENT LIFE

Above: Seniors Anne Jupena and Emily Buncie sit in the sun at Outdoor Odyssey. The girls spent a week of their summer volunteering as mentors.

Right: Juniors Sami Jo Foschia and Sydney Peagler get together for a picture before a fun-filled night on vacation. Friends often traveled to the beach together on holiday.

"The most exciting thing I did this summer was..."

Senior Tyler Walker

"...traveling all over the country playing baseball for an Under Armour sponsored team."

Sophomore Christie Douds

"...seeing Taylor Lautner in person at a Pirate game."

Junior Tye Nave

"...spending time with my friends, especially Alex Beatty."

On-The-Go

Summer was the most interesting and exciting three months of the year. Many people enjoyed traveling, attending concerts, going on vacations, or just relaxing and hanging out with friends. Students visited many historical places and enjoyed the sightseeing. Many fun trips were taken over the summer, too. "I enjoyed swimming in the ocean at Sandbridge with Hanna Green," sophomore Lindsay Takitch stated. Junior Taylor Smail went to her cottage in Canada again during the summer. "I've made a bunch of Canadian friends, and we spent the entire summer on the lake doing different water sports." Juniors Rachel Stauffer and Rachel Komisak went to Myrtle Beach. "We went swimming every single day, shopped on the boardwalk, and went to Ripley's Aquarium; it was really fun." There were also many fun and exciting concerts that took place during the summer. Junior Kelsey Korzak went to a Toby Keith concert and commented, "The music was really loud and everyone was dancing and singing." So many exciting and interesting activities occurred during this past summer. It was a time for everyone to relax and prepare themselves for the upcoming 2010-2011 school year.

Going the Distance

Last summer, from June 6 through the 16th, students and teachers ventured to Germany. They visited 5 different countries in 10 days—Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Liechtenstein, and the Czech Republic. They also visited Dachau, the first concentration camp of the Holocaust.

German Trip

Students toured the Potsdam Castle where the Potsdam Conference took place. A total of 27 students went on the trip. Frau Bailey said, “I really loved seeing the kids in a different setting, outside of school.” They met new people and compared their lives in the U.S. to those in Germany. Chaperone Mr. Ferraro actually began taking German language classes when he returned because he plans to go back, and it was difficult for him to speak the language. “I finally got to see the places I’ve been teaching about,” he said. The students experienced the different cultures and learned about the history. According to those who attended the German trip, it was quite an experience. The German students were the only students eligible to go, and a new group of students will be touring again in the summer of 2012.

—Sammi Cook

Junior Celeste Brasile and senior Sarah Adams grab a seat together on a stone fountain in Germany. The travelers really enjoyed the trip and bonded with their classmates.

A group of girls pose for a picture while out on the town in Germany. The students enhanced their speaking and reading skills while traveling abroad.

Jack Findle stands next to a guard. The students had fun playing around while still learning about Germany as they traveled.

“The most difficult part of the trip was...”

Senior Sarah Adams

“...getting used to drinking room temperature drinks, including warm milk for breakfast.”

Senior Valerie Dunlap

“...deciphering conversations and signs in Prague; no one understood a word of Czech and we felt like true foreigners.”

Senior Jake Leyland

“...trying not to get lost in the big cities.”

Miles of Memories

This past July, several students and staff members toured Europe. The students that went were enrolled in European History and Literature. They traveled to all different places in a ten-day period, starting in Killarney. They also got the opportunity to visit the cities of Dublin, London, Oxford, and the Beaumaris Castle in Wales. Many of the students raved about the time they spent in the Beaumaris Castle and said, "We could have spent all day there." They visited many tourist attractions including Blarney Castle and Shakspeare's birthplace, Stratford upon Avon. They also toured the National Gallery of Art Ireland, Peter's Village, and the London Eye, which is considered to be the world's largest observation wheel. "I would take this group of students anywhere in the world; they were fabulous. Our trip was my first experience in a foreign country, and I couldn't have asked for a better time. I can't wait to go to England and Scotland in 2012," said Mrs. Penzera. Everyone enjoyed their trip; it was a very rewarding experience.

Euro Trip

-Alex Beatty

Seniors Caitlin Egan and Tori Vallana strike a pose. These best friends brought their relationship to a whole new level traveling together in Europe.

Senior Justin Szilard touches the Irish Sea. Traveling to the coastline was an anticipated part of the trip.

The group poses on the beach at The Ring of Kerry. The GLSH students bonded and learned new things about each other that could only be brought about by a fun vacation like this one.

"The most interesting part of the trip was..."

Senior
Melanie Biddle

"...experiencing cultures that most of us had never learned about. We didn't know what to expect."

Junior
Daniel Sarver

"...Caitlin Egan walking around Dublin all day barefoot."

Senior
Sammy Brooks

"...sharing a room with three girls. Luckily we all got along."

Right: Juniors Emilie Shuhart and Autumn Taylor stay busy without customers. These two displayed their skills as McDonald's employees.

Below Left: Senior Hilary Bacha restocks boots as an employee of Wet Seal. One of the perks of her job was definitely the discount on clothes.

Right: Sneakerologist, senior Josh Shoemaker, knows exactly how to help one find the best shoes. His number one suggestion was Air Jordans.

"My worst job experience was when..."

Sophomore
Keven Phipps

"... I fell off a ladder while working on a roof!"

Junior
Carmelena Moffa

"... I found a melted mouse in the microwave!"

Senior
Erik Dickerson

"... I had to push shopping carts through 3 feet of snow!"

Gas Money

Many kids stayed busy with jobs that were separate from their full-time jobs as students. Popular places to work included Idlewild, Shop 'n Save, Dairy Queen, and FinishLine. The majority of employed students used their money for car insurance, food, gas, and college savings. Any left-over money, they used for their own entertainment. Junior Lauren Morlacci spent part of her paychecks at Starbucks, while senior Rachel Gribbin spent her money on clothes. Many students discovered that jobs were often filled with the unexpected. Until she started working at Chuck E. Cheese, senior Jami Hajas said, "I never expected to be a giant mouse." At a job, one didn't just earn easy money; they had to work hard. Senior Max Sciuolo even said, "I hate when someone comes in asking to try on a bunch of shoes and leaves without even buying a pair." Also, junior Alex Beatty, who works at Jioio's said, "I dislike that I don't have enough time to clean the tables off before new people are already sitting there." Taking on a job, other than being a student, had both perks and drawbacks; however, everyone with a job ended up with some interesting experiences.

Jobs

-Alexis Fannie and Matty Morrow

Working at Giant Eagle in Greensburg, senior Ryan Keys greets people at the register with a smile. His friendly personality made him popular with customers.

"... I spilled brownie pieces everywhere!"

Sophomore
Breanna Scanlon

"... I had to make over 90 pizzas for a football game!"

Senior
Lee Bickerstaff

"... Some lady said Subway's 'Jared' called her and said she got a free sub!"

Senior
Maria Graziano

"... I had to wear Hollister skinny jeans when the regional manger came!"

Senior
Dustin Hall

Our Meeting Place

Seniors Dan Trainer and Evan Coats grab a few items at Walmart. With the store's inexpensive prices, Walmart was always a great place to get the essentials.

A group of juniors get together at Eat 'n Park. This was a great place to go after a Friday night game to catch up with friends or to grab a Smiley Cookie.

Members of the girls' Field Hockey team grab a bite to eat at Dino's. Whether it was wing night, a sports' banquet, or after a Friday night football game, Dino's was the most popular restaurant in Latrobe.

"Where is your favorite place to hang out and why?"

Junior
Tera Pettina

"Sheetz because you can eat as much food as you want!"

Sophomores
David Gunderson
Austin Ferraro

"We go to Legion Keener to hang out with our friends."

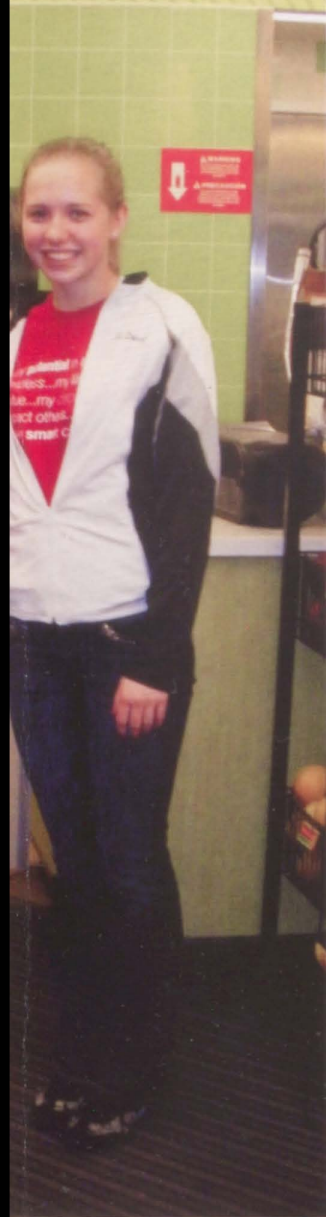

Junior
Sean Cawood

"Linn Run because I like the slippery rocks in the summer."

Above: Getting in front of the camera, these sophomores smile as they hang out at a friend's house. Simple and inexpensive, a friend's house was always a fun place to be.

"Dino's because they have good food and it's a fun place to hang with friends."

Senior David Blawas

"The Coffee Bean because it's a nice quiet place to study with or without friends."

Junior Copley Fry

"I usually go to the mall so I can eat and shop."

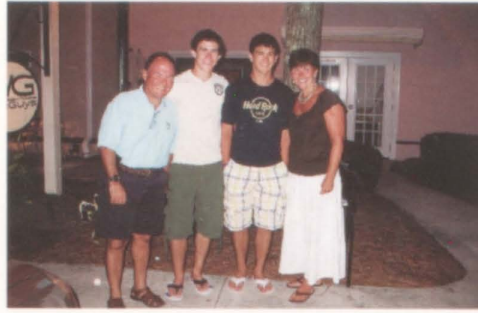

Senior Kayla Golden

"Latrobe Health and Fitness or wherever I can get my GTL on!"

Junior Dom Shojaie

Right: Juniors David and Carmelena Moffa charm the camera with their twin smiles. It was common to see these two spending time together.

"The best part about having an older sibling in high school is..."

Olivia and Alex Gumbita

"...never getting lost."

Amanda and Sarah Adams

"...always having a ride to school."

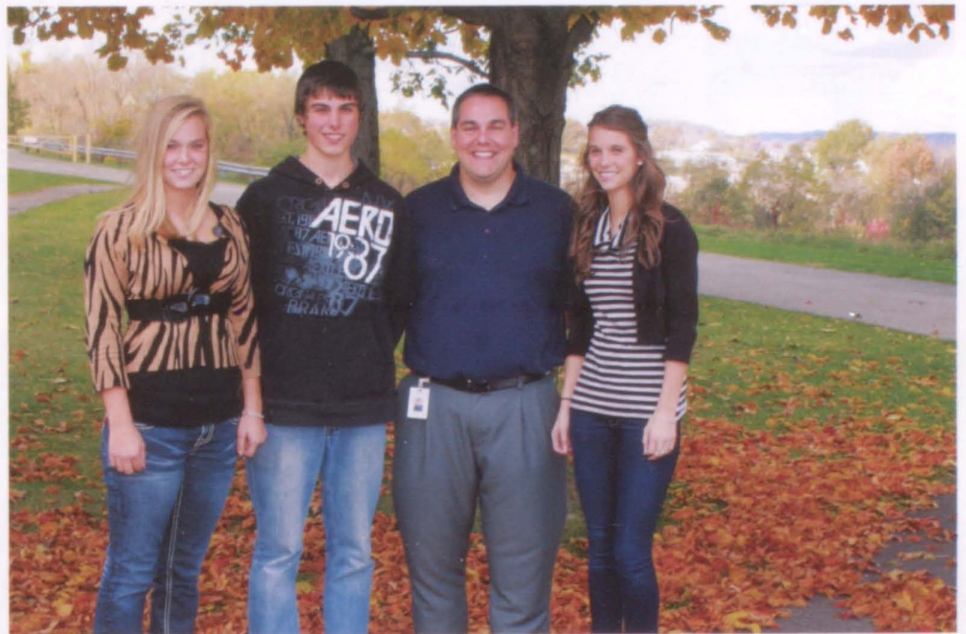

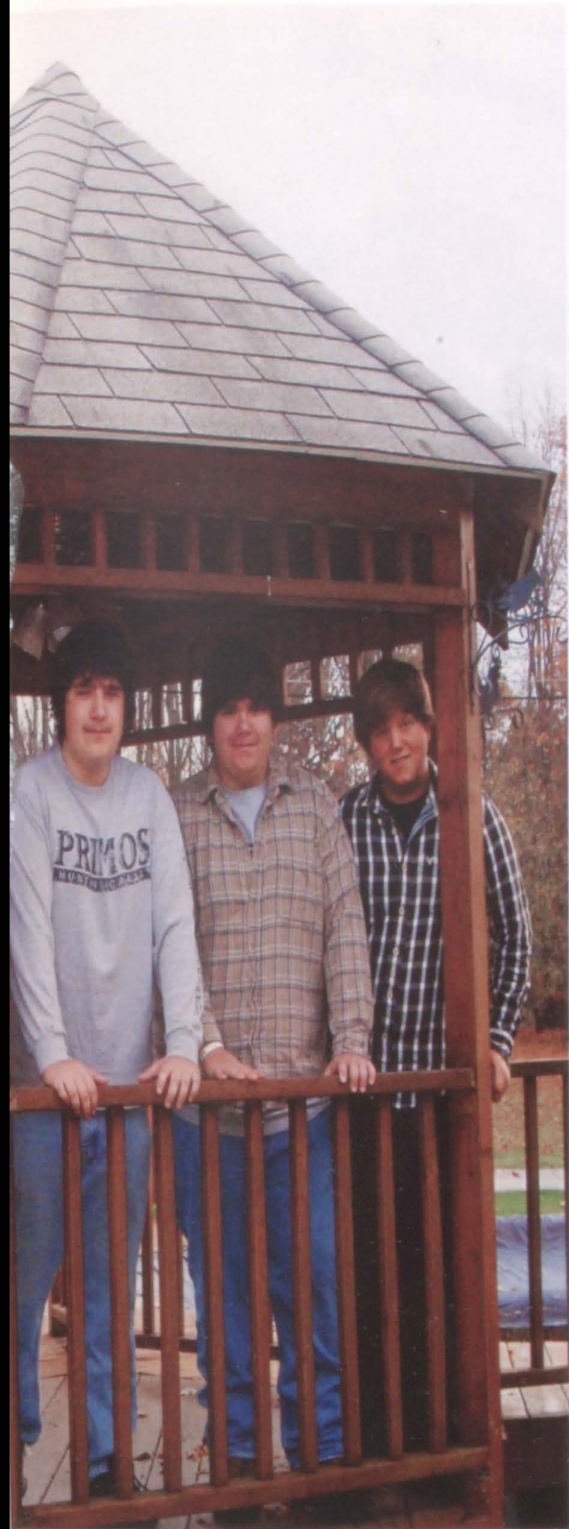

Kaity and Gavin Finley

"...having him there to protect me."

Car Pooling

Family was the most important part of many students' lives. They helped students throughout their high school years. Senior Dan Downing stated, "My older brother helps me by giving me old notes or worksheets." Family relationships also grew as students got older. "We can relate to each other because we've all done the same sorts of things," said junior Tom Barchesky. However, not all students had siblings. "I feel like I'm closer with my parents than other kids because I'm an only child," exclaimed senior Erik Dickerson. Junior Tera Pettina stated, "I feel lonely because I have no one to play with me and my barbies." Senior Luke Finlay said "I hate not having siblings." There were also students who had a large family with many siblings. One of seven, senior Christian Shaffer said "When I visit my siblings, we play sports. I guess; just random family things." Senior Edward Stevens talked about how he and his three siblings got along and how they spend time together. He stated, "My siblings and I are always fighting for the bathroom before school. I always try to get up earlier than them." In many cases, students often attended the same school as their siblings. Imagine living in the same house as your sibling and having a locker beside them. Kevin and Pat Davoli had lockers beside each other. Kevin sarcastically stated, "It's fantastic, I love him!" It was obvious that every student had a different family life that made them unique from their peers. -Allison Wisyanski

GLHS Families

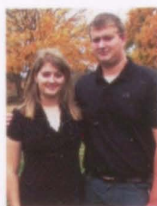

Astronomy teacher Mr. Brandt and his cousins, juniors Kelsie Zoppetti and Beau Gribbin and senior Rachel Gribbin, enjoy spending holidays and special occasions together with their whole family.

"...absolutely nothing."

Matt and Hilary Bacha

"...not having to ride the bus."

Jacob and Lauren Heese

"...knowing the answers in classes he has already taken."

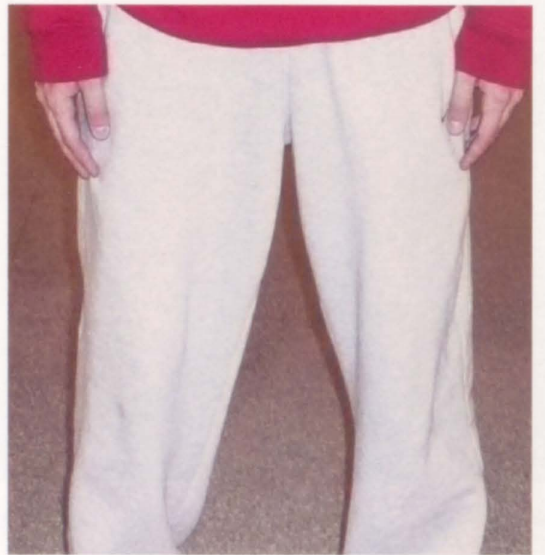

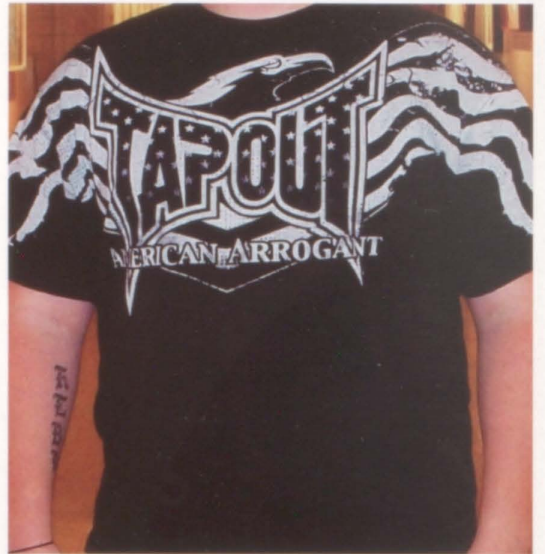

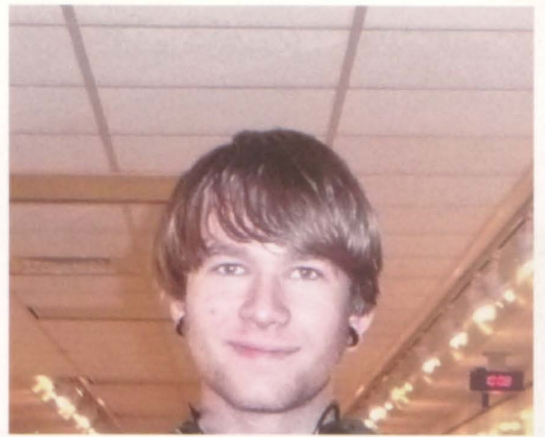

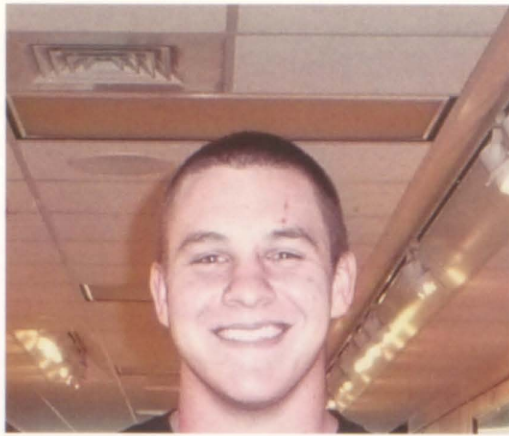

Eli and RJ Imbrogno

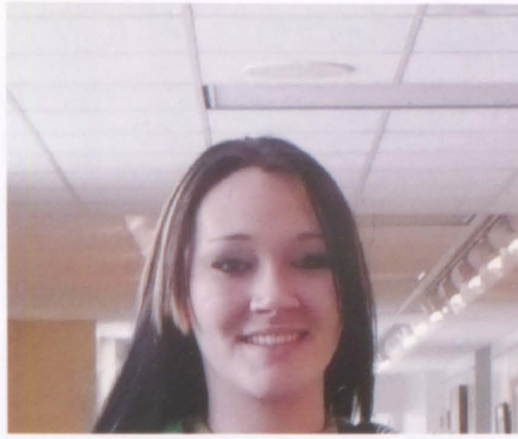

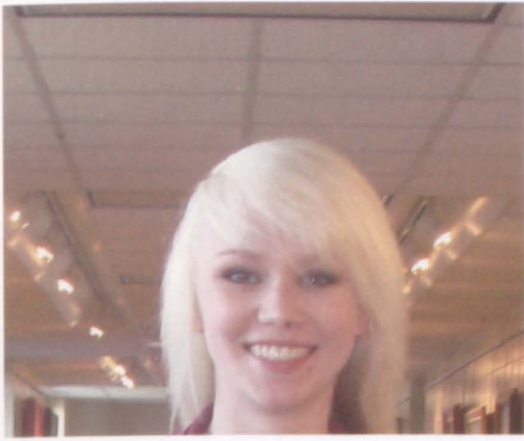

"...having him help me with his old classes."

“Dude, Where’s My Car?”

“Getting into my Durango at the end of the day puts a big grin on my face, knowing that the day is now in my hands,” senior Dustin Hall commented. When reflecting on their days, this was a common feeling for many students, especially for students who participated in sports and held after school jobs. At the beginning of the school year, both juniors and seniors were busy trying to obtain parking passes. Junior Luke Zamiskie received his pass for the year and exclaimed, “It was the sweetest moment of my life!” Although, there was one transition from the junior to senior lot - having to back in. Senior Josh Shoemaker quoted, “It’s pretty easy to park a car, but the people with nice cars should really learn how to do it.” Obviously, driving to and from school played a huge role in the students’ days at Greater Latrobe Senior High School because it offered them more freedom.

Revvin' Up the Spirit

It was the last home football game and to show school spirit, the day began with Battle of the Halls. Many students took time to stay after school and decorate their halls. Decorations were blooming all over the place on lockers, walls, poles, and even on the trophy cases. Balloons, streamers, plates, posters of all colors, orange, black and even pink to support breast cancer were used.

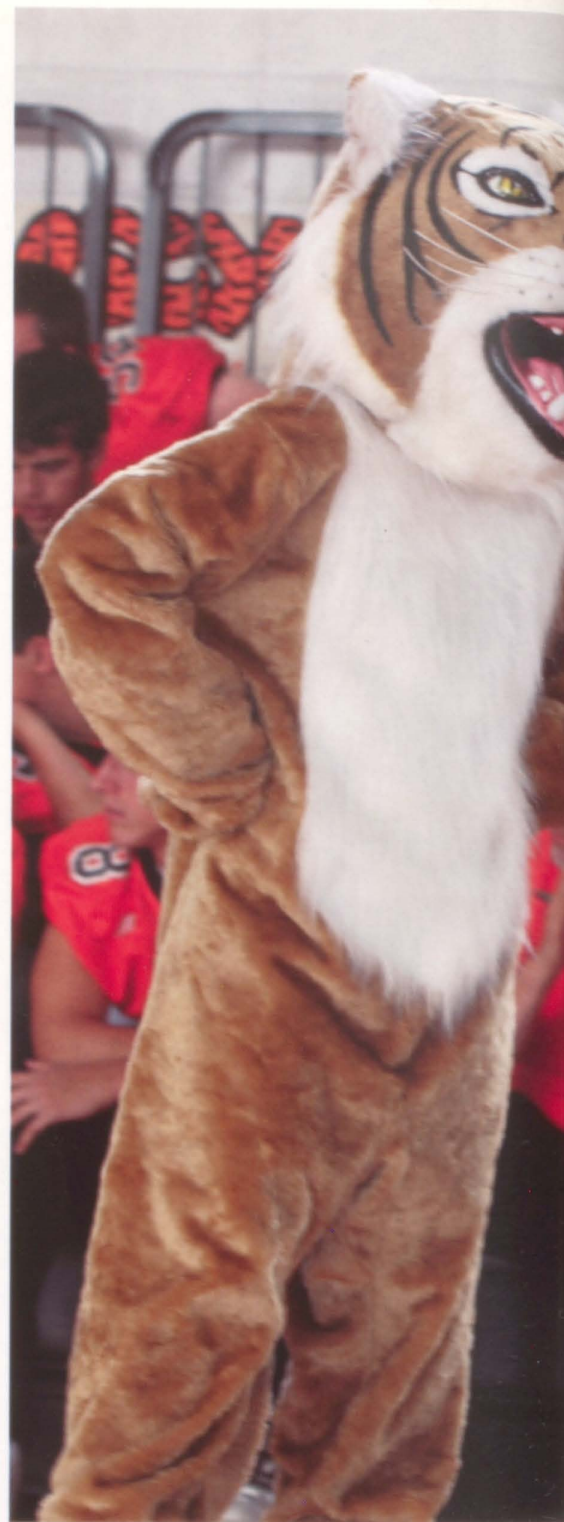

Battle of the Halls and Pep Rally

This year's sophomores even used the color green because it was the color of their lockers. The seniors had some unique sayings like, "From where we stand it's perfectly clear 2011 will be a legendary year." Even though it was the sophomore's first year, they really stepped up and showed they had nothing to lose. The competition was really heated between all classes. Sophomore Kevin Davoli shared, "At first we thought we had a really good chance at winning, but after seeing the senior hall, we knew they had it in the bag. I guess experience is the key for things like this, so you see things that give you ideas for the future." The students of Greater Latrobe really enjoyed Battle of the Halls because it made them feel special. As the school spirit continued, everyone gathered for a Pep Rally in the gymnasium. Escorted by their dates, the Homecoming Court was introduced to the student body. The most enthusiastic part of the Pep Rally were the group activities. No matter who won or who lost, we all had "Wildcat Pride."

-Alexis Fannie and Matty Morrow

Senior Sam Prichard smiles for the camera as he participates in the "Create Your Class Chant" challenge. Sophomores pulled through with a win, but all the other classes put forth a great effort.

"My favorite part of Battle of the Halls was..."

Junior Joe Friend

Right: Carly Meholic stands with her father after being crowned as the 2010 Homecoming Queen at this year's game. She commented, "I was excited about being nominated because it was a lot of fun to represent my class."

How did you feel about being nominated for Homecoming Court?

Senior
Katie Critchfield

"It was fun being on court, especially since it was senior year!"

Sophomore
Blaire Barnhart

"I was shocked, but glad people thought of me when voting."

Senior
Laura Del Sordo

"I feel lucky to have been nominated all three years."

Homecoming Horsepower

This year, October 22 was significant whether you were on the football team, on the court, or a student cheering in the Den. Before the big game against the Norwin Knights, various school clubs, along with the band, cheerleaders, and Homecoming Court, participated in the parade. Sophomore Maria Mulheren said, "My favorite float was Lettermen's Club because we showed the most school spirit and decorated it with our school colors." Key Club won the best decorated float overall, while The Latrobean collected the most money for Breast Cancer Awareness Month. At halftime, the 2010 Homecoming Court was presented at Memorial Stadium and included: sophomores Blaire Barnhart and Cacey Walor; juniors Allie Campbell, Audrie Kuntz, Marisa Larkin, and Taylor Smal; and seniors Katie Critchfield, Laura Del Sordo, Carly Meholic, Laura Spiegel, and Katie Svetahor. With the anxious girls lining the football field, Mr. Fenton announced Senior Carly Meholic as the 2010 Queen. The game continued as the Wildcat football team played a hard-hitting second half, resulting in an unfortunate loss with a score of 24-7. All in all, Latrobe's 2010 Homecoming was a huge success and fun for the entire student body.

Homecoming Highway

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors dressed in their best for the night of October 23, 2010 – Homecoming at Greater Latrobe Senior High School. With the theme “Opposites Attract,” many students danced under the black stars and white lights to the song of the night, “I Like It” by Enrique Iglesias. Some other song favorites included

“Opposites Attract”

“Baby” by Justin Bieber and “Don’t Stop Believin” by Journey. The dance was a blast, followed by the once in a lifetime Battle of the Bands. Junior Emily Banner said,

“I had an awesome time tearing it up in the crowd at the Battle of the Bands. Tom Maroon, who was playing guitar in the band Nay Kills, was looking so fine!” The Battle of the Bands was not the end of everyone’s night. Some students, including senior Brandon Perillo and junior Nick Heining, spent the rest of their evening midnight bowling at nearby Lincoln Lanes. Others, like juniors Lauryn Gianotti and Karley Steeves and sophomore Raven Hrtyanski decided to just hang out and enjoy some great food with friends at Eat ‘n Park. At the end of the night, the phrase “I like it” was what everyone had to say about the evening.

NO EMPTY SEATS

Our Challenge, Our Commitment

Life threw us many challenges: kindergarten, junior high and then high school. With each new year, we set goals and conquered many of them. As we entered Greater Latrobe Senior High School on our last first day of school, we all knew the expectations set before us before the dreaded rules assembly. Unexpectedly, Principals LoCascio, Krehlik, and Smith presented us with a challenge instead of a new rule. No challenge had ever been this big or included the entire class! That challenge was for us to walk across the stage at graduation leaving NO EMPTY SEATS. A huge banner was then presented to the class to remind us of our daily challenge. The following day, we all got to sign the NO EMPTY SEATS banner and it was hung near the cafeteria for everyone to see on a daily basis. This banner not only hung near the cafeteria, but also, proudly accompanied the Wildcat Den to all home football and basketball games. Years from now, we will all look back and realize this banner was no ordinary banner just hanging in the hallway; it was a part of us, the Seniors of 2011.

-Brooke Leechalk

SUCCESS

Academics

STEERING TOWARD SUCCESS

ACADEMICS

Below: Sophomore Brittany Harr works diligently on her computer. The students in digital media technology really enjoyed learning about the latest gadgets.

Above: Sophomores TJ Henry and Brandon Thomas measure and cut in the plumbing shop. Working together was vital for success at EWCTC.

Above: Junior Luke Gatens uses a metal bender to reshape sheet metal. Luke and many other students took part in the plumbing shop.

Right: Kim Spillar does the "dirty work" in culinary arts. At the end of the day, culinary students needed to clean pots and pans just like a real kitchen staff.

Career and Technology Center

Underclassmen

A school day for some Greater Latrobe students wasn't just sitting in a traditional classroom. Instead, students had the opportunity to attend Eastern Westmoreland Career and Technology Center to learn skills for a career after graduation. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who attended EWCTC experienced a more hands-on environment. During these years students found a program that suited their interests and abilities. With plenty of courses to choose from, including automotive technology, collision repair technology, building trades, cabinet making and mill carpentry, plumbing, trowel trades, cosmetology, culinary arts, health occupation technology, information technology, computer repair, digital media technology, graphic communications, machine tool technology, and welding technology, students had the tools and guidance to learn new skills and prepare themselves for life beyond high school.

-Copley Fry

Above: Sophomore Leah Poponick uses a mannequin to perfect her skills in cosmetology. The cosmetology students became experts in hair, nails and makeup.

Why did you choose your particular shop?

Brent O'Neal
Building Trades
Junior

"I chose building trades because I thought it could give me a wide range of jobs in the future; anything from an electrician to a carpenter."

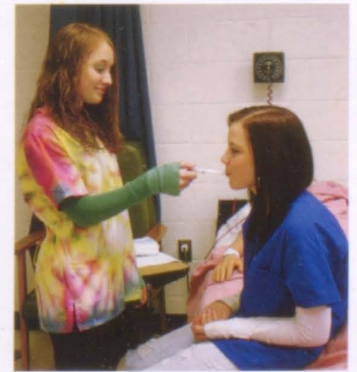

Daja Alford
Culinary Arts
Junior

"I chose culinary arts because I enjoy cooking, and I want to have my own business someday."

Brandon Tlumack
Building Trades
Junior

"I chose building trades because my family brought me up doing this type of work, and I love it."

Moriah Grguric
Nursing
Sophomore

"I chose nursing because I know I will be able to make good money in the future."

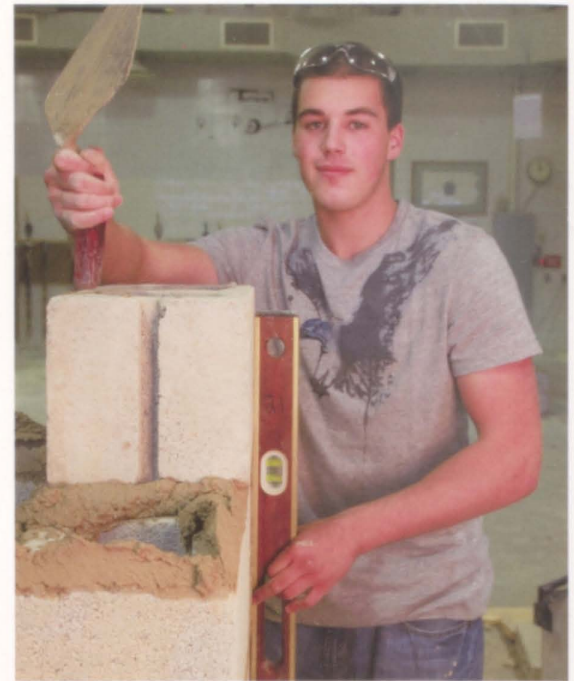

Career and Technology Center

Seniors

Eastern Westmoreland Career and Technology Center was the choice for many students at Latrobe. To showcase their achievements through the years at EWCTC, students had the opportunity to become a member of the National Technical Honor Society, often referred to as NTHS. For membership in this prestigious society, students had to have a 3.0 GPA or higher, be recommended by the faculty, and exhibit the qualities of skilled workmanship, honesty, responsibility, and leadership. In order for seniors to graduate, they had to create a portfolio showcasing their best works with written summaries, photos of their projects, and certificates of completion for all of their projects. The EWCTC guided students and gave them the valuable tools needed to pursue lifelong occupations.

-Copley Fry

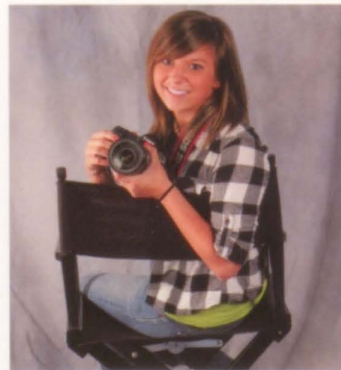

Above: David Blawas pieces together multiple cement blocks with the help of a trowel and level. Having these tools within arm's reach made it much easier to get things done on time.

What was your favorite part about EWCTC?

Jimmy Fontana
Masonry
Senior

"If nothing more, tech has really helped me with household repairs and saved my parents a lot of money."

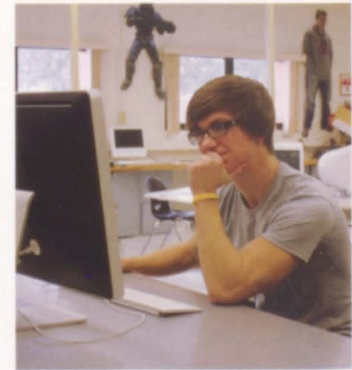

Liz Palmer
Digital Media
Senior

"Attending EWCTC gave me a lot of opportunities to express myself through photography instead of ordinary ways."

Amber Watkins
Graphic Design
Senior

"Getting out of school and going to another one with kids from other schools and working on things I actually like to do."

Bobby Baker
Graphic Design
Senior

"It gives me real life experience. I get to learn things you can't learn at a regular school."

Above: In his carpentry class, Brandon Pallitta hammers together a wooden structure. Students enjoyed this hands-on experience in many classes.

Below: Ryan Giordan and Matt Weltz work together to assemble their project. These two have been a great asset to the plumbing program.

Left: Lexi Metz experiments with a new look on a mannequin. Seniors in the cosmetology department learned many unique techniques and styles over the years.

Capstone Science

Capstone students gather around their instructor for directions. During deer season, the students had to wear the orange vests for safety.

Mrs. Carole Wright, Capstone teacher, shows off her fish. Electrofishing was an activity that the students took part in during the fall.

Senior Becky Onusko listens carefully to her instructor. These students were able to experience the outdoors on a daily basis.

Whether they were trekking through the woods of Greater Latrobe or venturing to the outskirts of Ligonier, the adventures of Capstone students this year never grew tiresome. Capstone, a unique science course offered at Greater Latrobe, was a special opportunity only available to seniors. The class included a smaller, closer group of students than the typical science class. Mrs. Wright stated, "The coolest thing about Capstone is that whatever the topic of the environment is, Capstone can focus on it." The class actually completed a conservation project that involved a grant, permit, and supplies and ultimately fixed an environmental problem. Back in September, they went electrofishing in a nearby stream. Electrofishing is a process involving stunning fish so that they float to the surface of the water and are able to be caught and studied but are not hurt. Overall, students able to take part in the course were more in touch with their environment.

-Kaitlyn Gidick

What's the best part of Capstone?

Brandon Perillo

"We get to do a lot, such as, electrofishing and going outside; it's just a fun class."

Valerie Dunlap

"Capstone allows us to travel out into the field and experience the topics we cover in class."

Jake Leyland

"I like going outside because you get hands-on experience that other classes don't offer."

Allied Health

Students had the opportunity to shadow many different occupations in the health field when chosen to participate in the Allied Health program. Allied Health was a semester course offered to seniors only. Students reported to EWCTC during eleventh period each day. For half of the semester, students learned basic anatomy, vital signs, and CPR. The second part of the semester was spent exploring different branches of health professions. Job shadows were performed at numerous places such as Latrobe Area Hospital, Mountain View Specialty Care Center, InSync Rehab, Kids Care Pediatrics, and local doctors' offices. "Allied Health was a great experience," expressed Cole DeLuca. Students were also required to choose their favorite profession, shadow a mentor for eight hours, and write an essay. Carly Meholic said, "I went back to InSync Rehab for my shadow because they were fun." Allied Health was a great way for students to decide whether or not they wanted to pursue career in the health field.

-Matty Morrow

Allied Health students learn how to dress themselves in protective clothing. This class taught the students many necessities for careers in the health field.

Jessica Jackson and Lindsey Brant prepare to go into the Operating Room. Watching a surgery was a highlight to the semester.

My favorite job to shadow was...

Justin Klimchak

"The eye doctor, Dr. Carrarini, because it gave a true insight as to what I will do in the future."

Jessica Jackson

"Either pediatrics or the emergency room."

Melanie Biddle

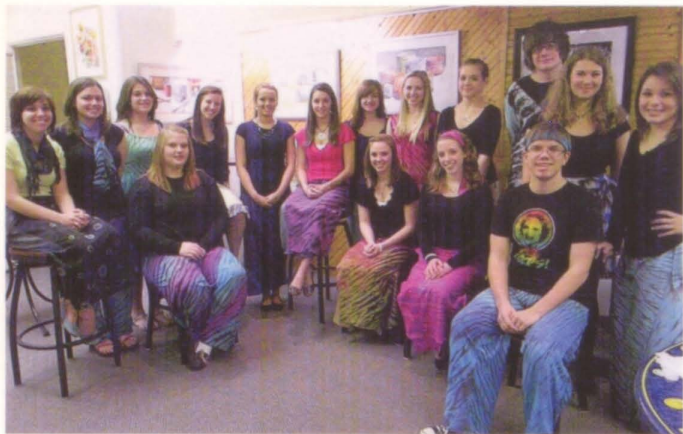

"Kids Care Pediatrics."

Second semester student Regina Woloshun takes notes on vital signs. In addition to taking notes, the Allied Health students also did many hands-on activities.

Art to Wear

Senior Kate Kovalcik presents her newly tie dyed material. Tie dying was a necessity for Art to Wear participants.

Junior Amanda Adams carefully lays out her fabric to trace her pattern. Patience and hand-eye coordination was a definite trait of Art to Wear students.

Art to Wear has been a unique opportunity offered each year through the Family & Consumer Science and Art Departments. Sponsored by the McFeely-Rogers Foundation, students were able to participate in an approximately nine-week project which included sewing, designing their own article of clothing, and even learning the art of ancient Japanese Shibori tie dying. Those participating took a field trip to the Society of Contemporary Craft in Pittsburgh, where they were taught to silk screen on their very own scarves. When students completed their projects, they had the opportunity to display their creations at a fashion show at the Latrobe Art Center. Mrs. Gaudino shared, "Art-to-Wear is a one-of-a-kind high school experience that allows students complete freedom of creativity! Every year I am amazed at the beautiful fashion items our students create and personalize, and I feel very lucky to be a part of the program!" All in all, the projects were an exciting chance for the students to either learn more about art or to perfect their own skills.

-Kaitlyn Gidick

What was your favorite part of Art to Wear?

Kris Vatter

"My favorite part was when I made really cool lounge pants and topped them off with my Betty White shirt."

Kayla Golden

"My favorite part was dying the fabrics and seeing all the sweet colors that came out."

Victoria Donley

"My favorite part would have to be tie dying and trying on my final product."

Kitty Kat Preschool

Mrs. Gaudino prepared high school students to care for and teach toddlers in Kitty Kat Preschool. There were three separate classes available: Life Span Learning, Life Span Preschool, and Life Span Practicum. Life Span Learning provided students with information on how to care for children and what to expect. In Life Span Preschool, parents from the area dropped their toddlers off to be looked after by the high school students with their own personal buddy. Life Span Practicum was a course available to seniors only, where they had the opportunity to go to an elementary school once a week and sit in on classes and teach. Preschool took place on Tuesdays and Thursdays from March 3, to May 19. Students were divided into groups and assigned a theme week to create lesson plans to teach the children. "I took the preschool class because I love working with children; they are so energetic and fun," stated junior Lisa D'Amato. When preschool came to a close each preschooler received a handmade 'buddy book.' It was a fun-filled year for Kitty Kat.

-Sammi Cook

What do you like best about Preschool?

Jessica
Vittone

"I love seeing how happy the kids are when they come and teaching them!"

Molly
Bruner

"I like when the kids are here. They are so much fun to interact with."

Jenna
Green

"I like interacting with the kids at preschool and at elementary observations."

Juniors Sam Shurie and Ali Lubic take time for a quick picture with John Wetzel. All three of them enjoyed free play at the store.

Practicing for her future, senior Kylie Lamberski teaches the Kitties and Kats a lesson about jobs. Theme weeks always guided the lessons.

Practicum students take time out of their planning period for a group picture for their portfolio. These girls were always working hard decorating the classroom and preparing lessons.

Senior Sam Brooks controls the audio board. Making sure everyone knew how to work each piece of equipment in the studio was important to producing a good show.

Seniors Michelle Emanuele and Kim Kuhn work on a video project. Using Sony Vegas studio was key to making video projects for class.

Broadcast WCAT-TV

"Lights, camera, action!" Every morning Greater Latrobe Senior High School students looked forward to watching the WCAT-TV news. The reporters kept us posted on upcoming events, school activities, and sports. However, they were not the only ones that made WCAT-TV complete; you can't forget the students that worked behind the scenes. Mrs. Houck commented, "There are a wide range of students that make it easy to rotate jobs; they are a great group of kids." Before becoming members of WCAT-TV, students were required to take Broadcast I. They learned the basic essentials, such as how to work various pieces of equipment in the studio, including the teleprompter, graphics and audio board. Also they studied how to produce, operate the camera or anchor the news. The students who took the class found it very enjoyable and fun. Throughout the years, students have defined and achieved goals that created a news show that everyone enjoyed.

-Annie Jakubek

What was your favorite Broadcast project?

Dustin
Hall

"My favorite project would probably have to be the music video."

Maggie
Smolka

"My favorite project in Broadcast was my documentary on WJAC-TV. It was a great experience to meet and watch actual anchors, reporters and producers of the news."

Bryce
Sulecki

"My favorite project was the French Club commercial I had to create."

High Post

The High Post, Greater Latrobe Senior High School's newspaper, was issued monthly to the entire student body. It was an exciting class filled with excellent writers and photographers eager to release their articles and illustrations. Members of the High Post staff enjoyed certain aspects of the class. Senior Maria Graziano said, "When I see the finished product after the few weeks of work for each issue, it gives me a great feeling." In the eighty-eighth year of the school publication, the paper has gone through many changes and established a news website. The publication was co-advised by Mrs. Houck and Mrs. Stallings, who stated, "The past three years has brought transformations from icatnews.com to highpostonline.com and combined the best of two print publications, Serendipity and The High Post, into The High Post alone." In class, they worked together as a team for a few weeks and helped each other put the work into one finished piece.

Erika Naeger, Jimmy Singer, Nathan Takitch and Dan Kubus check out newspapers from the past. Getting ideas from old papers helped the staff.

High Post journalists Rachel Stauffer and Lizzie Ruppen pose for a photo before tackling a tough assignment. Helping each other out was the key to success in writing the best story.

My favorite memory from High Post was...

April Smith

"When I got to go on scene for the first time and be a real reporter at Shanksville for my 9/11 story."

Dan Kubus

"Getting to work with my friends and seeing the final product."

Klaudia Long

"Spending time with awesome people."

"I liked going Christmas Caroling at the hospital with Spanish Club."

Post High School

Senior year was a very busy time for students. While keeping up with their school work, they were preparing for their new post high school lives. There were many paths that students took. Different post-high school options included: community college, a four-year college, the armed forces, technical school, or the work force. Community colleges and technical schools were a very popular option for the students who attended the Eastern Westmoreland Career and Technology Center, where they spent the past several years preparing for their new careers and decided to further their education in their chosen field. There were many community colleges and technical schools in the area that students could attend and stay close to home. However, the majority of high school seniors decided to go to a four year college/university. Students were able to stay close to home or go out of state to one of the many universities that offered their desired program of study. Some students chose to enlist in the armed forces, whether it was the Army, Navy, Marines, or Air Force. After fulfilling their duty in the military, they will continue their education, expenses paid. Technical schools were a common option for students. Also, an option for many seniors was to join the work force to begin their new lives. Many opted to work to earn money to further their education in the future or just get a jump start on their peers. Whatever the desired path, seniors were quite busy trying to decide on their futures.

Right: Students who were undecided about a major and wanted to stay close to home decided to attend WCCC. Although there is a branch in Latrobe, some students decided to attend main in Youngwood.

Below: Katie Svetahor and Megan Visconti have been best friends all through high school. Megan and Katie are excited to continue their friendship by attending UPJ together.

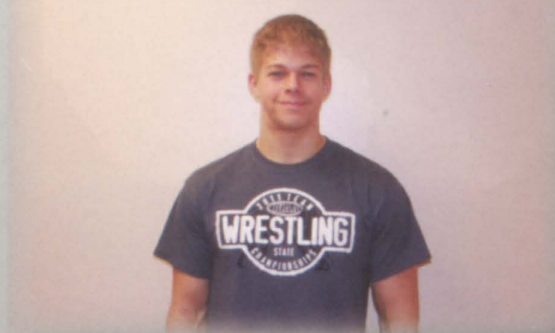

Above: Alex Kessler, Sean O'Barto, Greg Dunn, and Zach Paskovitch all plan to enter the Military. Each guy is serving in a different branch.

Left: Vinnie Giannilli plans to attend culinary school to continue the family tradition of operating the family business. Gino's is a very popular restaurant in our area.

Outstanding

Physical Education

"Brian Butz has been a dedicated and hardworking student. His determination will be an important asset that will definitely follow him into his future. Brian will do wonderfully in his chosen career choice, to enter the military or armed forces. I will surely miss him and his contributions to my classes."
-Ms. Curci

Music

"Katti Grosso has been self-motivated since she began in the band and choir programs. She is constantly practicing, working hard in and out of the classroom. She was a fantastic leader this year as band field conductor. Katti is very talented and will succeed in whatever she chooses to do."
-Mr. Hamill and Mr. Murray

English

"Rebecca Taylor is an outstanding English/Language Arts student in every sense. In addition to her keen ability to analyze and interpret fiction and nonfiction, Rebecca has a creative and engaging presentation style that spans both writing and public speaking. She is meticulous with research, exploring all possibilities to ensure her insight and depth of knowledge on a topic. A commitment to learning and the joy she gets from the endeavour are commensurate with Rebecca's high academic achievement and future success."
-Mrs. Kubus

Art

"Amanda Seanor has been a straight "A" art student since her sophomore year. She has taken most of our art classes, and has always gone the extra mile to do a wonderful job—artwork is continuously unique and well-crafted. Amanda is also the president of the NAHS and a student docent for the GLSD Art Collection. She has shown her artwork outside of school, and has won several awards in these shows. Amanda plans to study art in college, as well."
-Mrs. Ross

Technology Education

"Ryan Keys was chosen for many reasons; he was always on-task, strived for perfection, and completed all assignments on time or ahead of schedule. Ryan is just an overall kind, pleasant, and courteous student in class!"
-Mr. Repko

Business

"R.J. Tombs has been dedicated to our Business program. He has taken four different business classes, excelling in each. He helps others in any way he can, all while achieving straight A's. R.J.'s upbeat personality is refreshing in class and undeniably appreciated and admired by his peers."
-Mrs. Butler

Social Studies

"Sammy Brooks has been a wonderful student to have in the Social Studies classes. She has taken many classes in the department, such as Vietnam and Current Issues. Sammy shows her interest in the Social Studies field and tries her hardest to learn new things and helps her peers to her best ability. Her personality will be an asset to her future."
- Mr. Wetzel

Family and Consumer Science

"Brianna Ridilla shows great interest and enthusiasm in the Family and Consumer Sciences courses. She is extremely creative, whether it is designing clothes in Fabric Arts and Art-to-Wear or creating fun and active lessons for the Kitty Kat Preschool students. Her willingness to help others, loyalty, honesty, and friendly personality are among the many reasons she was selected as our outstanding student."
-Mrs. Burford

Mathematics

"Dan Bucci has an exceptional mathematical ability, maintaining the highest grade in both AP Calculus AB and BC. He has a great work ethic, enjoys mathematics, and is a positive addition to the class. His love for numbers is admired by his fellow classmates and myself. I wish the best for Dan as he continues with math."
-Mrs. Pompelia

World Languages

"Valerie Dunlap took AP German and Spanish III and was an excellent student in both. She is a very hard worker and a born leader. Val is easy to work with and communicates well. She enthusiastically applies herself to the task at hand and constructively uses her time. She excels in learning foreign languages."
-Miss Bailey

Science

"Mitchell Cuv assumes a leadership role both within and outside the AP Physics' classroom. Mitchell demonstrates an enthusiasm for science and a love of learning. He possesses innate ability to solve abstract physics' problems. On a regular basis, he volunteers, assists with daily tasks, answers questions, helps peers, and provides valuable insight. Thus, Mitchell is an exemplary science student."
-Mrs. Keyser

Communications

"Maria Graziano is articulate, poised, and passionate about journalism. Whether it is through her work as Editor-in-Chief of The High Post or as an anchor, producer, or reporter for a WCAT-TV production, she displays a passion that leads to great accomplishments. She has a strong foundation of skills and a desire to learn and grow as a young journalist."

What was your most memorable moment from being on the squad this year?

Sophomore
Lindsey Tomko

"One of my most memorable moments was getting locked out of our dorm with Emma Hill."

Junior
Alex Beatty

"My most memorable moment was screaming the Alma Mater on the bus rides home from away games."

Senior
Alyssa Stewart

"My favorite thing about being on the squad was how crazy and outspoken we all were. Like if someone walked into the room at any given point, they would think we were ridiculous!"

This past season, the cheerleaders supplied the Salvation Army and Saint Vincent de Paul Store with winter coats on the night of the Homecoming football game. The girls enjoyed collecting coats for the less fortunate.

Right: Sophomores Lindsay Takitch, Emma Hill, and Lindsey Tomko give Ciara LaVelle a boost. The girls took time to perfect their stunts.

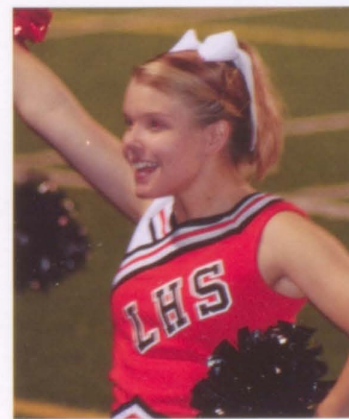

Below: "My favorite thing about being on the squad is that since we all work together, we all get to know a lot more about each other, which brings us a lot closer together," said Emma Hill. This was Emma's first year being a part of the high school cheerleading squad.

Above: During Cannon MacMillian possession of the football, the cheerleaders chanted "Defense." The girls always use this cheer and many others to get the fans involved in spirit of the game.

Cheerleading

"Walk It Out"

The Greater Latrobe cheerleaders did it all during the 2010-2011 school year. The cheers of these ladies were heard at football games, wrestling matches, and basketball games. The girls' ten-month season began with tryouts in April. Kelsey Dominick was chosen as captain of the squad and gained much respect from the girls. "Kelsey is a really good captain; she's always there to help everyone, she's really nice, and she's really funny," offered sophomore Rebecca Baldonieri. In July, the girls attended UCA summer camp at Slippery Rock, a four-day elite stunt camp. Seniors Amy Jo Bollinger, Kelsey Dominick, Jami Hajas, Kylie Lamberski, Brittney Sarnese, Danielle Scalise, and Alyssa Stewart were named All Americans at the camp. Another event the cheerleaders participated in throughout the school year included the coat drive, taking place in late October. Coats were collected to benefit the Saint Vincent de Paul and the Salvation Army. The girls worked very hard and remained dedicated to the squad throughout the year. Head coach, Amy Mallory, said this of the girls' efforts, "The girls have worked very hard this season. The girls have to include the skills of the new members with the returning veteran members." Between the practices and competitions, the girls spent a lot of time bonding and creating strong relationships. "My favorite part of cheerleading was that we could be down to the wire on getting a routine perfected and we all pulled together as a team," stated sophomore, Shelby Kunselman. As a part of Greater Latrobe athletics, everyone can always count on the cheerleaders to bring the spirit out in the fans.

Below: Sophomore Victor Sipe takes a deep breath as he strides on. It was vital for the boys to be in great cardiovascular shape during the season.

Left: Senior Josh Dorfman steps to the starting line. Josh was the leading scorer this year and also served as the 2010 captain.

Right: Zach Battaglia separates from the pack as the race begins. The boys made sure to pace themselves so they could successfully finish the whole 5K.

Above: Junior Mickey Orange attempts to pass one of his Spartan opponents. Mickey was a first year runner who worked hard and stepped up to help his team.

Boys' Cross Country

"Thunder Cats"

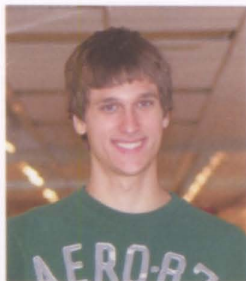

As the boys' cross country team went into the season with the confidence and determination they set high standards for themselves, and made running their lives. They started conditioning early in hopes to keep their endurance and speed up during the summer months. The team cut it close to qualifying in the state meet at Hershey, PA, which was the 2010 team's goal to be the first to go to states. Unfortunately, they did not achieve this goal, ending the season with a section record of 6-2 and an overall record of 7-3, allowing them to finish the season with a winning section title. They had a successful season, even though they didn't go as far as they were all hoping, they still had fun and have memories with them that will stick with them for life. The senior boys said, "We love it when Coach Simpson tells us to pack the chute." Coach Simpson said, "It was fun having this group for my first season. With lots of hard work and practice, we set race date goals and met them."

Left: Senior Erika Naeger paces herself as the race continues. The seniors showed outstanding leadership both on and off the course.

Girls' Cross Country

"Get Up that Big Mama"

The girls' cross country team had a very successful season. They finished with a record of 7-1 for the section and an overall record of 9-1. They worked very hard to achieve this record. In the summer, the team practiced at 7:00 am. The practices were optional in June and July but mandatory in August. Many of the workouts were long distance runs often up to ten miles. They ran at many different locations, such as Lynch Field, St. Vincent, Teener League, Mammoth Park, and Twin Lakes. One of the optional practices even included a 6-mile run and a 34-mile bike to Ohio Pyle and back. The workouts had to be challenging in order to prepare the girls for upcoming races. Coach Simpson stated, "It was fun having this group for my first season as head coach. The season was highlighted by an enjoyable trip to the Hershey State Championship course in September and the girls' team winning the County Championship. It was also exciting to have Hanna Green and Mary Fratto qualify for the PIAA meet in November where they ran extremely well." Senior captain Carly Meholic commented, "I was proud to bring the county title back to Latrobe and lead the girls' team to many accomplishments. Our team is a family and we all push each other to do our best. I'll really miss everyone." Determinedly and with high spirits, the 2010 girls' cross country team undoubtedly achieved success.

Right: Junior Kaitlyn Kernicky runs up the field making sure her teammate has support. Teamwork was a great help during the season.

Above: Senior Anne Jupena successfully blocks the ball as the opposing team attempts to score a goal. She helped defend the goal throughout the season.

Girls' Field Hockey

"Sweaty and Ready"

Despite enduring a rough season, Latrobe's girls' field hockey team persisted and never gave up. Coach Jeff Giordon commented, "Seeing the team progress in a positive direction this season was a huge achievement for us. The summer conditioning and skills sessions helped out with this as well. Though the overall record doesn't necessarily show it, I was encouraged by our level of intensity all season against our usual strong section competition. I look forward to more positive achievements from Latrobe Girls' Field Hockey in 2011. Thanks and good luck to all the Seniors!" Finishing the season with one win, one tie, and twelve losses; the team managed to overcome their struggles. Going into the season they had a goal of beating one of their biggest section rivals, Hempfield, who they tied, zero to zero. Coach Giordon had a personal goal for his team; he wanted the team to play better hockey and be more competitive against all of their opponents. He felt the team achieved this goal when looking at this season's scores compared to last years. Major goal scorers this year were senior Brianna Ridilla and junior Sarah Miller, while sophomore Kylie Luke was valuable on both offense and defense. Although the girls did not reach their team goal, they were still persistent throughout the season and approached each game with a positive attitude. Senior night was the highlight of their season, beating Taylor Allderdice with the help of goalkeeper, senior Anne Jupena, who only allowed one goal. The girls look forward to improving in upcoming seasons.

Football

"Tough Times Don't Last, Tough People Do"

The Latrobe Wildcat football team took the 2010 season by storm. The 'Cats had their first winning season since 2001 and were lead by captains DJ Lonigro, Gavin Finley, Steven Taylor, and Matt Halula, who took pride in their roles. Their motto for each game was "Tough times don't last, tough people do." Captain Gavin Finley said, "I enjoy being a captain because the other players look to me to lead, and I like setting the example for our team. With all the hard work we put in during the off season, I really feel like it helped me become a much better player." They had such a tremendous season, all thanks to their long and tiring three-a-days during the summer. Senior Kyle Tomko, who looked at the three-a-days in a positive light, said, "They were tough but definitely worth it." Head coach Ray Reitz offered, "Our season was successful; it was the first winning season since 2001." Coach Reitz had many goals for this season and many were fulfilled. Reitz quoted, "I thought our kids could have been 7-2. Our goal was to make the playoffs and go to conference. Unfortunately, we did not make the playoffs." The entire team had high expectations going into the 2010 season and fell just a little short. Overall, the 2010 Wildcat football team had a solid record and a winning season of 5-4. The players put their best foot forward and had a season that will be remembered for years to come.

Below: Senior Dan Buccì tees up to putt. Concentration and determination helped the team accomplish many goals.

Left: Anticipating the green, senior Dylan Marshall takes a practice stroke. Dylan made the best of his senior season by golfing at the WPIAL finals and PIAA semifinals.

Right: Junior Ryan Staffen prepares to hit the golfball down the fairway. Ryan's drive was an asset to this year's team.

Above: Making his best drive, sophomore Will Wears follows through on his swing. Will represented Latrobe at the PIAA State Golf Championships where he placed 15th overall.

Golf

"That's It, It's Over! I'm Coming Home Mama!"

The Greater Latrobe Golf team worked very hard to achieve their goals throughout the season. Practice took place at Latrobe Country Club every day and primarily consisted of playing nine holes of golf on the front nine. From time to time, the team focused on practicing specific parts of the golf game by not playing the entire hole and hitting shots from various locations on the holes. Each nine hole score counted towards the players average, which determined who plays in the next match. The season goals were to make the team playoffs and qualify for the WPIAL and PIAA finals. The team qualified for the playoffs and made it to the WPIAL team finals, where they finished third. The team was also 2nd in the county and had a record of 14-3. In the team accomplishments, captain senior Dylan Marshall, junior Ryan Staffen, and sophomore Will Wears qualified for the WPIAL individual finals. Marshall also made it to the state semifinals individually. Sophomore Will Wears maintained the lowest individual average throughout the season and advanced all the way to the state finals finishing 15th. Wears said that finishing 15th in the state was his greatest accomplishment. Determination and concentration on their goals helped the Greater Latrobe Golf team to have such a successful season.

Boys' Soccer

"Hand of God"

Coach David Veins stated, "The team had a great time playing the world's most popular sport." The 2010 soccer season included having fun, getting along with teammates, and, of course, trying one's best to win. They set high goals and hoped for a winning season; therefore, they started their season off with mandatory practices in the summer. To increase their speed and endurance, the team ran about two miles a day. This extra conditioning certainly helped them during their grueling matches with their opponents during the season. Unfortunately, the team compiled a record of 6 wins and 11 losses. In addition to all the practices and matches, they enjoyed numerous activities on the bus and waiting for the start of the game. Listening to senior Gus Hough's rap battles was fun for all. They also had their inside jokes and sayings, such as "Hand of God." Throughout the season they made many memories on and off the field. One of their most memorable matches was senior night against Derry. "Since Derry is our rival, it was nice to win against them," said senior Patrick Davoli. Many players, especially the seniors, worked at being team leaders and role models for the younger players. They played not just for themselves, but for the team. This season was quite an unforgettable one due to the team's actions on and off the field.

Right: Junior goalie Caela Long punts the ball away from the goal. She saved many goals throughout each game.

Above: Sophomore Gina Rock dribbles the ball down the sideline towards her intended goal. She contributed to the team's success with her keen skill.

Girls' Soccer

"Is this real life?"

The Latrobe girls' soccer team, which consisted of 33 talented and determined girls, was divided into two teams. The varsity team was coached by Vince Pimpinella and the junior varsity team was led by Rob Reed. This past year the team was faced with a new section, so it was difficult to predict where it would stand at the end of the season. The girls' goal for the season was to make the playoffs, unfortunately they fell short their last game. "We didn't make the playoffs this year; however, we improved as a team and became a lot closer," said junior Ashley Miller. A number of injuries over the course of the season made winning an even bigger challenge. Ending with eight wins and seven losses for the season, junior Jessica Shvetts said, "Each year we take a step closer to what we want to achieve." Many of the girls said that their favorite memory of the season, junior Jessica Shvetts against Albert Gallatin where they brought home another Latrobe victory. Senior Kim Kuhn, junior Caela Long, and sophomore Marissa Duvall were selected to the AAA Section 1- All Section team. Kuhn was also invited to play in an all star showcase game. "I led my team by making sure everyone kept a positive attitude and tried their best," Kuhn stated. The three team members were recognized at the WPIAL banquet in December 2010. Overall, the team pushed through many hardships and had a winning record for the 2010 season.

Girls' Tennis

"Feel the Heat, Get the Fever"

The girls jump started their season with complete dedication. They conditioned in the summer twice a week and continued practicing every day throughout the season, beginning in late August. The girls also held a car wash and sub sale fundraiser to support the team. The varsity team compiled a season record of 9-3 in the section, and 10-5 overall. This qualified the girls for WPIALs. Also, junior Stacia Kissell won the section title for singles; then Stacia teamed up with senior Katelyn Hill to win the section for doubles. Katelyn Hill even said that her favorite memories from the season were winning section doubles with Stacia and dancing on the bus to techno music with Devon Gjebre. The junior varsity's record was 9-4, and several girls participated in a doubles tournament held at Franklin Regional including sophomore Marybeth Bobula, who said the doubles tournament was the best part of her season. This season was filled with many great moments on and off the court; senior Danielle Shojaie said everyday created a new memory. About the season, assistant coach Kara Fullman said, "This year's tennis team was one of dedication, hard work, and having fun. It is truly a pleasure to coach such a great group of girls." Head coach Jon Mains then stated, "This team gave 100% every practice and match, and that's all I can ask for as a coach. I really enjoyed coaching this group of girls. I wish my seniors the best of luck in the future."

Girls' Volleyball

"One and Done"

For the past several seasons, the Latrobe girls' volleyball team has excelled beyond expectations, and this year was no different. Their winning season of 9-2 and fourth consecutive Section Champion title was accomplished through the hard work and long hours that the team put into practicing. Summer conditioning for volleyball began in late May of last year, while two-a-days began in the third week of August. Spending so much time getting ready for the season was one of the many things that the girls did to come together to make them a stronger team. Senior captain Kasey Feiertag stated, "Conditioning was good team bonding that got us physically and mentally ready for the season." Many of the girls were proud of everyone's performance this season, like junior, Alex Palmer, who said, "Our most outstanding performance was playing Peters Township in the WPIAL playoffs. They were a great team, but we pulled together in all five games and ended up winning." This year was a successful one for the Lady Wildcats, not only in their regular season games, but in the playoffs as well. The girls' volleyball team lost in the WPIAL Quarter Finals in an extremely tough battle against Seneca Valley. All in all, the girls put their hard work to the test and were victorious throughout the season.

Girls' Basketball

"Needless to Say..."

The girls' basketball team worked very hard this season. They had many goals they wanted to accomplish, including making it to the WPIAL playoffs. The girls made it to the WPIAL playoffs. There were high expectations for the team. They started working hard in the summer by playing in a league at Indiana High School. They also participated in a team camp at Robert Morris University. This helped the girls get ready for their season. Once the regular season began, the girls entered the Tip-off tournament held at Indiana High School to prepare for section play. They played two games against Penn Hills and Indiana. The girls won the first game defeating Penn Hills; they lost in the final round to Indiana. The biggest win of the season was against Gateway, because they won the section, but GLHS defeated them 43-40. The team consisted of nine talented seniors that led the girls throughout the season. They were looked up to for their leadership and skills. The overall record was 6 wins and 15 losses. The team worked extremely hard and enjoyed the season together.

Boys' Basketball

"Together"

The boys' basketball team played with determination, pride, and teamwork this season. Teamwork was crucial to this year's season. "One man can be a crucial ingredient on a team, but one man cannot make a team" according to famous basketball player, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Under the guidance of Captains, Doug Johnson and Josh Shoemaker, this was a winning season. The boys started working this summer to become a great team; they attended two camps. The camps were held at St. Francis University and Dickinson University. After working hard this season, the boys' team had much to show. Sophomore Ron Monack said the team's biggest accomplishment of this season was pulling the upset against Connellsville. Junior Ryan Bisi also stated, "One big thing we won was the Christmas tournament at Mohawk." With these upsets, the team was prepared to be tough contenders in the playoffs. The Cats finished their season with an overall record of 12-9 and were also 8-6 in the section.

Hockey

"This One's for the Fans"

With three consecutive state championships in the past three years, the Ice Cats had quite an act to follow. They were undeniably strong, demonstrated by their tie for first place in the AA division and their record of 16-5-1. Four new defensemen quickly developed under the leadership of two returning defensemen, Senior Alec Koluder, who was also assistant captain, and Sophomore Robert Vasinko. Senior Zack Laduke, team captain, was a leader on the ice. He was the only member on the team to have played four years on varsity and three state championships. Zack led the AA division in scoring this season. His line mates, Josh Singley and Chris Johnson formed the most feared line in the division. Every member of the team pulled together and played as a whole. The team's goal from the beginning of this year had been to win a fourth State Championship. Coach Dan Ridder even said, "We looked forward to another great run through the Penguin's Cup Playoffs and onto another State Championship." Throughout the season, the team became close and pushed each other to improve. Through it all they became brothers, known as "Band of Brothers."

Girls' Swimming and Diving

"Down To Swim"

Greater Latrobe Girls' Swimming and Diving team took their section by storm this year. Senior captain, Emily Friedline, had high expectations for the girls and helped lead them to several victories. The girls' season started early, with optional practices beginning in September. As their season progressed the practices and workouts became more frequent and more intense. The girls were bound for success with ten returning lettermen, two freshman standouts, and an abundant amount of WPIAL qualifiers. Over half the team qualified in at least one event. At the Westmoreland County Coaches Association meet, the girls' team placed second overall with divers Shannon Bossart and Cassidy Shultheis placing fourth and fifth, respectively. The girls' greatest accomplishment this season, however, was their phenomenal performance against Hempfield, where they won the title of Section Champs for the second consecutive year. The girls couldn't have won without the help of two new assistant coaches, Grey Arrigonie and Nathan Bolby, who were always there to push and motivate the girls. When head coach Jessica Adams was asked about the girls' success this season, she said "I'm very proud of the girls; they worked hard and fought some tough battles but managed to come out on top. The girls achieved a lot even though their numbers were down from last year. I was very happy with their performance at Counties and was happy to bring another section title back to Latrobe!" Without teamwork and team bonding activities, the girls would not have been nearly as successful or as good of friends. All in all, 2011 was an explosive year for the girls' swimming and diving teams.

Boys' Swimming and Diving

"To the Baseline..."

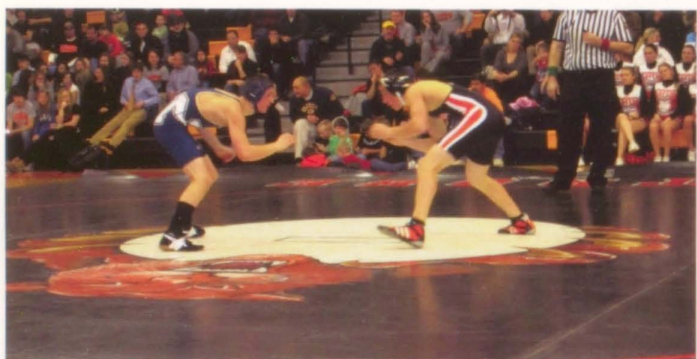

The Greater Latrobe Boys' Swimming and Diving team wasted no time starting their season off right. Senior captain CJ Shrum set his expectations high for his team and was always there to motivate them. With eight practices a week, the team knew they were in for a long season, but also knew that the grueling workouts would pay off. Success came easy for the boys' team, even if they only had eight athletes. Junior Lucas Bureau broke several school records including ones that had been standing for over ten years and helped lead the boys to victory. Divers, Scotty Guzik and Tim Cengia also scored vital points for the team, often placing first and second at meets. The boys' performance at the Westmoreland County Coaches Association meet was perhaps the highlight of their season. The guys placed third out of sixteen schools, beating out teams that were twice their size. Cengia qualified for WPIALs in both diving and swimming, which is a phenomenal accomplishment. Assistant coach Grey Arrigione said this when asked about the boys' success this season, "We've broken four school records and have had the whole men's team qualify for WPIALs. Qualifying an entire team is a great accomplishment and something to be very proud of." Coach Arrigione is new to the team this season along with assistant coach Nathan Bolby. Working against all odds, the boys' team came out on top, but more importantly, they became a family and shared memories they will never forget.

Below: Coaches Tad Harbert and Marc Billett advise from the sidelines. The boys depended on their coaches for technical support during their six minutes on the mat.

Left: Junior Ty Lydic uses his legs and arms to keep down Heath Coles of Norwin. Ty wrestled year-round and has been a vital member of the varsity team for three years.

Right: Senior Jason Stewart prepares for his opponent and the whistle to restart. The boys had to be certain not to not false start or illegally grip.

Above: Junior Scott Mohring reaches for the ankle of his opponent. Having control of wrists and ankles was key to the offensive success that the Cats had this season.

Wrestling

“Everybody Loves Everybody”

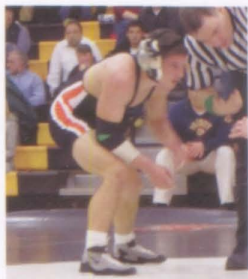

The 2010-2011 season was surely a monumental one for the Greater Latrobe wrestling team, and arguably the best that the school has ever had. Many wrestlers achieved their individual goals and milestones, along with the team as a whole, achieving goals never reached before. This year was the first season that the Wildcats had ever reached the PIAA team state championship in the school's history. The state championship was well deserved for the squad through their hard work, determination, and strong relationship that came together during their matches all season long. The Cats faced Cannon McMillan, the defending WPIAL champions and lost the match after a hard fight. Though slightly disappointed with their 2nd place WPIAL finish, the team still had a great feeling as they advanced to Hershey, Pennsylvania, with a 16-2 record. Head coach Marc Billett stated, “I think the guys are really excited to wrestle. This is the first time they’ve been able to participate in it and they’re anxious to see how far they can go.” Along with the triumphant journey to PIAA championships, some individuals on the wrestling team also achieved some large accomplishments. Senior Chace Small clinched his 100th win this season for the Cats, a number reached by few wrestlers. Junior All-American wrestler Ty Lydic also had a great season by earning himself the 2010 PAWF freestyle championship. Both of these grapplers were pivotal to the success the team had this season. The season was remarkable for the Greater Latrobe Wildcats, undeniably a job well done.

Baseball

“Doze...”

This year's team had some big shoes to fill due to the loss of several key players. Under the guidance of Head Coach Matt Basciano and his assistant coaches Luke Basciano, Matt Musiak and Mike Polinsky, the team set goals to become the best they could be and play hard out on the field. Coach Basciano stated his expectations for the season, “This is going to be a challenging year. We lost a lot of talented starters last year. There is some real potential there, but they will have to turn that potential into a product and put it on the field. I am looking for some positive attitudes and team leaders.” Preseason programs started in the fall, followed by hitting practices at the stadium, and throwing practices during Christmas break in the gym. Tryouts were held the second week of March. After all their hard work during the preseason, coaches and players had a positive perspective on how the upcoming season would be. The team practiced at the field, the hitting cage at the stadium, and in the school gym. When asked about expectations for the season, senior Jason Stewart replied, “To make the playoffs and have good team unity.” This year's team worked hard and each individual contributed their efforts to a successful team.

Above: Junior Gabby West moves down the field with the ball hoping to score a goal. She was a strong key player on the team and her dedication and hard work was greatly appreciated.

Girls' Lacrosse

"No Team Is Good, But We Are Good"

The girls started the new season with new players, new drills, new team, and new coach, Kaytie Russo. Coach Russo stated, "This season we have some strong talent in our juniors and seniors. Our goal is to increase our skills and abilities as a team and gain another playoff appearance." With the goals of the season set, the expectations were very high. Due to these high expectations, the girls' lacrosse team practiced Monday through Saturday. When the season arrived, it started with tough conditioning, lots of running, stick drills, foot work, and many other workouts to get mentally and physically prepared. To improve their endurance, Coach Russo added a one-mile run workout. Many of the practices were held at Baggaley Elementary School. Throughout the season many friendships were made. Junior Kayla Durick stated, "I love when lacrosse season comes around because it gives us all a chance to spend time together, have fun, and joke around; one big lacrosse family." Even though they had some really tough competitors, the girls' lacrosse team always put forth their best effort. Throughout the season the players realized all the hard work at the beginning of the season paid off at the end. Whether they lost or won, in the end they were one big family.

Boys' Lacrosse

"LAX Bros"

Lacrosse was a very important sport to many of the Greater Latrobe boys. To them, it was not just a sport that they played for a while in the springtime, it was their life. Many of the players competed indoors throughout the fall and winter. Before the season started, they were inside training and conditioning to reach their peak performances. They worked on passing with different line drills and improved their stick skills with short passes, outlets, cradling, and hard defensive maneuvers. Junior Gordon Sapir stated, "Our strategy as a team is to be a conditioned enough squad to play at one-hundred percent for the entire game." In their second year as a varsity school sport, the team played against some very good teams. They set the goal and challenged themselves to finish with a winning record. This was a large feat for the team after the loss of some crucial senior players from the previous year. The lacrosse team was coached for the second year by Coach David Leksell. He led the team's daily practices at the field behind the junior high. The practices that were held at Rotary Field prepared the players to be the best they could be at their games. The season was a great experience for all the players.

Softball

"Don't Be Fooled By The L's On Our Foreheads"

Over the years, Greater Latrobe's Girls' softball team has excelled above and beyond. During the 2010 season, the softball team beat Hempfield in the Section Championship game. All of these great accomplishments in the past set the standards high for this year's softball team. Senior Alexa Larkin stated that the expectations for this season were "To win sections, WPIAL's, and states." Assistant Varsity Softball coach, Cindy Mitchell stated, "The expectations for this year are very high. This is probably the most well-rounded team that I have coached. Our two senior pitchers, Alexa Larkin and Becca Taylor, are experienced, extremely talented leaders. We hope to still be playing well into the month of June." To achieve all of these goals, pre-season workouts for the 2011 season began during Christmas break. Conditioning for the year started early to assure this season would be another winning one. During the regular season, the softball team practiced at the Rotary Field. There, they practiced hitting, throwing, catching and running. When the weather was not suitable for outdoor practice, the team practiced in the auxiliary gym. Junior Emily Banner stated, "There is not only one thing about softball that I love; I love my fellow teammates and coaches. Softball is my life."

Boys' Tennis

"Snacks on Snacks"

With big expectations from their Coach Jon Mains, the boys' tennis team started the season off on the right foot. They began practicing early because the courts were ready and the weather cooperated. Some members of the team practiced throughout the winter at the Greensburg Racquet Club to improve their skills before the season. The team worked hard at practice and played well in their matches with hopes of going to playoffs. Coach Mains set a goal for the boys' season when he said, "We want to build strength and unity amongst the players as a team and strive to make team playoffs." With the boys' cooperation and hard work during the season it rewarded them with wins on and off the court for the team. During the season, the boys' tennis team held their sport, teammates, and coach in high esteem. This led the team through being successful and having fun during their season. Junior Blaise Moffa said, "I like tennis because you can challenge someone for a starting position." Junior Trevor Octavio added his thoughts toward the sport also quoting "I like the friends that I made from the sport and that I just had to rely on myself when playing." Coach Mains complimented this years' tennis team by stating, "They are hardworking, dedicated, united, and a great group of guys to coach."

Left: Junior Rachel Komisak prepares to land her long jump. The athletes always worked their hardest at practice to perform well in meets.

Girls' Track and Field

"You're Not Making Any Sense"

Preparing for the upcoming season, the girls' track and field team began practicing early in March to achieve their goals. Many of the athletes practiced before the season to improve for the year. Some individuals prepared for the spring season by participating in the indoor or winter track team. The girls competed in many meets and had a lot of success. At the Pennsylvania Indoor Track and Field Championships held at Penn State University, senior Danielle Scalise finished sixth in the triple jump and senior Kim McDonagh finished fifth in the long jump and thirteenth in the sixty-meter hurdles. Using all of their strength, endurance, and talent, the girls pushed each other to the end. The team always welcomed new athletes, like sophomore Ashley Thiel, who enjoyed her first year on the team. "It was discouraging at first, but with the help of Coach Turnbull and my teammates, I improved a lot in my throwing." Excited for the upcoming season, girls' sprinting coach Michele Butler said goals for the season included "being competitive in the section meets and to get back to the playoffs," and, "For the athletes to have individual success at the invitationals and to, hopefully, get some people to the state track meet."

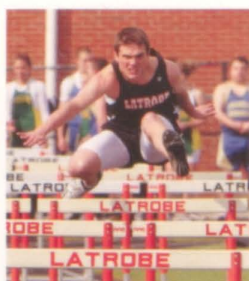

-Annie Jakubek

Boys' Track and Field

"Speed Kills"

Hoping for more success, the boys' track and field team and coaches thoroughly prepared themselves for their season. Dr. Wnek stated, "We go into every season with high expectations. The goal every season is to qualify for the team championship playoffs and advance individuals and relay teams to the state meet. Near the end of the 2010 season, these athletes showed a lot of improvement. Hopefully, they can pick up where they left off at the end of last year." Not only did the head coach have high expectations, but the other coaches did as well. "I feel that we have a chance to place in the top 3 at the GL Boys' Wildcat Invitational," quoted Mr. Cremonese. The boys had to commit themselves to attend all the practices on the schedule and work as hard as they could. The team had to maintain complete focus throughout the dual meets and invitational in order to keep their times up to par. For example, junior Dan Ferguson kept himself busy with the long jump, shot-put and various sprinting events. Even though track was challenging, there were still parts that some of the athletes found enjoyable. Sophomore Kevin Davoli quoted, "My favorite part about track is that we are really are one big family. No matter what event, everyone cheers everybody else on from the sidelines. It's pretty special." At the end of the day, the coaches were proud of their boys no matter the outcome of the meet.

-Allison Wisyanski

Right: Sophomore Joe Wojciechowski goes up for the kill. The boys had to be ready for spiked balls.

Above: Senior David Blawas is in position to bump the oncoming ball. Keeping your arms raised was a way to avoid a spike by the opposing team.

Boys' Volleyball

"Regan Smash"

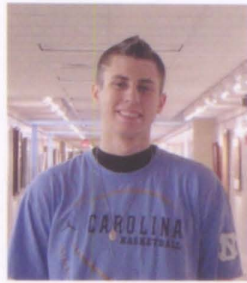

Returning from a remarkable season last year, the boys' volleyball team had very high expectations for the 2011 season. Last season ended with a 10-3 record and playoffs; therefore, standards were set high for this year's team. Starting with pre-season conditioning and open gym practices throughout the winter, the team prepared for a successful season. Once mandatory practices began, the boys focused on their goal of another successful season with hopes of making the playoffs again. To accomplish these goals, the volleyball team spent a lot of time together, whether it was conditioning, tournaments, or games in the regular season. "While at volleyball I enjoyed spending time with the team and being with my friends the most." said junior Ben Bigo. Due to the loss of key players from the previous year, there was pressure on the team to do well. This year's team showed true commitment, determination, and hard work. Teamwork was a key aspect to their success and their trust in each other led to their overall memorable season.

Trainers & Managers

"They're with the Team"

When it comes to sports, everyone always sees the stars of the show, the players and the coaches. But what people didn't see were those supporting the team behind the scenes - a good manager and trainer. Student athletic trainers and managers were taught everything they know from professional athletic trainer, Daveon Lee, from UPMC Sports Medicine. To be a trainer or manager, one learned the basics about the sport and a lot about first aid. They were taught the steps one needs to take from when an injury first occurs to rehabilitation, so the student athlete can be healthy enough to return to the sport. Sophomore football player Nick Taylor said, "The trainers make things easier for us, they're always there to fill up our water bottles in practice, they wash all our game stuff and have it all set out in our lockers so everyone doesn't have to wait to get them. They also help out with the injuries that aren't serious enough for us to go to the head athletic trainer." Being a student trainer wasn't always the easy or fun for the people who volunteer for the job, but it was always important. For example, junior athletic trainer Breanna Tyron said, "I don't really like coming home late from games or matches on school nights and then having to stay up late to finish my homework." Throughout the season come the bumps and bruises and the dirty jerseys and sports equipment that needs cleaned and washed for the next day for every sport. The glory of the team is supported by a student manager or an athletic trainer in the shadows doing the little extras like cleaning the equipment or taping a sprained ankle.

What does it take to be selected as a Senior Spotlight Athlete?

The honor of Senior Spotlight was bestowed upon seniors from each athletic team. These seniors were selected by their coaches because they exemplified the athletic skills that drove them to be successful in their sport and to be team leaders that inspired others. These are the student athletes who really excelled in their particular sport and demonstrated an extraordinary drive that motivated all that witnessed their admirable ability. These leaders will certainly be missed by their coaches and teammates; however, they will leave the desire for others to be triumphant in the years to come.

The Crucible

The 2010 Fall Play

In the fall, the cast of The Crucible worked hard for endless hours to produce a successful production. In 1953, Arthur Miller wrote The Crucible, a dramatization of the events that took place in Salem, Massachusetts, in the late 1600's. The play recounted the events that lead to the deaths of 20 people accused of witchcraft by a group of "afflicted" children who claimed to be tortured by the invisible spells of citizens in the community. Mr. Krack stated, "This production was extremely challenging for the students because it required them to delve deep into human psyche. The cast and crew exceeded my expectations with stellar performances and an amazing set that really captured the essence of the play." Along with an excellent stage crew, the cast of The Crucible truly impressed their audience.

-Allison Wisyanski

Above: Juniors Mickey Orange and Kayla Bleckley argue on stage. The audience could feel the tension between the cast during times of great controversy.

What was your favorite scene in "The Crucible"?

Kayla Bleckley
Mary Warren
Junior

"My favorite scene was in the courtroom towards the end, because it was really intense and fun, though very hard to do."

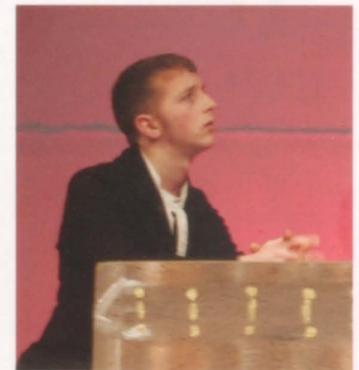

Tyler Hudock
Francis Nurse
Senior

"The scene when Elizabeth was taken away was my favorite. I got to act and react; that's what I find the most fun in plays and musicals."

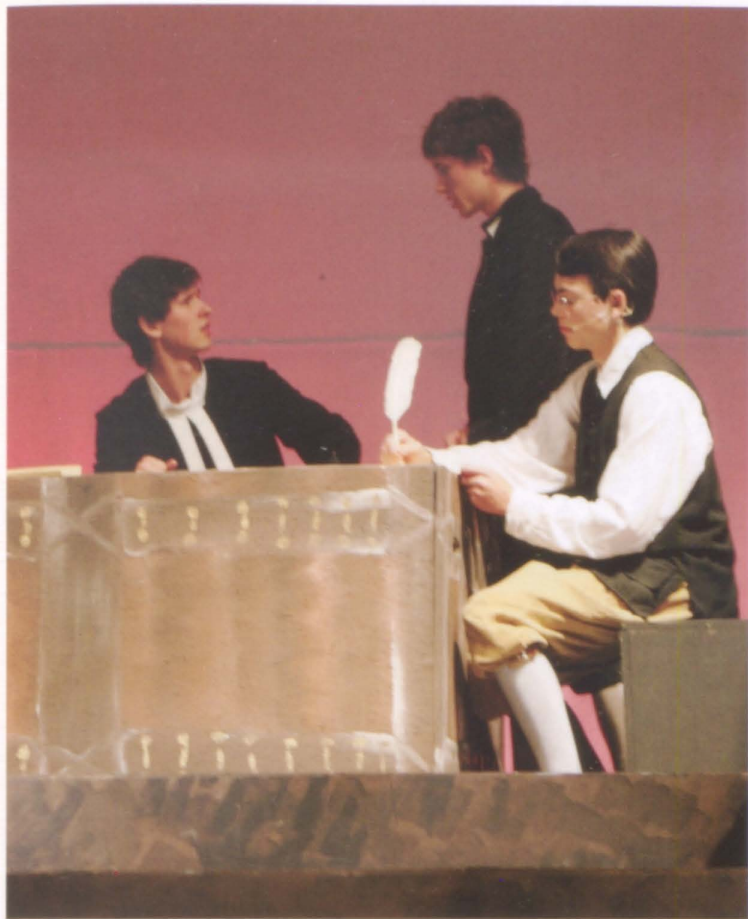

Brittany Basenback
Elizabeth Proctor
Senior

"I loved the scenes when Elizabeth fought with her husband John, because I liked portraying the anger within her."

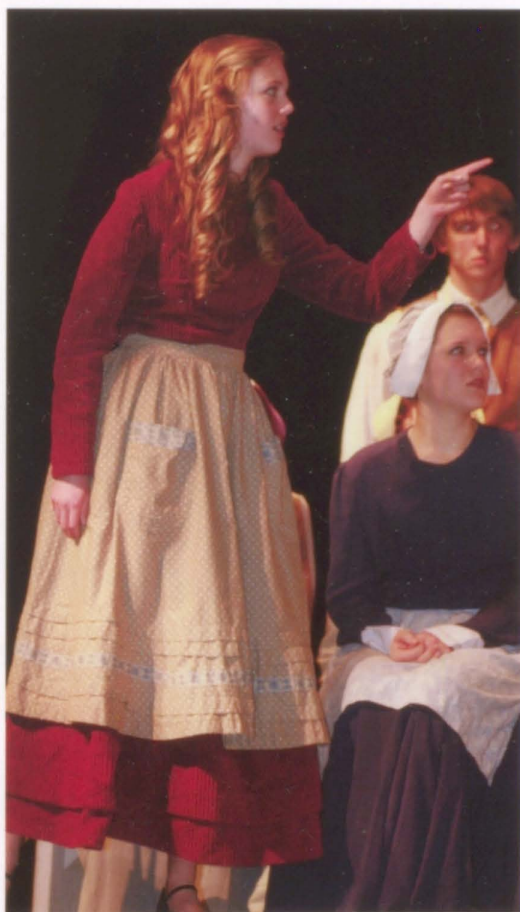

Adam Stynchula
Judge Hathorne
Junior

"I liked being in Scene 2 because I just sat and didn't have to do much."

Above: Senior Brian Gravelle keeps notes of the court meeting. This was Brian's fourth production with Greater Latrobe.

Right: Junior Courtney Joseph points the blame on Mary Warren, depicted by junior Kayla Bleckley. Courtney did a fantastic job playing her deceiving role as Abigail Williams.

Below: Senior Brittany Basenback and junior Mickey Orange say their goodbyes as "Elizabeth Proctor" is chained and taken to jail. These two experienced actors were exquisite in their roles.

Below: Junior "Shark" girls Mykeea Smith, Emily Puleo, and Rachel DuChateau dance their hearts out during America. The cast practiced many hours to perfect all of their dance numbers.

Above: Members of the "Jets" surround their leader, Riff, junior Mickey Orange. These boys learned that "When you're a Jet, you're a Jet all the way."

Right: Mr. LoCascio plays Gladhand alongside senior Adam Pernelli, as Officer Krupke. Our principal played a similar role in the musical by trying to calm tensions between the "Sharks" and the "Jets."

Above: Starring as Tony and Maria, Sam Prichard and Courtney Joseph perform the memorable balcony scene where they show their forbidden love. Throughout the show these two had to meet in secret due to their rival gang affiliations.

Left: In a dance off, Tyler Hudock and Brittany Basenback represent the "Sharks" as Bernardo and Anita. These seniors knew how to keep the crowd entertained.

West Side Story

The 2011 Spring Musical

A modern day twist on the classic play Romeo and Juliet, West Side Story was quite a difficult musical to perform. However, Mr. Krack prepared his young actors for the task. Starting January 3, the cast rehearsed six days a week, Monday through Saturday. The leading roles included Courtney Joseph, Sam Prichard, Brittany Basenback, Tyler Hudock, and Mickey Orange. Written by Arthur Laurents, the musical takes place on the streets of New York City with two rival gangs, the "Sharks" and the "Jets." The drama erupts when Tony, a member of the "Jets," falls in love with Maria, the sister of the leader of the "Sharks." The theme of the musical is to look past racism and focus on our equality. Mr. Krack stated, "The best part about directing this musical was being able to watch the entire cast grow and develop their roles." The cast came together like family to perform a spectacular show.

Above: Musical Director Dan Krack acts out a scene with junior Sam Shurie, as Anybodys. Mr. Krack had the opportunity to play Doc in this year's musical.

-Kaitlyn Gidick and Sammi Cook

What was your favorite song?

Kylie Tallarico
Francisca
Junior

"I liked The Dream Ballet because I love to dance and there was a lot of dancing."

Alex Kessler
Lieutenant Shrank
Senior

"My favorite song was Officer Krupke because it was just hilarious."

Alexis Nale
Shark Girl
Sophomore

"I liked Somewhere because it was the prettiest song and beautiful to dance to."

Graham Greene
Baby John
Junior

"Officer Krupke was my favorite because I got to dress like a woman."

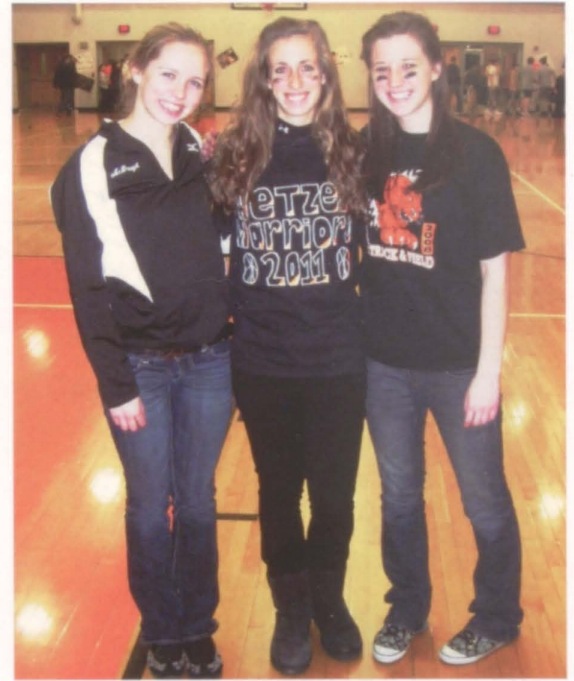

The Wildcat Den

Reitz's Raiders and Wetzel's Warriors

Latrobe has always been known to have the greatest student section around, and this year was no different. The Den was always ready to cheer. The Reitz's Raiders were extremely supportive of Coach Reitz and the football team. Home games usually started by tail gaiting at Legion Keener, followed by intense cheering during the game. "Singing Hey Baby was the best part of the game," expressed Brooke Leechalk. After an exciting home win over Canon McMillan, the Den stormed the field and ran a victory lap around the track. Football season was filled with school spirit. The Wetzel's Warriors cheered on the Wildcats during basketball season. Themes consisted of Christmas night, suits and shades, and superhero. They also traveled to away games. At Hempfield, the Den even got into a cheering war with the other students! The Wildcat Den was, without a doubt, louder, prouder, and more supportive than any other school's.

-Alex Beatty and Carly Meholic

Above: Seniors Kim McDonagh, Carly Meholic, and Caitlin Egan are dressed for "Black Out" as they pose for a picture during halftime. "My favorite memory from the Den was when we beat Connellsville and stormed the court," said Egan.

What was your favorite Den theme?

Jessie Miller
Camo
Junior

"My favorite theme is definitely camo night during football, because everyone actually participates."

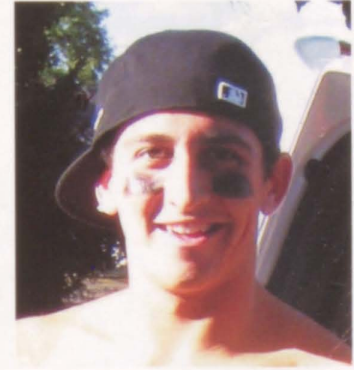

Jake Leyland
Anything Goes
Senior

"I didn't care what the theme was, as long as I had my vuvuzela."

Kasey Paul
Pink Out
Sophomore

"My favorite theme is the pink out because it is for a good cause and pink is one of my favorite colors."

CJ Shrum
Black Out
Senior

"I like black out for football because everyone participates with a huge loud crowd."

Above: Each time the Wildcats scored, senior Bobby Baker would do push-ups as the Den supported him. Bobby showed his enthusiasm and school spirit at every football game.

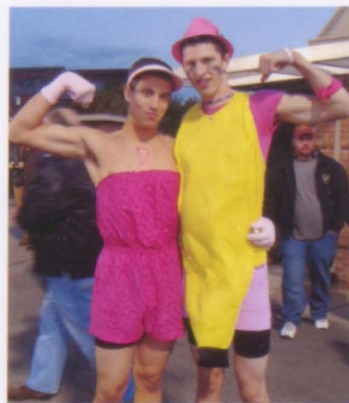

Right: Senior Alec Koluder cheers loud for the Wildcats. Alec was always dressed to impress at each game.

Below: Seniors Becky Onusko, Meredith Saunders, and Hilary Bacha represent the Den in their suits and shades. No matter what the theme, these girls were always found in the Den.

Above: Dressed in Christmas sweaters, this group of junior girls show their support for the Cats. Friday night basketball games were relaxing after a long school week.

Left: Jordan Giannini and Chris Dudzenski flex as they show off their pink outfits. No matter what the weather was, Jordan and Chris could always be found in crazy Den clothes.

Above: Seniors Gus Hough and Seth Stopa salute to the crowd. Playing in a rock band was much different than playing in the Wildcat Jazz Band.

Above: Junior Dan Kubus poses on the other side of the lens. Dan has not only had his pictures used in our Latrobean and High Post, but contributed his photos to the Tribune Review and Latrobe Bulletin.

Right: Senior forward Kim McDonagh shoots and scores a goal. Playing both indoor or outdoor and coed or girls' hockey was a part of Kim's life since age ten.

Left: Senior Anne Jupena races down the slope. Anne has been skiing since she was three, both for leisure and competition.

Outside Activities

Extracurriculars

Along with school sports, students at Latrobe also did outside activities. In the winter, snowboarding and skiing was a popular activity on the weekends or on snow days. During the spring, Junior Nathan Bryan played Legion baseball for Unity. He said, "I enjoy playing against guys in the school that I usually play with. The challenge is being younger than most of the players." As it came closer to summer, there were even more options. Sophomore Kaity Finley stated, "I play on a travel softball team called the Gems with my friends from other schools." Many students also enjoyed doing workouts at local gyms. Junior Lauren Morlacci said, "After school, I go to Zumba at the Aerobic Center in Greensburg." Another popular thing to do at Latrobe was dance classes. Junior Kelsey Korzak said, "It's a good way to relax and just have fun." It was evident that there were many sports and activities to keep students occupied outside of school.

IT'S HARD TO PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE USING TOOLS FROM THE PAST.

At Seton Hill University, we believe a 21st century education requires 21st century resources. That's why all first-year undergrad students receive an iPad and 13" MacBook Pro laptop as part of our Griffin Technology Advantage. The initiative gives students high-speed Internet access, blanket Wi-Fi coverage, on-campus Apple support and faculty trained in the use of advanced technologies. It's just one of the ways we're using real world technology to prepare our students for, well, the real world. To learn more, visit setonhill.edu.

JULIE HARVEY

Julie,

What a special young lady! You have survived more trials, losses and tests in your sweet short life than most people twice your age. And rather than let them destroy you or weaken you, you tucked them behind a smile and used them as learning blocks and each became a stepping stone to allow you to reach today. So proud of all your efforts to be a survivor. Now as you face the real world, it's no stranger to you. And you have some strengths to draw from: perseverance, loyalty, humor and independence. Whether you become a math teacher, a massage therapist or choose a different future, I have no doubt you will do well. Thanks Julie for choosing to let me travel with you on your journey. Congratulations.

Love, Mom

Juj,
In what seems like the blink of an eye, you've gone from being the cutest little baby to what you are now--a funny, beautiful, and intelligent young woman with unlimited potential who I happen to be very proud of. I can't wait to see what you do with your future.

I love you very much!
Dave

Julie,

*Good Luck and Best Wishes-
Live-Love and BE HAPPY.*

We are very proud of you!

Love,

Gramma and Grampa Lindinuth

Be strong, Be firm,

Be a rock and "go kick some butt!"

Julie,

It seems like just yesterday you were into Barney, Lamb Chop, and The Lion King. I can't believe you're about to enter the real world! You've come a long way kid, and I'm very proud of you for getting through it all. Congratulations on finishing this stage of your life and best wishes as you begin the next part. I know you'll do great things.

Love always,
Steve

Julie,

Since the day that you were born and I held you in my arms, you have been beautiful. You were my pride and joy then, and I knew you would make great strides and you have. I am so proud of you. You are a beautiful, intelligent young lady. You have the brains and perseverance to succeed in whatever you decide to do after graduation. Just remember I am very proud of you and I love you.

Love, Mom

Cassie Gray

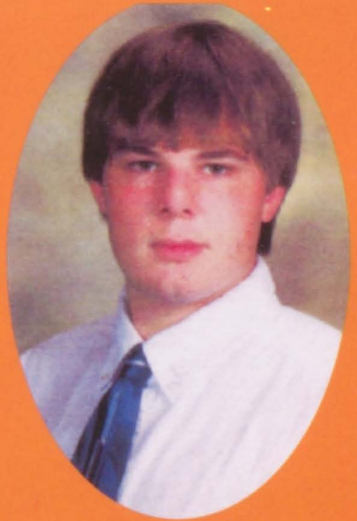

My Dearest Daughter,

One chapter in your life has closed and another is about to begin. The future stands bright before you, so take hold of your dreams, and no matter what, don't let go. There will be times ahead when you will feel overwhelmed but try to not give up. Nothing which is worth anything comes without hard work and sacrifice. When you were a little girl, I held your hand, and guided and protected you as best I could. It's time for me to let go now. There is some pain in that, still there is a wonderful sense of pride and accomplishment as I look at the beautiful young woman that you have become. I love you sweetheart, and I pray that my love will sustain you. It's time now to spread your wings and fly.

Love, Mom

Wow! What an amazing journey ~ from your birth in Tokyo to your high school days in Latrobe ~ you have grown into a beautiful, intelligent and responsible young woman.

Congratulations on a remarkable 17 years ~ highlighted by distinguished academics, athletics and theater. We are so proud of you!

Through your hard work and determination ~ you can accomplish anything. You have a very bright future and may God bless you and bring you much happiness as you follow your dreams.

Jimmy, As we approach this crossroad I am both afraid and excited. You have given me the most amazing perspective and new view of the world. Although sometimes my view is a view of you flying through the air, on a quad, over muddy things. I've loved watching you grow and marveled at the things that you have mastered. It was hard to watch you endure the hard times. Your quiet, kind heart fills me with confidence that there is little the world can put in front of you that you can't get over. You've done so much and yet you are just getting started. It seems like yesterday when you were in kindergarten and got your first quad. You would smile and ride it until your hands and legs hurt. It's like you jumped over your school years. Whoosh! I hope that the days come easy and the moments pass slow, and each road leads you where you want to go, and if you're faced with a choice, and you have to choose, I hope you choose the one that means the most to you.

And if one door opens to another door closed, I hope you keep on walkin' till you find the window. If it's cold outside, show the world the warmth of your smile, but more than anything, more than anything, my wish for you is that this life becomes all that you want it to.

Your dreams stay big, and your worries stay small, you never need to carry more than you can hold, and while you're out there getting where you're getting to, I hope you know somebody loves you, and wants the same things too, yeah, this, is my wish.

I hope you never look back, but ya never forget, all the ones who love you, in the place you left. I hope you always forgive, and you never regret, and you help somebody every chance you get. Oh, you find God's grace, in every mistake, and you always give more than you take.

Be safe! May God follow you through your journey in life and keep you from harm's way. Remember where you came from...your values, your friends, and your family. That is what will get you through the difficult times. Always be true to yourself. You have grown into a wonderful, strong, kind, gentle man. Don't let the world change that. Nothing is worth more than love. Don't be afraid to love with all your heart and soul. Don't ever stop growing and learning. You heard us say time and again, "Education is never wasted." Only you can determine your future. Make intelligent, well-informed choices, work hard, and follow your dreams. And most important... Never forget how much we love you and how proud we are of you every single day of your life!

Love you!

Thank you for blessing my life with your love, laughter, and awesome smile. You have brought so much happiness to our family. Remembering the days of dalmation dogs, midget football, dirtbikes and hunting...you have grown into a fine young man that I am honored to say is my son. Be proud of all that you have accomplished; always believe in yourself.

Love you always,

AMAZING- that is the word that fills our hearts and minds when we think of you, Danielle. What a wonderful young lady you have become. From that curious and precocious little girl you were, so full of compassion, an eagerness to learn everything, kind, and fun-spirited and, oh yes... a little stubborn, too, to the beautiful young woman who still has all of those qualities.

You have made us so proud with all of your accomplishments, both big and small. You have a way with others by making them smile and feel valued. You are truly a great friend with many, a loving sister, cousin, niece, granddaughter, but most importantly, you are the best daughter we could have ever dreamed of having. Follow your passion, Dani Zhila, and make the difference in the world we know you can!

You are a wonderful and beautiful daughter as well as a fantastic sister! Your ability to be caring, giving and honest are attributes that have served you well in the past and will be what makes others believe in you the same way your family believes in you. More than anything, continue to rely on and to be passionate about the faith that has seen you through to this point in your life--this same faith will be responsible for all of the happiness that will continue to come your way.

You were a darling little girl and we could not be more proud of the young lady you have become. Dream big, work hard, and always be true to your beliefs.

Dustin,
You are no longer a little boy but a grown young man. You've grown too fast for your mom & dad. You've grown mature and learned to share; you've grown to find out life's not always fair. When you find in life that troubles have grown, remember son, lean not on your own. Give the hardships in life to your Heavenly Host; you'll find those are the times you've grown the most. Always remember what we have taught you, and let the Good Lord be your tour guide. We love you son!

May He grant you many wonderful years.

Katelyn,

If we had to describe to God what we wanted in a daughter, we would not change a thing. He knew how perfect you would be for us. Just remember where you came from and, above all else, the most important thing is to continue to let "integrity" guide you. Wherever you are, whatever you do, remember that God loves you and so do we.

Dad, Mom and Michael

Jacob,

You've grown into a wonderful, intelligent, respectful, fun-loving, fine young man. We have the utmost confidence, belief and hope in you as you step out into the world. You have what it takes to be happy and successful in whatever you do.

Remember this: always put your faith, family and country first--in that order. Never take anything for granted. Don't be afraid to admit you don't know or don't understand something, and don't pretend you know when you don't. Question everything--there's no such thing as a dumb question.

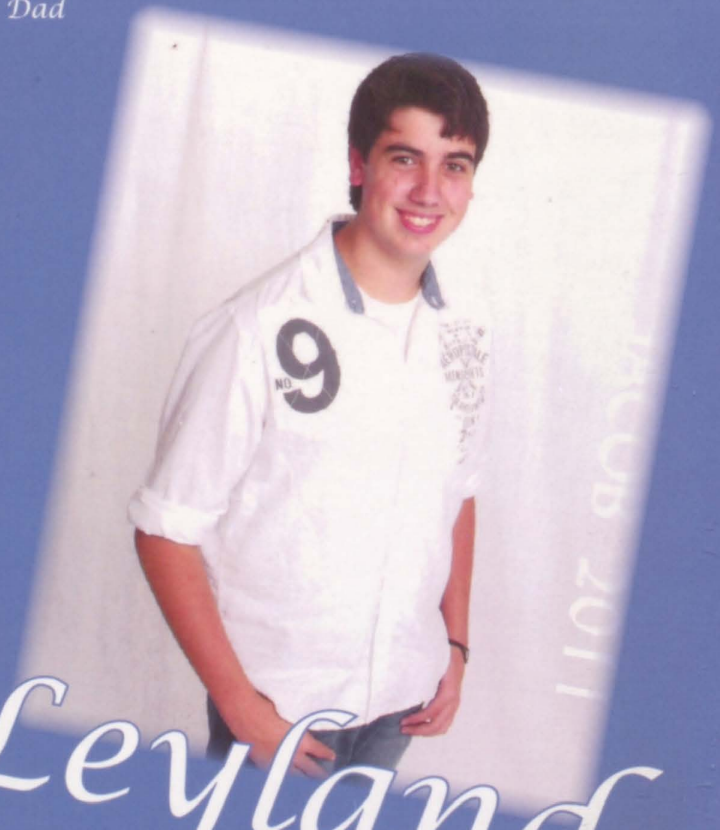

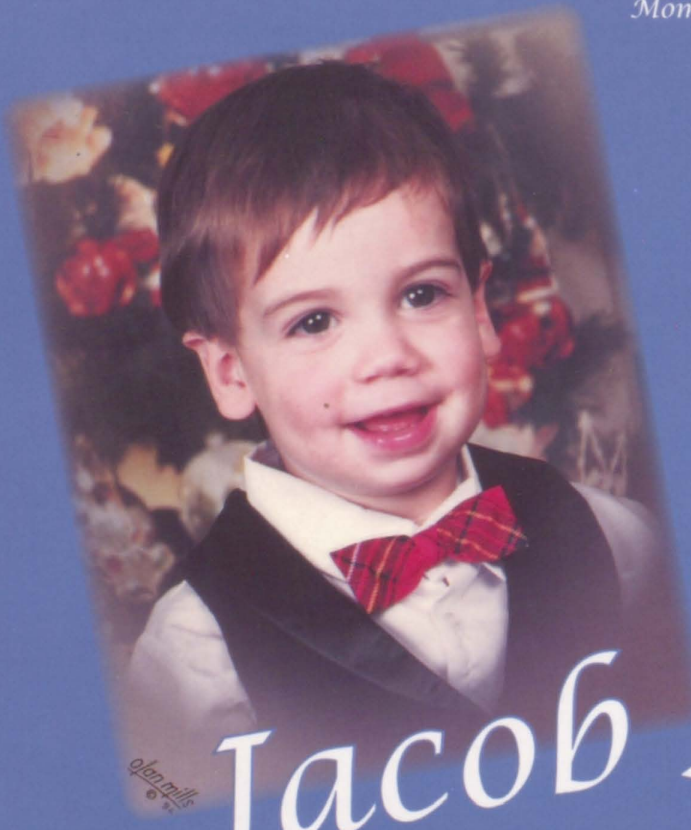

Life is tough and you're headed for a lot of hard knocks. Life's not fair. Sometimes, even when you do everything right, things go wrong.

Keep God in the front of your mind; talk to Him always, about everything. Place your hope in Him, not wealth. Pray for wisdom, guidance, and steadfast faith. Work without partiality and do nothing out of favoritism. Do everything out of kindness. Work hard to earn your pay. Serve those around you.

When you need rest and shelter, you'll always have a place to go to--home. You're surrounded by a family who will always love and support you. You can always find rest here, at home, except when your father has a list of chores for you to do.

We wish you the best as you begin life's journey. We couldn't be more proud of you, and we couldn't love you more than we do. You've been such a blessing to us from the day you were born. We're privileged to have you for a son. Good luck, God bless, and congratulations on your high school graduation.

*We love you, Jake.

Dear Michelle,

Where do I begin! This year, in and out of yearbook, has been the best with you. Your dedication, drive, care for others, and humor pulled us all through the good and bad. I will never forget all of the memories we made, and I can't wait to make more. While you're studying at Virginia Tech, I wish you only the best. We may be far in distance, but we'll always be close at heart.

Emily

Friedline

Dear Emily,

Over the past two years, I have really got to know you better. Your sense of humor, kindness and intelligence was essential to creating our book. When we were searching for ideas and stressed out, you knew how to calm us down and bring laughter with jokes. Your dedication and commitment to the book was one of a kind. I know you will have great success in your future, and I wish you the best of luck in all you do.

Love, Meredith

❖ Dear Rachel,

It has been a lot of fun being on the yearbook staff together this year. Your opinions were always very helpful when thinking of different ideas and looks for our book. There was never a moment when you didn't voice your opinion. Your devotion and hard work was shown throughout your individual work. We are glad you joined our staff this year. I wish you the best of luck at college and wherever else your future leads you.

Love, Kim

Rachel Gribbin ❖

Kim,
There were some tough times in yearbook, we both know, but there were just as many good, and we made it through together. This book wouldn't have been possible without your hard work. Thanks for the memories. Good luck at school.

Keep in touch, Sis.

Brookey,
You are such a hard worker when it comes to yearbook and a great asset to our group. You always volunteer to take on more spreads and to help others out. When it comes to making spreads or sharing your ideas you are very creative. In the process of putting the yearbook together we all have made lasting memories, even through all the struggles. You complete our YBG staff and this year has been a lot of fun together!

Love, Lar

Carly, Your dedication and enthusiasm in making this book has shown greatly throughout the school year. You were always willing to go above and beyond than what you were asked of, and it was very much appreciated. Everyone could always count on you if they needed help with anything and you were always there to lend a hand. I wish you the best with college and whatever else your future leads you to, I know you will succeed. Love, Kelsey D

Crossroads

colophon

Volume 88 of the Latrobean, "Crossroads," was published by the Yearbook Staff of Greater Latrobe Senior High School in Latrobe, Pennsylvania, and was printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The account was serviced by representative Carol Barber, customer service advisor Bryan Harber, and technical support advisor Jerry Wagner. The yearbook staff advisors, Michele Butler and Jayne Kalp, along with the editors created the theme "Crossroads" at the Somerset Design Clinic in May 2010. The book cover was created by graphic designer Rob Schab from Gettysburg. It incorporated a custom-designed, four-color lithograph cover with matte lamination. It also included custom embossing and ultra varnish coating was applied to specific design areas. The endsheets were custom designed on Classic paper with a four-color application, different front and back. The fonts used in this book were from the AHJ Baskerville family. The Latrobean pages were submitted to the plant electronically via the Herff Jones ePage feature. The Latrobean was produced using Adobe InDesign CS4 on HP Probook laptops. Senior portraits, candid services and underclass portraits were provided by Timeless Expressions Studio of Greensburg, Pennsylvania. Additional photographs were submitted by the students or taken by the Latrobean staff members on a Canon Rebel XRti digital camera.
